"A host of other things I know that happen every day,
Which don't agree at all with what some paragraphers say."

* * * *

A bunch of words are suddenly spilled on the Senate floor calculated to befog the combined Parliaments of the world for the next six years.

* * * *

The Kellogg treaty to end all wars until the next one is formally ratified with a patch over one eye.

* * * *

After adopting in effect its reservations to the treaty in a report that goes off like a cannon the Senate should lose no time in passing the cruiser bill and increasing the number from 15 to 30.

* * * *

It is to be doubted whether such groans as have issued from the Senate during the past few weeks have cracked the eardrums of the general public since the mountain was in labor and out crept a mouse.

* * * *

Altruistic shingle manufacturers of the country present to Congress a charitable plan for helping the downtrodden farmer by putting a tax of 25 per cent on his roof.

* * * *

The round robin turns out to be the cock of the walk.

* * * *

Marshal Foch brings up his reserves and gives battle to his grimmest enemy on the Eternity front.

* * * *

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt discovers that what the world needs now is one more treaty under the provisions of which every war would be a World War.

* * * *

Republican leaders at the House are already split over Speaker Longworth's extra-session plan for boring only two small holes in the lid of Pandora's box, and it looks as though a good many pesky imps would be clamoring to get out.

* * * *

Chairman Porter, of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, isn't the first person to discover that Christmas cards are full of dope.

* * * *

Soviet Russia also has signed the Kellogg treaty, and as we sign it the Russian Royalists at a secret meeting in Paris elect Prince Nikita as pretender to the throne of the Czars and leader of the "White Army" which plans the restoration of the Romanoffs and a counter-revolution. No wonder the bewhiskered radicals of Moscow, whom we thus formally recognize with a "friendly gesture," would like everybody to renounce war.

* * * *

The abdication of the pro-Russian King Amanullah is hailed as a British victory. Two in the same day!

* * * *

Gen. Sandino appears to have learned the news about the Marines coming back from Nicaragua.

* * * *

Do we understand that if President Coolidge should veto a pay-raise bill Poo-Bah McCarl would disallow it?

* * * *

The tragedy and romance in the life of Babe Ruth paradoxically reveal that the Home-run King had no home.

* * * *

Prohibition agent shoots and kills a Virginia boy of 17 with three gallons of moonshine in his car. By one of the little ironies of life this deplorable incident occurred on the Thomas Jefferson highway, dedicated to the author of the Declaration of Independence.

* * * *

Arizona carries Boulder Dam to the Supreme Court. What a flood of litigation for the lawyers will be impounded before we get through.

* * * *

Mr. F. Scott McBride apparently doesn't want to have the disclosure made at this time that spending $25,000,000 more for enforcing prohibition couldn't do it either.

* * * *

Gen. Booth couldn't be clinging to his job any harder if he was a member of the Coolidge Cabinet.

* * * *

When the Rockefellers and the Stewarts fall out the Wall Street speculators get their daws.

* * * *

Author of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" renounces writing. Too late!

How pleasant to have the treaty all clarified and out of the way; never put off for somebody else to do tomorrow what you can do yourself today.

Talk about ending wars, Mrs. Hart follows the example of the Senate and renounces office-holding as a feminine policy.

The principal British victory in Afghanistan seems to be that the new Queen insists upon wearing hats of the vintage of 1887.

Suppose we went around enforcing the Interstate Commerce Act by shooting 17-year-old boys?

WOMAN MAKING GRAFT CHARGES AGAIN LOCATED

WITNESSES' ABSENCE DELAYS INVESTIGATION

Blanton, Expected Back in City Soon, May Demand Public Hearings.

The whereabouts of Msr. Helen Blaylock, who has accused a local police captain of piling up $14,000 in graft, is known to the authorities, it was announced yesterday by Assistant United States Attorney William H. Collins.

Collins, who has been assigned to investigate the case by United States Attorney Leo A. Rover, made the announcement after he had conferred with Representative Ernest W. Gibson, of Vermont, chairman of the House District subcommittee, which has been investigating the Police Department.

Collins would not say whether he would subpena Mrs. Blaylock, nor would he make known any of his plans for the investigation. However, he did say the absence of several potential witnesses from the city might retard his investigation.

Charges Made to Gibson.

Mrs. Blaylock, an attractive Seventh street palmist, first made her charges against the police captain at a secret interview with Representative Gibson, at Bethesda, Md., on the night of December 15.

She told Gibson the captain, who once was her friend, had $14,000 in "graft money" hidden away in a safety-deposit box; that he had given her a ring which he said had been seized in a raid, and that he had defraudec her in a real estate transaction.

Yesterday Gibson told Collins all that the woman had told him and at the same time offered to cooperate with him in bringing the case to a conclusion.

The return here of Representative Blanton (Democrat), of Texas, may result in a new turn of events in the present case. If Blanton attaches importance to Mrs. Blaylock's charges, he may demand that Gibson hold open hearings on the case at the Capitol.

Blanton Opposed to Captain.

It is well known that Blanton has no affection for the captain who, according to the latter's own admission, has been mentioned in connection with the charges.

Although he still is in Texas, Blanton is just as familiar with the case as is Gibson or any other of the members of the House subcommittee, because Mrs. Blaylock took the trouble to journey to his home town to tell him about it.

In a telegram to The Post, Blanton said he would be back "very soon."

Assistant United States Attorney Collins expects to go to the bottom of the case and sift every bit of evidence in his possession. If this evidence impresses him, he will lay it before the grand jury; if it doesn't, he will recommend the case be thrown out and forgotten.

Mrs. Goodhue Worse; White House in Touch

Northampton, Mass., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Mrs. Lemira B. Goodhue, mother of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, wife of the President, tonight was reported as being "not quite so well" at the Dickinson Hospital, where she has been seriously ill since December 11, 1927.

Miss Miriam Curtis, superintendent of the hospital, said Mrs. Goodhue suffered an apparently unfavorable change yesterday. She said that Mrs. Coolidge had not yet been summoned to her mother's bedside but intimated that the White House would be informed frequently of the developments in Mrs. Goodhue's condition.

Mrs. Hert Renounces Cabinet Aspirations

Republican Woman Leader Denies Desire For Federal Office.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, yesterday formally renounced the cabinet ambitions that have been attributed to her for several weeks. There has been a steady hammering away at President-elect Hoover in her behalf ever since he returned.

As her statement was being made available, National Committeeman Chilton, of Kentucky, was recommending her to the President-elect.

"There has been so much unfounded comment on my supposed candidacy for a place in the Cabinet that I believe it is only just to myself and others to say that I do not wish or expect any Government post whatever," Mrs. Hert's statement said.

"The discussion of my name in connection with a Cabinet post originated with the Republican leaders of my home State, Kentucky, without suggestion or stimulation by me, and I appreciate the compliment they have paid me by this unanimous suggestion.

"My interest is in the work in which I have been engaged for four and a half years as head of the women's work of the Republican national committee.

"It is often assumed that party service is given always with a view to some reward, but I am glad to say that there are many thousands of Republican women workers who find a full reward for their efforts in the thought that they are accomplishing something

Hoover Defers Plans For West Indies Tour

(Associated Press.)

President-elect Hoover yesterday informed callers he would be unable to make his contemplated good will tour of Cuba and the West Indies before March 4.

Hugo Hartenstein and Luis Machado, of the American Chamber of Commerce in Cuba, said that when they urged the President-elect to visit Havana at an early date he replied that he would be unable to find the time for such a journey before his inauguration. They said he indicated that after his inauguration he probably would tour the West Indies in the course of a vacation.

CONDITION OF FOCH IS MORE IMPROVED

Marshal's Physician Stays at Bedside for First Time Since Attack.

CLEMENCEAU IS BETTER

Paris, Wednesday, Jan. 16 (A.P.).—The Petit Parisien today says that the slight improvement in the condition of Marshal Ferdinand Foch noticed yesterday had increased early this morning.

Paris, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—A crisis in the illness of Marshal Ferdinand Foch is fearfully expected early tomorrow morning upon his awakening from the sleep into which he fell late tonight. His physicians remained absolutely silent on the case, but this was learned from persons close to them.

Dr. Davenieres, physician to the former commander in chief of the allies armies, was passing the night with his patient. It was the first time that he had done so since the marshal took to his sick bed, and it was interpreted as a disquieting sign.

It was understood that caffeine had been administered as a stimulant in the early evening for the second time today. The marshal was understood to have gone to sleep at 11 p. m., which was several hours earlier than last night.

Foch and Georges Clemenceau, both of whom played so large a part during the World War, the one as generalissimo of the Allied Armies and the other as French premier, tonight were laid low by illness in their respective homes in Paris barely a mile apart.

The marshal, after lying at death's door for 48 hours, was reported putting up a gallant battle against heart disease complicated by kidney trouble.

The "Tiger," 10 years the marshal's senior, was suffering from grippe, but was expected to resume his work before the end of the week unless his 87 years should tell too heavily upon him.

Uremia, developing from a kidney infection after the marshal's original heart attack, is what the doctors attending him now fear most. In order to watch the kidney complication more closely, Prof. Andre, Nancy University specialist in kidney diseases who attended Foch throughout the war and accompanied him on his visit to the

MELLON'S DRY STAND IS LAUDED BY M'BRIDE

Antisaloon Leader Upholds Delay in Appropriating $25,000,000 More.

FAVORS SURVEY FIRST

Action of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in disapproving an additional appropriation of $25,000,000 for prohibition enforcement, now pending in the Senate, was indorsed last night by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America.

Declaring that Mellon's action does not "refuse" the larger appropriation, McBride said he considered as "proper" the stand that appropriation of funds should not be made until they can be definitely allocated to certain specific purposes. The dry leader advocated a survey of enforcement needs before any additional appropriation is made.

"The letter from Secretary Mellon to Senator Warren, chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, does not refuse the larger appropriation," said McBride. "It does, however, properly state that appropriation of funds should not be made until they can be definitely allocated to certain specific purposes.

"In a release of extracts of my Sunday address given in the Foundry Methodist Church I stated that the larger appropriation can be wisely made under a well prepared budget by the enforcement department. The Secretary of the Treasury has well said that a survey should be made to see whether larger funds could be used toward more successful enforcement. Part of the fund, of course, should be allocated to the Department of Justice so the work might be speeded up all along the line.

"He touches a real need in my opinion in so far as the Bureau of Prohibition itself is concerned when he says in looking toward the future it will no doubt be advantageous to provide additional funds for increased border patrol of the Customs Service, and increased customs force at some of the principal ports of entry and increased equipment for the Coast Guard.

"He cites the proper procedure when he indicates that the whole proposition should be gone over and additional funds used wherever it can be done to the best advantage looking toward better enforcement.

"The attitude of the Antisaloon League is that we should back up the Federal Government in the enforcement of prohibition, that the drys should help secure whatever appropriations are necessary and that will contribute toward better enforcement, and that whatever legislation is needed to

STEWART BUYS STOCK FOR WAR ON JOHN D., JR.

Colonel Takes Aggressive in Open Contest for Oil Proxies.

STANDARD OF INDIANA CLOSES 5⅞ POINTS UP

Rockefeller Offices Give Out Statement Reiterating the Need of Confidence.

New York, Jan. 15 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Holders of stock in the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana reaped potential millions in paper profits today when the shares shot up 8 points to a new high of 99⅞, as further bitterness developed in the battle of John D. Rockefeller, jr., to oust Col. Robert W. Stewart from chairmanship of the corporation.

The floor of the Curb Exchange was in pandemonium for a time while brokers struggled to buy stock at any price. When it became apparent that most of the buying was coming from Chicago sources, supposedly representing Col. Stewart, some of the enthusiasm evaporated and the stock declined to a closing of 97, a net gain of 5⅞ points.

Houses said to represent the Rockefeller interests were quiet and it was reported they had temporarily halted action. In the Rockefeller camp it was said buying or selling under present conditions was out of the question.

Rockefeller Pushes Campaign.

At the same time a spokesman for Mr. Rockefeller made it plain that he was in the fight to the finish and that an organized campaign is being carried on from the Rockefeller offices at No. 26 Broadway by Thomas Debevoise, an associate of John D. Rockefeller, jr. Thousands of letters from stockholders pledging support have been received, it was stated.

It was learned tonight that officials of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana have drawn the deadline on the battle for proxies at February 5. On that date the books will be closed for the annual meeting March 7, and all the campaigning for support must be done before February 5. Because of the heavy demand for proxies, a special notice was sent out by the New York Stock Exchange to all members reminding of the ruling whereby a holder of shares on margin is entitled to his proxies if he asks for them.

Rockefeller View Given.

In the Rockefeller camp it was stated that although the fight would be carried on with utmost vigor, there would be no coercion of brokerage houses or unethical practices, and no mudslinging would be used in the campaign. The official statement issued by Mr. Debevoise declared that John D. Rockefeller, jr., was only giving stockholders who feel as he does, an opportunity to express their disapproval of Col Stewart by mailing proxies to the Rockefeller committee.

Mr. Debevoise said Col. Stewart promised to resign on Mr. Rockefeller's personal request because he felt indebted to Mr. Rockefeller for kindness shown him in the past. He continued:

"Mr. Rockefeller feels that the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana must have the absolute confidence of the public, and that on any other basis it can not continue in its position as one of the great commercial organizations of the United States. That confidence has been impaired and it is to restore that confidence that Mr. Rockefeller regards a change in leadership as indispensable."

Charge of Intimidation.

A charge that Col. Stewart has caused employes of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana to canvass stockholders for their proxies was made today by a Rockefeller partisan. It was also declared in the same source that employes have been intimidated for the proxies on their personal stock.

Because of the high financial standing of both opponents, many leading Wall street stockholders have been em-woman's tennis champion, whose engagement to Fred S. Moody, jr., broker, was announced yesterday by her parents.

Helen Wills Is Engaged To F. S. Moody, Broker

HELEN WILLS,

Tennis Star's Romance Began on Riviera Is Report.

Berkeley, Calif., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The engagement of Miss Helen Wills, star of women tennis players, to Fred S. Moody, jr., young San Francisco broker, was announced here today by Dr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Wills, her parents.

The announcement confirmed rumors that have circulated for some days despite denials by both Miss Wills and Mr. Moody. The date of the wedding has not been fixed, Mrs. Wills said.

The romance is believed to have had its inception on the Riviera in the spring of 1926, when young Moody and his father and mother were touring Europe and Miss Wills was playing tennis. When she was not playing tennis she was often seen in the company of the San Francisco youth.

Moody is 24. Although too young to go as a soldier in the war he got a job on a Shipping Board vessel and worked his way up, qualifying as a mate when he was 21. He is now employed at a brokerage office.

Miss Wills, in addition to adding tennis championships, has won recognition as an artist and writer. She has studied at the University of California and in Switzerland. She is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority and of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society.

Bullets Intended for Tires Virginia Officer Says; Auto Yields 3 Gallons.

SHOT ENDS 4-MILE CHASE

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., Jan. 15.—A bullet from the revolver of A. Robert Dickson, State prohibition agent, late this afternoon killed Willard Monroe, 17, driving an automobile in which 3 gallons of moonshine liquor was found.

Dickson was released tonight under bond, pending an investigation of the shooting, which occurred about 8 miles from Staunton on the Jefferson Highway, and terminated a 4-mile chase.

"I was shooting at the tires and did not know I had hit him until I caught up with the car," Dickson told Coroner J. B. Catlett, who conducted the inquest.

Following the shooting the State agent called Sheriff Walter B. Wilson and Commonwealth's Attorney H. H. Kerr to the scene and surrendered. According to Dickson he received information that an attempt would be

COOLIDGE OPPOSES M'CARL ON PAY BILL

President Against Brookhart Measure Which Has Backing of Comptroller.

HOUSE HEARINGS TODAY

The paradox of President Coolidge opposing a Federal pay-increase bill, and his chief Treasury "watchdog," Comptroller General McCarl, indorsing it, was presented yesterday.

It came as a prelude to the hearings which are to be opened this morning by the House civil service committee on four bills designed to make up for the shortcomings of the Welch pay-raise act of the last session.

The President was represented at the White House yesterday as being opposed to any bill that would provide sweeping salary increases for the Government workers. While no specific bill was mentioned, it was assumed that the President had in mind the Brookhart bill.

As a matter of fact, the Brookhart bill would simply give full raises to those who got only half of the raises they were supposed to get under the

ANTIWAR PACT RATIFIED AFTER CLARIFICATION

Senate Votes, 85 to 1, as Borah Reports American Rights Safeguarded.

REAFFIRMATION GIVEN TO MONROE DOCTRINE

Committee Action Blocks Moves Contemplated for Reservations.

BRITISH ENVOY HEARS HIS NATION CRITICIZED

Enters Gallery as Blaine Dwells on Great Britain's Territorial Holdings.

By ALBERT W. FOX.

The Senate ratified the Kellogg anti-war treaty yesterday afternoon by a vote of 85 to 1. The action came before packed galleries and brought a sudden and unexpected termination to the prolonged battle over ratification.

But the vote was made possible by the yielding of the administration forces, headed by Senator Borah, to the demands of the clarificationists that the foreign relations committee make a report, reserving American rights and stating what the treaty means. Such a report was voted unanimously by the committee and introduced to pave the way for final action.

Whatever disappointment the administration forces feel at being compelled to accept an interpretative report, the successful end of the fight for ratification has served as a compensation.

Kellogg Much Pleased.

"I am very much pleased that the Senate has given its advice and consent to the ratification of the Kellogg pact for the renunciation of war without any reservations, amendments or conditions," Secretary of State Kellogg said in a formal statement last evening.

The interpretative report satisfied those senators, including Senators Reed, of Missouri, Bingham and Moses, who have insisted on an authoritative expression of what the pact means. On the vote for ratification Senator Blaine, of Wisconsin, was the only one to vote against it.

America's right to wage war in defense, her right to maintain the Monroe Doctrine as part of her national defense, her right to protect America against the extension of foreign political systems on the American continent, her expressed disassociation from any sanctions or any obligation to engage in punitive measures against any nation violating the pact were all clearly set forth in the clarifying report of the foreign relations committee.

Agreement Made in Advance.

But the committee report states it is not made for the purpose of effectuating a reservation to the treaty. Furthermore, the committee report was not put to a vote in the Senate although it was obviously adopted without opposition as agreement to bring it in had been effected in advance.

Whether it will have an unfortunate effect in Argentina, Brazil and other Latin American countries because of its signaling out the Monroe Doctrine and asserting America's right to maintain it by force, remains to be seen. Senator Borah on Monday said the administration feared a committee report would be subject to misinterpretation in foreign countries because of the widespread discussion of the last week. Both President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg had hoped for ratification without clarifying report on the ground that no such clarification was necessary. It was said at the White House at noon yesterday that the Presidents hoped there would be no interpretative action which might be misconstrued abroad.

Reed Supporters Gain.

But Senator Borah, in charge of the treaty forces, discovered early yester-

Gen. Booth Flatly Refuses To Quit as Salvation Head

Commander in Chief Issues From Sick Bed Statement Reviewing His Position; High Council Deputies Report General Too Weak to Fill Post.

London, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Gen. Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, who today sent a secret reply to the high council meeting at Sunbury which had requested his resignation, tonight issued a statement to the Press giving the first public review of his position.

His statement said, in part:

"For 54 years I spent all my time and energy and toiled incessantly amidst burdens of anxious care such as few men are called upon to bear in extending and leading the Salvation Army. I have never before had a prolonged rest but some months ago was ordered away by doctors so that I might have a complete cessation from work.

"I, of course, made arrangements for carrying on the responsibilities which rested upon me. Chief of Staff Higgins is second in command and he has full powers to act for me during my absence. I have yet to hear where he has failed.

"It should be clearly understood that the founder of the Salvation Army instituted powers under which the high council could be called for the sole purpose of turning out of office a general who was spiritually unfit and of electing a successor if that were done, or if for any other reason there should in fact be no general of the Salvation Army. An important point indeed is that in declaring the general unfit the high council has the power to set aside his nomination of a successor. * * *

Retirement Report Denied by Gilbert

Returning to Europe This Month to Reparations Post, He Declares.

(United Press.)

Reports that S. Parker Gilbert is about to retire as agent-general for reparations payments were denied emphatically in a telegram received last night by the United Press from Gilbert, who is on a brief vacation in Louisville, Ky.

The United Press had telegraphed Gilbert for comment on a report published in a New York paper yesterday that he intends to resign as soon as possible after placing his data at the disposal of the international committee of experts who are to meet in Paris next month.

His telegram said:

"Thanks for your message. Story is entirely unauthorized and imaginative. I am returning to Europe January 26 to resume work as agent-general for reparations payments."

Children Attacked By Dog Race Team

Eskimo Animals Bite Boy on Legs in Town in New England.

Plymouth, N. H., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The Eskimo dog team driven by Edward P. Clark, of Lincoln, had a commanding lead in the Berlin-to-Boston 220-mile dog sled race when the second lap was finished here tonight. The time for Clark's team over today's 45-mile run from Twin Mountain was 6 hours 32 minutes. The runner-up, Alexander Doucette's team, of Peterboro, finished in 7 hours 47 minutes.

As Clark's team passed through Livermore Falls, two miles out of this town, his dogs became unmanageable and chased a group of children. Wayland Williford, 5 years old, fell, and the dogs leaped upon him. The boy was bitten on the legs and had a slight facial wound. He was brought to a hospital here for treatment and later sent home.

The teams will leave here tomorrow at 8:30 a. m. for Tilton.

Court Fight Threatened For Custody of Ruth Child

Sister of "Babe's" Dead Wife Declares She Will Bring Proceedings to Reveal Girl's Parentage, if Necessary, to Get Dorothy Helen.

Special to The Washington Post.

Boston, Jan. 15.—Already dazed and broken by the tragic death of his wife, Helen, and the rumors of possible foul play that trailed it, "Babe" Ruth, home-run king, today was informed he must fight in court for possession of the fair-haired little girl whom he calls Dorothy Helen Ruth. While pathologists were examining the organs of the supposed suffocation victim for traces of poison, Ruth received a demand for custody of the child from Johanna Woodford McCarthy, sister of the dead woman.

"Helen was my sister," Mrs. McCarthy told Ruth, "and I have a great love for the child. I want her for my own. You don't stay in one place long enough to be in a position to give her a home, and I demand that you let me have her."

Ruth pondered for a moment, then blurted out:

"You can't have her you can't have her! She's mine and I'll keep her."

Mrs. McCarthy's interview with the Babe was brief, and when it was over she announced she would take the matter to court and "open up the whole business." She said that although she couldn't catch all of Ruth's mumblings, she did distinctly hear the words "adoption" and "papers."

To persons intimately familiar with the domestic life of the Ruths, the "whole business" referred to by Mrs. McCarthy is the secret of the real identity of Dorothy Helen, a matter that has been a mystery to the public since first the child was announced as a member of the Ruth menage. This was in New York when she was about 15 months old. She is 9 years old now.

Ruth then declared the girl was born to his wife in St. Vincent's Hospital, New York, but Mrs. Ruth contradicted day that the resolution of Senator Reed, of Missouri, demanding a clarifying resolution, had gained such headway that it would be impossible to obtain early ratification without yielding. There was a doubt as to whether the treaty forces could muster the votes to defeat it if it came to a test. There was also the danger of direct reservations being adopted if the situation was permitted to drift much longer.

Compromise accordingly satisfied all concerned. Senators Reed, Bingham and Moses were elated at the outcome and Senator Borah had the satisfaction of finally bringing about ratification under conditions as favorable as possible under the circumstances that have prevailed. The important effect of bringing the cruiser bill now before the Senate for action was also hailed by senators on both sides of the chamber who will launch the battle for the cruisers today.

Pacifists Crowd Galleries.

Pacifists packed the galleries yesterday and were rewarded by seeing the Kellogg treaty finally brought to a vote. Blue badges worn by the women were everywhere conspicuous. Senators at intervals arose and asked that huge and bulky packages of pacifist literature be incorporated in the record. When this procedure began to delay the business of the Senate it was agreed by unanimous consent to allow the literature to be introduced at the convenience of senators later on without formality.

Sir Esmé Howard, the British Ambassador, was in the diplomatic gallery during the last stage of the debate, and remained for the vote. He entered the gallery just as Senator Blaine, of Wisconsin, was making a speech about the grip on one-fourth of the earth's surface, which, he said, Great Britain obtained by her reservations to the treaty. Blaine introduced a reservation to safeguard America from the effects of any of the foreign reservations, as he phrased it, but the reservation was overwhelmingly defeated by a viva voce vote.

Borah Announces Report.

The long-awaited vote loomed in sight at 3:30 o'clock, when Senator Borah announced the committee on foreign relations had unanimously agreed to make a clarifying report. This was precisely what the Reed resolution called for, so the Borah announcement eliminated the Reed resolution from consideration. Senator Moses, who had an interpretive reservation pending, withdrew it to pave the way for the committee report.

Senators Heflin and Dill had made short speeches lauding the treaty before Senators Glass and Hiram Johnson paid their respects to it in less complimentary fashion. Senator Glass said he would vote for it, but added:

"I don't want any one in Virginia to suppose that I'm simple enough to suppose that its worth a postage stamp toward the accomplishment of international peace. We are about to renounce something which no nation in recent years has ever proclaimed, for no nation ever proclaims that it will resort to war as an instrument of national policy."

Glass Explains Vote.

Although he said the treaty would confuse the minds of many good people by making them think peace could be procured by an expression of brotherly love, Senator Glass said it would create an unfavorable impression for the United States to reject the treaty and that he was therefore going to vote for it.

Senator Johnson characterized the treaty as "complete nothingness," and asserted he was voting for it under no delusion as to what it meant.

Senator Borah then followed with an expression of his firm conviction that the pact would contribute to world peace in the sense that it organized the passion for peace into a great force.

"The great purpose of this treaty is to reorganize the peace forces," he said.

The treaty rests on the good faith of the nations signing it, Borah declared. He argued that treaties for the purpose of waging war or laying down an economic boycott were no more enforceable than treaties to preserve peace. The old method of making peace treaties resting upon international force had broken down, he declared, because nations making up this international force were never willing to go to war except in defense of their own rights.

Blaine Alone Opposed.

This brought a challenge from Senator Glass, who precipitated a debate which was still in progress when the time for vote under the agreement was reached. There were 85 senators voting for ratification and 1, Senator Blaine, voting against. At the end of the roll call senators glanced over toward Blaine's seat in the hope that he would make it unanimous, but he remained silent and unconcerned.

Early in the afternoon Senator Walsh of Montana, spoke in favor of the treaty and sought to demonstrate that the treaty was not an empty gesture, as contended by some. He argued against any sort of clarifying resolution or reservation, contending these were entirely unnecessary.

Senator King made an anticruiser speech before the afternoon fireworks began. To sign a treaty for the abolition of war and to prepare for war at the same time was paradoxical, the senator from Utah contended.

Text of Interpretative Feature.

The interpretative features of the committee's report read:

"The committee reports the above treaty with the understanding that the right of self-defense is in no way curtailed or impaired by the terms or conditions of the treaty. Each nation is free at all times and, regardless of the treaty provisions, to defend itself, and is the sole judge of what constitutes the right of self-defense and the necessity and extent of the same.

"The United States regards the Monroe Doctrine as a part of its national security and defense. Under the right of self-defense allowed by the treaty must necessarily be included the right to maintain the Monroe Doctrine, which is a part of our system of national defense. Bearing upon this question and as to the true interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine as it has always been maintained and interpreted by the United States, we incorporate the following:

"'We owe it, therefore, to candor and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and these powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. * * * It is impossible that the allied powers should extend their political system to any portion of either continent without endangering our peace and happiness.'"

All Sanctions Excluded.

After the above quotation of Monroe's message and further quotations respecting the Monroe Doctrine, the report continues:

"The committee further understands that the treaty does not provide sanctions, express or implied. Should any signatory to the treaty, or any nation adhering to the treaty, violate the terms of the same, there is no obligation or commitment, express or implied, upon the part of any of the other signers of the treaty to engage in punitive or coercive measures as against the nation violating the treaty. The effect of the violation of the treaty is to relieve the other signers of the treaty from any obligation under it with the nation thus violating the same.

"In other words, the treaty does not, either expressly or impliedly, contemplate the use of force or coercive measures for its enforcement as against any nation violating it. It is a voluntary pledge upon the part of each nation that it will not have recourse to war, except in self-defense, and that it will not seek settlement of its international controversies except through pacific means. And if a nation sees proper to disregard the treaty and violate the same, the effect of such action is to take it from under the benefits of the treaty and to relieve the other nations from any treaty relationship with the said power."

WAR-CURE ENVOYS HAIL KELLOGG PACT

Mrs. Catt Says Only Another Treaty Is Needed, for All Nations to Guard Each.

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO BORAH

Delegates to the fourth conference on the cause and cure of war, which opened sessions Monday at the Washington Hotel, cheered and applauded yesterday afternoon when announcement was made that the United States Senate had ratified the Kellogg peace treaty.

The delegates have taken a keen interest in the fate of the peace pact since the conference opened and yesterday morning went to the Capitol in State groups to request their respective senators to support the treaty. Each group presented the senators from its State with copies of 10,000 resolutions, passed by women's organizations throughout the Nation, indorsing ratification.

Announcement of the Senate's action was made at the afternoon session of the conference and brought from Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the presiding officer, the statement that the vote by the Senate, in her opinion, is "the greatest triumph the world has ever known."

Kellogg and Borah Thanked.

She expressed her gratitude to Secretary of State Kellogg and Senator Borah for their leadership in the fight for ratification.

Massachusetts delegates to the conference told the gathering that prior to leaving for Washington they had requested that church bells be rung throughout the State in thanksgiving for the ratification of the pact. A solemn moment of prayer closed the session.

At the night session, the conference engaged in an open forum discussion of the military and naval construction programs of the world powers, which also embraced the question of maintenance of war establishments after signing the Kellogg treaty.

"One More Pact Is Needed."

Just prior to the night session Mrs. Catt issued a statement declaring that only one more treaty will be needed to bring peace to the world. She described this needed treaty as one by which all signatories will agree to avenge an aggression to one.

The visit to the Capitol yesterday morning by the delegates was marred to an extent by a group of New York picketers. Carrying banners and placards urging defeat of the treaty, the picketers attempted to get into pictures being taken of the delegates, but were quickly dispersed by the Capitol police.

Among the group of picketers were Miss Amy Schechter, of the New York section of the Workers Communist Party, and Miss Vera Busch, of the Working Women's Federation of New York, who invaded the conference session Monday night and made brief but furious antipacifist speeches.

PICKETERS DISPERSED BY CAPITOL POLICE

Henry Miller Service.

These women, all from New York City, were dispersed by Capitol police yesterday afternoon after they had staged a demonstration against the Kellogg peace treaty. The demonstration was staged a few minutes after a delegation of peace organizations had called on various senators urging ratification of the Kellogg pact.

AMERICANS FLEEING HONDURAS, REPORT

Returned Traveler to Ask for Neutral Zones Should War Develop.

ELECTION CALLED UNFAIR

New Orleans, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Isaac Lehman, representative of a New York cotton goods manufacturer, arrived here today with a report that Americans and other foreigners were fleeing Honduras in expectation of a revolution.

"The United States cruiser Denver is lying off the coast of Honduras now," Mr. Lehman said. "I am going to Washington tomorrow night to ask the State Department to have neutral zones created so that American business and American lives will not suffer.

"Already merchants in Tela, La Ceiba, San Pedro, Sula and Puerto Cortez are feeling the threat of war. People are buying less, credit is getting tight and there is a tension in the minds of the people.

"The trouble seems to lie in the fact the conservative political party is not satisfied with the Liberal President, who will be inaugurated February 1. The United States Government has recognized this executive but the conservatives claim the election was unfair."

Mr. Lehman, who arrived here by boat, said 51 refugees came out of Honduras on the steamship Castilla and landed at Port Barrios, Guatemala.

(Associated Press.)

Reports of a threatened revolution in Honduras reached the State Department just before Christmas but later advices said the situation had become quiet.

Giant Airship Returns From 2,000-Mile Trip

Lakehurst, N. J., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The naval dirigible Los Angeles was walked into her hangar this morning, completing a round-trip flight of some 2,000 miles to Florida. The trip north was made with favorable winds, the huge ship at times making 115 miles an hour. She left Port St. Joe, Fla., at 11:28 a. m. yesterday and arrived over her home station at 12:45 o'clock this morning.

Members of the crew declared no inconvenience was suffered on the flight, even hot meals being served throughout. On the trip south January 8 the ship was hampered by winds, which forced her to anchor to the tender Patoka at Port St. Joe.

Seventy-two Dealers In Malt Syrup Fined

Lexington, Ky., Jan 15 (A.P.).—Seventy-two defendants, charged with selling malt syrup, pleaded guilty to violating the prohibition law in Federal Court here today and paid fines of $25 each.

After the fines were paid managers of three chain store systems, employers of the defendants, promised that no more alleged "home brew" materials would be sold in their stores. District Attorney Sawyer A. Smith then announced he intended to stop the sale of materials throughout the eastern district of Kentucky and is "going after" manufacturers and their agents. The companies paid fines of $500 each.

Value of Cent Placed On Husband's Affections

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The affections of Mrs. Veronica Stuart's former husband were valued at one cent by Judge Joseph B. David this afternoon when he decided an alienation of affections suit against her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary M. Stuart. Judge David found Mrs. Stuart guilty of alienating her son's affections from his wife, but cut the damages from $50,000 to a cent.

Yesterday when the case was first called to trial the elder Mrs. Stuart's attorney announced Mrs. Stuart was willing to return her son, Charles, but a reconciliation failed.

8 Policemen Required To Carry 385-Pound Boy

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Jan. 15.—When Jackie Lindner, 14, gets sick, he's a civic problem. Though he's only 4 feet 7 inches tall, he weighs 385 pounds, and it took eight men of the police rescue squad two and a half hours today to move him from his fourth floor apartment on Third avenue to an ambulance, after he had developed double pneumonia.

A specially constructed tarpaulin stretcher had to be used.

Bishop Manning Recovering.

New York, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The Right Rev. William T. Manning, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, who has been ill with pneumonia since December 28, was reported today to have passed the crisis and to be slightly improved. When Bishop Manning will be able to resume his duties is not known.

Sandino Proposes He Rule Province

Nicaraguan President Calls Plan Treason; Enlists Men Against Outlaws.

Managua, Nicaragua, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Augustino Sandino has proposed to President Jose Mari-Moncada that Nicaragua be divided by the separation of the province of Nueva Segovia, which would be controlled by the rebel leader. His suggestion was sent through relatives and included a proposal for a peace conference with the president, at which the matter would be discussed.

President Moncada characterized the proposal as "lunacy." He said: "The proposal constitutes treason, and I have taken steps to stop this shameful farce of patriotism by ordering enlistment of volunteers to combat the outlaws. Peace reigns over the country except in a small area to the north near the border of Honduras, where small bands of outlaws are destroying crops. I am obliged to prevent this, and martial law will be declared in the disturbed region. Sufficient force will be organized to restore tranquillity to the entire country."

A bill to appropriate money for the Guardia Nacional has been debated by congress for days, but has not been passed. The Guardia now is operating under presidential decree.

LAKE SUBMARINE'S HAWSER FOUND CUT

Test Boat's Line With Phone Wire, Say Experts, Was Purposely Slashed.

DANGER TO MEN AVERTED

Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 15 (United Press).—A hawser connecting the old Simon Lake submarine Defender and the Navy salvage ship Mallard was found to have been nearly severed just before the Mallard was to start towing the submarine to Block Island today for life-saving tests.

It was learned that experts, who testified at an immediate preliminary court of naval inquiry, expressed the opinion that the hawser was cut deliberately. The hawser was unique. It was of manila, but one strand of it was a telephone line, by which communication could be maintained while the hawser was acting as a towline.

Great danger might have been entailed had the hawser—as Navy men believe would have happened—broken completely while the Defender was submerged. The cut was 84 feet from the Defender's end of the line.

Experts said it would take at least 30 days to replace the hawser.

It was believed that no motive for the severance of the hawser has been found, and that those involved have difficulty in conjecturing who might have done it.

Officials expressed gratification that the cut was found. It was intended to tow the submarine to Block Island and submerge it there while tests were made.

Police Thermometer Stolen in Cold Wave

Chicago, Jan. 15 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—At midnight the sleepy police reporter on the night watch was finishing his cold weather duty of checking up temperatures at outlying police stations. He was calling the Willow Springs County Highway Police Station.

"H'lo, H'lo, Sarge," he said when the connection was completed, "how cold is it out there now?"

"I think it's about zero," replied the sergeant.

"You think," said the reporter; "don't you know?"

"I can't tell exactly," came the reply, "somebody just stole our thermometer."

LENGLEN VANISHES AFTER DENYING ROW

REPORTED COMING EAST

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The whereabouts of Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis player remained a mystery today to newspaper men trailing reports that she had abruptly left the home of her hostess, Mrs. Anita Baldwin, wealthy society woman, and had arranged to board an eastbound train.

Mrs. Baldwin was reported to be in a state of collapse and under the care of a physician. She is the daughter of E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, who made a fortune in mining.

It was definitely learned yesterday that Mlle Lenglen and her mother had registered at a Los Angeles hotel. Late in the day however, after denying there had been a rift between her and Mrs. Baldwin, the tennis player checked out and ordered her trunks removed from the hotel.

The Lenglens were found to have engaged Pullman passage on an eastbound train, but could not be located aboard when the train left here last night.

It also was learned that Baldwin M. Baldwin, Mlle. Lenglen's former tennis manager, has left his mother's home, and moved to a downtown hotel.

While efforts to locate the Lenglens and Baldwin were under way, a terse statement was handed out at the Baldwin estate, reading as follows: "The statement that the Lenglens left the Baldwin estate January 10 is correct. That there was a row, however, is incorrect. Mrs. Baldwin never quarrels with a guest."

The statement followed published reports that a "Row had caused Mrs. Baldwin's son and Mlle. Lenglen to leave the family estate."

Night Club Jurors Prove Prejudiced

Talesmen in New York Declare Overcharging Has Stirred Their Ire.

New York, Jan. 15 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—When it comes to an opinion of our night clubs, it's hard to find an open mind. Talesman were being examined today in Federal Court for duty in the first of the liquor trials growing out of the night club raids of election eve. Each was asked: "Are you prejudiced against night clubs?"

Talesman William C. Jackson, a theater ticket broker, said he was prejudiced against the joy joints. "They've gouged me on dinner checks," he explained. He was excused.

Bigelow Watts, a broker, when quizzed, replied: "They've overcharged me, too."

He, too, was excused.

There was another talesman, who confessed being taken in the pocketbook by the dusk-to-dawn dugouts. "But," he added, "It has not prejudiced me. It just taught me to stay out of them." He'll serve.

Woman, 65, Kills Self By Gas in Rented Room

A certificate of suicide was issued yesterday by Coroner J. Ramsay Nevitt for Mrs. Frances A. Hager, 65 years old, who roomed at 613 Sixth street northwest. She was found in a gas-filled room at that address. She had left a note saying she 'had no money to keep the grass green on the cemetery lot."

The fire rescue squad and Emergency Hospital ambulance were summoned and after the rescue squad had worked over her for some time she was pronounced dead by Dr. I. Rutkoski, of the hospital staff.

NORTHCOTT PLANNED NEW CRIME, CHARGE

Nephew Says He Dug Grave for Man and Wife Who Were Brought to Ranch.

TELLS OF BOYS' DEATHS

Riverside, Calif., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Sanford Clark, 15-year-old nephew and principal accuser of Gordon Stewart Northcott, on trial for the slaying of young Lewis and Nelson Winslow, of Pomona, and an unidentified Mexican boy, today told of the alleged crimes committed at the Wineville chicken ranch.

From the witness stand Clark told of digging three graves on the Northcott ranch at the direction of his uncle. One of these graves, he said, was intended for Mr. and Mrs. Dahl, of Los Angeles, but was never occupied because Gordon Stewart "was afraid he couldn't get away with it." Of the other two, he testified, one received the bodies of the Winslow boys and one the body of Walter Collins. Northcott is charged in a separate indictment with the slaying of the Collins boy.

In addition to the testimony of young Clark, interest was further heightened by the granting of a motion by Presiding Judge George R. Freeman for the return of Mrs. Sarah Louisa Northcott from San Quentin prison to testify for her son at his trial. She is serving a life sentence for the murder of Walter Collins.

Took Couple to Ranch.

Clark said Northcott took Mr. and Mrs. Dahl to the ranch one night, accompanied by Mrs. Northcott. Instructions already had been given him to prepare a grave, the lad testified, and when Northcott came back "he looked at the grave and asked if I had it all fixed up."

"He was mad," the boy declared, "and said he didn't think it was deep enough for them."

The Dahls came to the ranch, Sanford said Northcott told him, because they had been promised employment.

The lad testified that he got a .22-caliber rifle from the house and took it to the henhouse, where Gordon Stewart said he wanted it placed. Finally, Sanford declared, his uncle told him he "couldn't get away with it," and took Mr and Mrs. Dahl back to Los Angeles.

The bodies in the other graves were removed, Sanford said, and taken "50 miles out into the desert."

Boy's Head Burned, He Says.

Questioning of Special Prosecutor Loyal C. Kelly led Sanford into the details of the alleged killing and beheading by Northcott of the Mexican lad.

"Did Stewart tell you why he had killed this boy?" Kelly asked.

"He said he knew too much about him."

"What was done with the head?"

"It was burned."

Sanford said Northcott told him he had left the body of the Mexican boy near Puente. A decapitated body was found there on February 2, 1928.

When the prosecution completed direct questioning of Clark, Northcott demanded that he be allowed personally to cross-examine his nephew. This started trouble between the young defendant and his counsel, Norbert Savay, the latter declaring that if such action were permitted, and proved not satisfactory to him, he would withdraw from the case.

The court attempted to mediate between lawyer and client by announcing that cross-examination would be deferred until tomorrow.

The prosecution announced it would not consent to Northcott proceeding without counsel.

Press reports from Greensboro, N. C., that Clarence Roberson, 19, had confessed to police that he had helped Northcott to kill four children in a barn in California failed to impress Northcott today.

"That's interesting," he said, after he had been awakened in his cell and told of Roberson's confession. "I refuse to say anything," was his only other comment.

Police Doubt Story.

Greensboro, N. C., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Police are investigating the story of Clarence Roberson, of Greensboro, that he helped Gordon Stewart Northcott kill four children in a barn in California. Officials indicated they gave little credence to Roberson's story.

Roberson gave himself up to the police last night. He said he was formerly in the Army, and obtaining leave went to the farm where Northcott was staying and that the latter offered him $3,000 to help kill the children.

Roberson said Northcott told the children, the oldest one of whom was a girl, that some new horses were going to be placed in the barn and that he wanted them to help clean it out.

Northcott and he, declared the boy, then proceeded to kill the oldest with a butcher knife by cutting in her abdomen. The other children began screaming. They were all, said the young man, killed in the same manner. He said he assisted in killing only one of them, a boy whose body, he said, was buried under a rocky path near the mountain. The body of the girl was put in a new trunk and shipped to an address which he gave to police.

Roberson said he was telling the story because his conscience hurt him and because Northcott would not pay him the $3,000 promised.

Drowning Woman Saved By President of Mexico

Mexico City, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The wife of Pedro Laguna, well-known resident of Cuautla, in the State of Morelos, has the distinction of having been saved from drowning by no less a personage than the President of Mexico. News of the rescue only leaked out today.

While President Portes Gil and a party were on an inspection trip to the thermal water section at Cuautla, famous for its medicinal qualities, they discovered Senora Laguna had slipped down the side of the tank and could not reach safety, despite desperate efforts. The president, without hesitation, jumped in and succeeded in bringing her in safely. He was roundly applauded by the onlookers.

House in Which Arnold Plotted Is Demolished

Special to The Washington Post.

Haverstraw, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The ruins of a house that innocently concealed the treason of Benedict Arnold were being removed by wreckers today from the grounds of the State Orthopedic Hospital here.

While the old house gradually was disintegrating, proposals for its preservation were made by the Women's Republican Club of Rockland County, Haverstraw High School, Haverstraw Lodge of Elks and other groups, but nothing came of them.

"Treason house" is the name by which the building long has been known to the public. Within its walls Arnold and Maj. Andre, of the British army, consummated plans for delivering West Point to the British. A mahogany staircase and marble mantelpiece are being taken into the hospital nearby for keeping as relics.

Tea Room Ban Charged On Navy Men in Uniform

Committee Named by Costello Post to Investigate Sworn Accusations Involving Threat to Call Police to Eject Two Denied Service.

The Vincent Costello Post, American Legion, meeting in the District Building last night, appointed a committee to investigate sworn charges that Navy men in uniform have been debarred, because of their uniforms, from a tea room on Connecticut avenue northwest.

The committee members are Rear Admiral Reginald Nicholson, U. S. N., retired; Maurice A. McDonald and William Spicer. They will investigate charges made yesterday in affidavits by David M. Ruff, pharmacist mate, third class, U. S. N., stationed at the Naval Hospital here, and William Wallace, employe of the tea room.

Ruff declared the manager refused to serve him on November 26, 1928, when he was waiting for Wallace to finish work. Ruff was accompanied by another Navy man, Claude F. Dearmond. The manager, he alleges, threatened to summon police to have them ejected.

Wallace's affidavit substantiates Ruff's statements. The manager called Wallace to call for police, Wallace charges. The manager was unable to understand, one affidavit states, the seamen's astonishment at the refusal of service, and called their attempt to obtain a meal ridiculous.

Affectionate Responses Found on Messiter From Woman College Lecturer.

ENGLISH POLICE PUZZLED

Southampton, England, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The strange case of Vivian Messiter, once an engineer of the Hudson River tubes in New York, still bristled tonight with puzzling points despite five days' unremitting investigation by experts of Scotland Yard. Yet the detectives were optimistic that they would soon lay their hands on Messiter's slayer, although his deed was hidden behind the locked doors of a garage here for more than ten weeks.

The exact cause of the man's death has not been determined. Wounds in the head may have been made by a bullet or by a sharp spike. The official pathologist of Scotland Yard is to make a searching examination tomorrow in an effort to solve this part of the case.

The obvious facts of the mystery, as outlined by police tonight, were these:

The body of Messiter, missing since October 30, was found in his own garage on January 10. The structure was padlocked from the outside. He had been dead many weeks. There were small irregular wounds on the back of his head and in his forehead.

The body had been carefully disposed behind some packing cases.

Correspondent Is Known.

Messiter was last seen talking with a small, wiry man, who appeared to be about 30 years old. Thus far no trace of that man has come to light.

The skilled probing of the Scotland Yarders discovered many unusual circumstances in Messiter's past. It appears that the dead man has seen his wife only once in the last 20 years—when she visited him in a hospital after he had been wounded in the war. Messiter's pockets contained affectionate letters from a woman in America signed merely with a crooked "J." There was also a cipher for cabling endearing terms. Authorities learned from a married sister of Messiter that this correspondent was a friend of many years standing, a New York woman who is a lecturer in an American university, and who is old enough to be a grandmother. Messiter had lived the three middle decades of his life in America and recently had returned from there.

On the back of a badge the engineer wore as a discharged, disabled soldier, there was discovered a locket. In that locket was the picture of a beautiful young woman in a nurse's costume. Thus far the identity of the young nurse is a mystery.

Peculiar Bet Recalled.

New York, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The New York Sun says today that Vivian Messiter, mysteriously killed in Southampton, England, wagered with a woman before he left this country last year that he would expose as a "rotter" a man with whom she was friendly.

The newspaper obtained its information from a woman who was one of the few persons Messiter had known during his New York sojourn that ended last June, the Sun's informant said. Financial troubles beset Messiter, and he took to painting lamp shades for a living. He frequently talked of suicide.

"There was a woman," continued the story, "who gave him some help financially. Vivian told her about a friend of hers and said he could prove the man was a 'rotter.' They made a bet, more than he could afford if he lost. I told him that the whole thing was perfectly silly, but he insisted on going through with it.

"Another thing that used to worry him was the thought of his wife from whom he'd been separated years ago. He seemed to be terribly afraid of her."

Austin J. Small, Author, Dies; Suicide Suspected

London, Jan. 15 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Austin James Small, well known British author who wrote under the name of "Seamark" and who began writing at the advice of Jack London, was found dead in his flat here today, apparently having committed suicide.

Small, who was only 34, was in ill health, and was worried about the state of his wife's health. She left last night for Nice where, she hoped, the climate would benefit her chest complaint.

Small went through seven actions in the North Sea in the World War, having enlisted in the British navy. He was also heavyweight boxing champion of the Navy.

ARMED MAN SEIZED ON 'TIP' OF ROBBERY

Revolver Found on Supposed Gunman Arrested as He Enters Taxi.

FINGERPRINTS ARE TAKEN

Taken unaware, and disarmed before he could offer resistance, Joseph Santini, 31 years old, of 1434 N street northwest, believed by the police to be a New York gunman and Baumes law dodger, was arrested in front of his lodgings last night by Detective Sergt. H. K. Wilson, who had received word that the man was on his way to pull a holdup.

Wilson had trailed Santini to his rooming house, and was watching the place when his man came out and entered a taxicab. Wilson approached the cab before it started, and, opening the door, grabbed Santini's right arm with one hand and reached for the man's hip pocket with the other. The feel of cold steel greeted Wilson's thrust for the pocket, and he pulled out a .38 caliber revolver.

Santini was taken to headquarters and charged with unlawfully carrying the weapon, and later sent to the First Precinct Station. He gave his occupation as that of a laborer, and also said he had been employed as a waiter at a fashionable Washington hotel.

The tip that led to Santini's arrest was given by a man whose identity Wilson refused to divulge, but it is understood the informant was approached by Santini with a suggestion that the two "pull off a job and get some easy money."

Wilson was told the job was planned and was to be executed last night. He was given the address of a delicatessen store near Santini's lodgings, where he was told Santini would be last night. Wilson visited the store, but while he was casually buying some cigars to avert suspicion, Santini slipped out of the place.

It was then that Wilson went to the N street address, and, after a few minutes' wait, caught Santini as he got into the taxicab. The prisoner was photographed and fingerprinted at headquarters and copies of the pictures were sent to New York for possible identification.

Woman Student Flier Hurt in Plane Crash

Curtiss Field, N. Y., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—A young woman student pilot was seriously injured when her plane crashed 35 feet to the ground in a field south of Hicksville, five miles from here, today, after striking several high-tension wires.

Miss Clarissa Copper, 21, of New York City, was removed from the wrecked plane and taken to the Mineola Hospital. Physicians said she is suffering from a possible broken neck. The woman, a licensed pilot with about 50 flying hours to her credit, had been practicing making solo landings and take-offs at the Hicksville test field and was returning here when the crash occurred.

$28,000 Alimony Writ Out Against C. Durant

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—S. S. Hahn, Los Angeles attorney, said today that he had obtained a writ of execution from Judge James G. Conlan, of San Francisco, in which payment of $18,000 alimony and nearly $10,000 accumulated interest was demanded of Cliff Durant, automobile manufacturer, by his former wife, Mrs. Pearl Durant.

Service of the writ will be made through the San Francisco sheriff's office Hahn said. In his pleading before Judge Conlan, Hahn claimed he said that Mrs. Durant was divorced from Durant in 1910, and was then awarded $75 per month alimony. Mrs. Durant claimed no payments ever were made.

PLANES HONOR DEAD FLIERS IN ARLINGTON

Five Victims of Crash That Killed Eight Buried With Military Tribute.

DAVISON ATTENDS RITES

Airplane motors moaned a dirge overhead and Army bugles wailed farewell below as five victims of the worst accident in the history of the heavier-than-air section of the Air Corps were interred at Arlington National Cemetery yesterday.

Bodies of Lieut. Henry R. Angell, of Birmingham, Ala., Master Sergt. Joseph B. McCarthy, Staff Sergts. Henry Cronnan and Robert J. Le Hutta, of this city, and Private Samuel P. Jones, Bellbuckle, Tenn, Bolling Field airmen, who fell to death in the crash at Royalton, Pa., Friday, were buried with full military honors.

Davison Attends Rites.

Assistant Secretary of War Davison, in charge of aviation, and Brig. Gen. Benjamin D. Fuolois, assistant chief of the Air Corps, were present at the services, beginning at 10:30 o'clock, and continuing until 12:40. Chaplains Albert F. Vaughn and Walter J. Donoghue officiating. Maj. Gen. James E. Fecht, chief of Air Corps, was unable to attend, owing to illness.

Honorary pallbearers at all services were Maj. Howard C. Davidson, commandant of Bolling Field; Capt. Christian A. Schwaerzwalder and Harry A. Dinger, Lieuts E. B. Bayley, John Upston and Robert Fels, of Bolling Field, and the office of the chief of Air Corps.

Fliers Honor Comrades.

Pilots of the ceremonial planes flying in formation over the cemetery with a "blank file," symbolical of missing comrades, while services were in progress were Capts. Frank O'D. Hunter, W. E. Farthing, W. H. Hastey and Lieut. D. B. Phillips.

The escort of honor consisted of the Third Cavalary Regimental Band, of Fort Myer, Va., a platoon of Infantry from the Army headquarters company in this city, a firing squad, color bearers and color guards. Bodies were borne on caissons to the graves.

The bodies of Private Michael D. Kelly, of Minersville, Pa.; Private Clarence Birch, of Chicago, and Master Sergt. Patrick Conroy, of Somerville, Mass.; three others killed in the accident, were buried at Frackville, Pa., Chicago, and New York City, respectively.

Lindbergh Leaves Plane Stranded in Illinois

St. Louis, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Lamberts, St. Louis field this afternoon on a flight from St. Elmo, Ill. He was brought here by Frank Robertson, president of the Robertson Aircraft Corp., and "Bud" Gurney, operating manager, in a closed monoplane. He left his Ford trimotored plane in St. Elmo.

Robertson and Guerney had left here at noon for St. Elmo, where Col. Lindbergh was stranded after having been forced down yesterday by ice forming on the wings of his plane.

Canadian and Wife Burned.

Montreal, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Hiram L. Piper, president of the Railway Supply Co. bearing his name, and his wife, a sister of Sir James Carruthers, were burned today when fire destroyed their residence in Westmount.

FUNERAL IN ARLINGTON OF CRASH PLANE'S VICTIM

Underwood & Underwood.

COURT FIGHT THREATENED OVER LITTLE RUTH CHILD

him and said it was at Presbyterian Hospital. Confronted with these conflicting statements, Ruth explained he was forgetful and probably Mrs. Ruth was right.

Later, in 1925, Ruth broke with his wife, and took the child to Florida with him.

Child Now in Convent.

Dorothy Helen now is in the Convent of the Assumption in Wellesley, and knows nothing about the fight that is to be waged over her custody.

It was indicated here today in information from sources that can not be disclosed now, that the child is the daughter of a friend of the Babe, and that he took the baby into his home and had his wife, whose three children by Ruth died at birth, take care of her.

Birth and adoption records in New York and various other cities have been searched in vain for trace of the case of the sad eyed youngster who calls the slugger "Daddy."

"All I can say at this time is that I have asked John P. Feeney, counsel for Ruth, for record of the birth or adoption of the girl," Judson Hannigan, the lawyer who has been retained by Mrs. Ruth's family, said today.

Hannigan has reason to believe Babe will be reluctant to reveal the real origin of Dorothy Helen, and, if he does not, he will be haled into court, it is indicated, and forced to disclose Dorothy Helen's forebears or surrender her.

Foul Play Theory Discredited.

The foul play cry had died down to a whisper tonight, with Hannigan's announcement that the Woodfords, Mrs. Ruth's family, will be satisfied with the findings of the second autopsy, which was being performed today.

The principals in the case avoided newspaper men. Ruth went to the country for a night's rest, and Dr. Edward Kinder, with whom Mrs. Ruth had been living for two years, had gone into seclusion.

Late today Dr. George B. McGrath began directing pathologists in their examination of the stomach and other organs of Mrs. Ruth. The body, which was placed in a coffin bought yesterday by Ruth, was removed from an undertaker's to the morgue for the examination.

Dr. McGrath, medical examiner of Suffolk County, is one of the outstanding autopsy authorities of the country. The first examination of the body was made last Saturday by Medical Examiner George West, of Middlesex County.

It has not yet been decided whether Mrs. Ruth's body will be buried tomorrow or on Thursday. That depends on a decision to be made by District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell, of Middlesex County.

Guardianship of Dorothy Helen will carry with it trusteeship of her share in the sizable estate left by Mrs. Ruth.

Legacy at Stake.

If the girl was legally adopted by the Ruths she will get a two-thirds share in the estate; if not, then Babe, under the Massachusetts laws, will get $5,000 in cash and one-third of the remainder, the residue going to the next of kin of the deceased.

Mrs. Ruth, although her bank balance was not large, had costly jewelry and clothing and a big car. She had four fur coats, one, an ermine wrap, which cost Ruth $2,000, and a $2,500 diamond ring. There was a report that the jewels were missing, but Ruth dispelled this with the remark that they were "in safe keeping."

He refused to amplify his denial of the statement of Nora Woodford, pretty 19-year-old brunette sister of Mrs. Ruth, that she was present in the office in New York of Christy Walsh, a sport news syndicate head, last summer, when she says Ruth pleaded with his wife for a divorce, saying he "had just had a baby by another woman" and "wanted to marry the woman to give the baby a name."

$100,000 Demand Refused.

Mrs. Ruth, Nora declared, agreed to give him a quiet divorce for $100,000, but Ruth, balked at the figure and, seizing his hat and coat, shouted, "I won't give you a damned cent!" and rushed out of the office.

Nora went to visit the ball player this afternoon, but he refused to see her.

"This is no way to treat us, when the body of our sister isn't even buried yet," she told him over a lobby telephone in the Hotel Brunswick, where he was stopping. Ruth had no comment on this incident, save to say: "I will pay all the funeral expenses."

Funeral services will be held in the Woodford home in South Boston, and burial will be in a Catholic cemetery, Old Calvary, in Dorchester.

Barbara Grosvenor Wed To Viscount Dunwich

London, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Traffic in Trafalgar Square was held up today by a crowd outside of St. Martin's Church, in which took place the wedding of Viscount Dunwich, eldest son of the Earl of Stradbroke, to Miss Barbara Grosvenor. The church itself was crowded with 600 guests.

For her wedding veil the bride, a relative of the Duke of Westminster, wore old lace which had been wrapped around the bridegroom at his Christening. This was worn by the bride over a shimmering gown of white satin. The twelve bridesmaids and the pages were in yellow velvet. The bridegroom is a lieutenant in the royal navy and is 25 years old.

BILLS INTRODUCED FOR DRY MARYLAND

Enforcement Measure, With Mandatory Prison Term and Fine, Offered.

TENSE CONTEST EXPECTED

(By Staff Correspondent.)

State House, Annapolis, Md., Jan. 15. Prohibition became an issue before the Maryland Legislature tonight when identical bills sponsored by the Maryland Antisaloon League to provide for State enforcement of the eighteenth amendment were introduced.

Sale or transportation of liquors containing as much as one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol would be punishable by fine and imprisonment. The bills were introduced in the house by Delegate Horace Davis (Democrat), Worcester County, and in the senate, by Senator George P. Englar (Republican), of Carroll County.

The plan has the indorsement of George W. Crabbe, State superintendent of the Antisaloon League. A first conviction under its operation would carry a fine of not less than $300 or more than $1,000 and imprisonment of not less than three months or more than one year. Subsequent convictions would result in imprisonment for from one to two years.

With the Eastern and Western sections of Maryland regarded as dry and the middle section, comprising Baltimore City, wet, the bill was expected to bring on a spirited fight, chiefly because the Baltimore City delegation controls a block of 36 votes. A similar bill was defeated overwhelmingly in the house in 1924. However, in the present house a so-called insurgent group controlling about 12 votes in the Baltimore City delegation is looked upon as having what may be a balance of power.

The bill, as referred to the committee on temperance, would be operative June 1 next.

Various administration bills were introduced after considerable delay occasioned by an attack on Speaker E. Brooke Lee, of Montgomery County, by members who sought a vote on an order which would have requested information from Gov. Albert C. Ritchie regarding the State road commission.

Facts Wanted of Ritchie.

A reported shortage of $400,000 in the road commission's accounts led Delegate Frederick Lee Coburn, Democrat, Harford County, to introduce an order requesting Ritchie to inform the house whether road funds were used to pay expenses in connection with certain celebrations attending road and bridge openings.

Over Coburn's objection, the house sustained Speaker Lee's reference of the order to the investigating committee. Later that committee reported it would conduct a "complete and competent" investigation of the road commission.

Among the bills introduced were one to prevent the issuing of an injunction where the act to be enjoined is punishable by fine or imprisonment.

CABINET ASPIRATIONS DENIED BY MRS. HERT

in beal of the principles and ideals in which they believe. This was truer of the last campaign than of any other within my recollection.

"The women voters of the country helped to elect Mr. Hoover President, and their chief interest now is in supporting him in the great task he has undertaken."

Follows Work Statement.

Mrs. Hert's statement is the second of a defensive nature that the hullabaloo in her behalf has necessitated. Just before Mr. Hoover's return, Chairman Work, of the Republican national committee, found it necessary to issue one when it looked as though Mrs. Hert's friends might be creating an embarrassing situation.

In political circles there has never been any serious thought that Mr. Hoover would name a woman to his Cabinet.

Chilton, the Kentucky national committeeman, who did not appear on the scene until yesterday, is credited with having been the originator of the Hert movement. But inasmuch as the two political parties have always been curtseying to the women, it was not considered to reach serious proportions until the ballyhoo became persistently louder and Dr. Work was coupled with it.

It was then that the politicians began to fear the women's organizations would set up such a clamor that a woman might either land in the Cabinet or cause Mr. Hoover some embarrassment in keeping her out.

Dr. Work thought he had better issue a statement, and it rather depicted him as simply curtseying himself when he had previously shown such enthusiasm in behalf of Mrs. Hert. It is believed, though, that the doctor was serious in the first instance.

Women's Clubs Lukewarm.

Fortunately for the politicians, too, the women's clubs did not take up the campaign. Instead, it developed that there were so many women with aspirations to be the first woman in the Cabinet that a merry squabble ensued. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick gave it as her formal opinion that women were not yet prepared for such an honor, and the General Federation of Women's Clubs appeared to be rather lukewarm, adopting a resolution to the effect that no woman should be appointed just because she is a woman.

In the background all the time were Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, whose hopes, it is believed, aim at the more practical attainment of a Federal judgeship, but who would undoubtedly have some feeling in the matter should some other woman be named to the Cabinet. It develops, too, that the friends of Mrs. William Browne Meloney, magazine editor of the New York Herald Tribune, had their ears cocked during all of this discussion.

The Cuban sugar problem was taken up with Mr. Hoover yesterday by Hugo Hartenstein, president of the American Chamber of Commerce of Cuba. He told Mr. Hoover that if the tariff on sugar is increased it will mean Cuba's commercial ruin. At present Cuba has a 20 per cent differential in the tariff.

Cubans Oppose Higher Rate.

Cuban producers are agitating not only against an increase in the tariff, but for an impost on Philippine imports, which now come in duty free. Domestic sugar producers, on the other hand, are complaining against both the competition of Cuba and the Philippines, and the islands want a higher levy on imports from Cuba.

The problem for the next administration is whether it should continue to favor the Philippine industry in United States territory, but largely owned by foreign interests, or the Cuban industry, in a foreign country, but heavily involving American financial interests.

Tomorrow is to be the banner day in the way of callers. There are five senators and fifteen members of the House on the list.

W. E. Lamb, former solicitor in the Department of Commerce, and who served under Mr. Hoover in the Food Administration, is also to be a caller. His name has been mentioned frequently in the Cabinet discussions.

Tennessee May Repeal Antievolution Statute

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Dr John R. Neal's bill to repeal the Tennessee antievolution law was introduced in the house of representatives today by one of his pupils.

Representative C. R. Morse, of Knoxville, who holds three degrees from the State university, and who explained that he believes "it takes as much divine dispensation to make a man from a monkey as from a clod of dirt," sponsored the bill. Dr. Neal said last Sunday its introduction would be the first move in an effort to repeal the law in all States which prohibit the teaching of the theory of evolution in public schools. He was a member of Scopes' defense counsel.

HOLY SEE DEBATING ITALIAN CONCORDAT

Method of Notifying Powers of Settlement of Roman Issue Discussed.

GASPARRI CONSULTS POPE

Rome, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Methods of notifying all powers which have representatives accredited to the Holy See of the agreement between the church and the Italian state for a solution of the Roman question were discussed in Vatican circles today. It was understood that if and when the agreement is concluded by the signatures of Cardinal Gasparri as secretary of state for the Holy See and Benito Mussolini as foreign minister of Italy, a concordat would be adopted for transmission to all governments concerned.

Previous to this notification a communication would be sent to the same powers through regular diplomatic channels that an agreement had been reached whereby the Holy See would thereafter constitute a completely free and independent territory under the sovereignty of the Roman pontiff.

Question of Inhabitants.

There still is considerable indecision in view of the Pope's repeated wish that he have no "subjects," as to how the new state would be inhabited, it is generally supposed that the Vatican authorities would gradually endeavor to group all outlying offices within the newly defined territory for reasons of convenience and centralization. Then it would intimate to powers having embassies or legations at the Holy See that it might be expeditious to erect their buildings within the confines of that territory.

Thus, the inhabitants of the newly defined tract would, in the main, be of non-Italian nationality. There would then be no need for burdening the pontiff with administrative duties in connection with civil courts and similar institutions.

The Vatican area already has its own fire department and its own soldiers—such as the Swiss guards and the Palatine guards. Therefore little or no change is contemplated in the organization of the internal affairs of the Pope's domain as its now exists.

Credit to Cardinal Bourne.

Vatican circles are giving considerable credit for the favorable outcome of the negotiations with the Fascist government, or for first formulating the ideas on which those negotiations were based, to Cardinal Francis Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, England. They say that in 1911, he delivered an address before the annual Catholic Congress at Newcastle-on-Tyne in which he said:

"There is no desire on the part of the papacy for temporal dominion as such. There is no lust for territory and no wish to play a part as one of the leading powers of the earth in competition for increased worldly possessions.

"On the other hand, the presence within the kingdom of Italy itself of the Independent Republic of San Marino; the existence of the sovereign principality of Monaco within the Republic of France, the Free State of Andorra, surrounded on every side by the jurisdiction of other states—all these facts show how easily, with a little good will, civil independence of the Holy See might adequately be secured without detracting from the essential unity of the Kingdom of Italy."

Cardinal Bourne has continually developed this idea in sermons and writings and Vatican officials said they had contributed greatly to the achievement of the accord which became known yesterday.

Pope Receives Gasparri.

Pope Pius had a long conversation with Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, this morning in which the Roman question was discussed. The conversation followed the receipt of various messages from America reporting the impression produced there by announcement of the provisional informal agreement which has been reached between the Holy See and the Italian State. All those mentioned as being concerned in the negotiations were besieged today by friends and newspaper men for information about the accord.

STEWART BUYS STOCK IN OIL COMPANY WAR

barrassed by the necessity of revealing their position.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 5 (A.P.).—Proxies naming Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Co of Indiana; E. G. Seubert, president and F. T. Graham, secretary, as representatives of the signatory stockholders will be mailed out tomorrow, it was announced at the company's offices today.

President Seubert and members of the board of directors yesterday addressed a letter to stockholders asking their signatures to the regular proxies to the end that Col Stewart might be retained as chairman of the board. John D. Rockefeller, jr., had already asked the shareholders to name him their representative at the annual meeting in his effort to remove the present chairman.

Twin Physicians End Lives As Research Saps Wealth

Note Found Pinned to Door of London Apartment Says Young Brothers Had Sacrificed Their Lives to Study of Cancer.

London, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Twin brothers who had been inseparable in their preparation for their profession of physicians and who already had won recognition by their studies of cancer were found dead today, with a message pinned to the door of their flat reading: "Life is not worth living."

They were Dr. Arthur B. Smith and Dr. Sydney McKendrick Smith, sons of an Edinburgh practitioner. They were 29 years of age.

The note was addressed to the nation and read in full:

"We have given our lives to cancer research. We have reduced ourselves to a state of poverty. Life is not worth living."

In the room were found two letters addressed to the coroner and the police. The young men had died from razor cuts in their throats, although one of them had apparently also taken poison.

The scene when the police broke into their flat on Harley street, in the fashionable West End, bore every indication of a double murder until the letters were found.

Friends in Edinburgh tonight expressed astonishment at the act of the brothers. It was thought they would have had brilliant careers, and no one had imagined they were in poverty. They were members of various medical societies and had written and published joint papers on their researches, including a book on cancer. They had attended medical schools in Paris, Stockholm and Brussels. They were associated in practice.

POSTAL HEAD GIVEN NEW ALASKAN FLAG

Banner Designed by Boy, 13, Will Be Hung in Court of U. S. Building.

STARS SHOW GREAT BEAR

The new Alaskan Territorial flag, the prize-winning design by a 13-year-old Alaskan schoolboy, was presented by Gov. George A. Parks, of the Territory of Alaska, to Postmaster General New yesterday at the Postoffice Department Building. It will be hung in the court of the building among State and Territorial flags of the Postoffice Department collection.

The flag was given by the Territorial government. Dr. C. E. Dunnell, president of the Alaskan Agricultural College and School of Mines at Fairbanks, Alaska; Delegate Dan A. Sutherland, of Juneau, Alaska; Gen. Wilds P. Richardson, retired, former president of the Alaskan road commission; E. K. Burlew, advisory assistant to the Secretary of the Interior; Charles E. Flory, Alaskan representative of the Department of Agriculture, and Maj. Malcolm Elliott, president of the Alaskan road commission, attended presentation ceremonies.

13-Year-Old Boy's Design.

Benny Benson, 13 years old, a pupil in the seventh grade of the Mission Territorial School near Seward, Alaska, designed the flag. He won a flag contest of the American Legion, Department of Alaska, held in Alaskan schools in 1927. The design was officially approved May 2, 1927.

The flag has eight gold stars in a field of blue. The legislative act of acceptance states that the stars represent the gold found in Alaska, and the blue symbolizes Alaskan evening skies, the sea, mountain lakes, and wild flowers of that color.

Seven of the stars form the constellation Ursa Major, or the Great Bear, which is the most conspicuous constellation in the northern sky.

Point to North Star.

This group, sometimes called the Dipper, includes the pointers which are in line with Polaris, the North Star, an infallible guide to Alaskan "sourdoughs." Secretary New's greeting to the presentation party was "Hello, sourdoughs."

The acceptance act prophesies that the North Star on the flag will be the forty-ninth star in the national emblem.

The addition of the Alaskan banner makes the Postoffice Department collection almost complete. It now contains flags of all States and Territories except Nevada and the Virgin Islands. Senator Tasker L. Oddie, of Nevada, has undertaken to procure the Nevada flag.

ALASKANS PRESENT FLAG TO POSTOFFICE COLLECTION

PRICE OF $6,782,000 PUT ON LEVIATHAN

Bid Is Included in Offers to Buy Government's Merchant Fleets.

IN U. S. OFFICIALS' HANDS

(Associated Press.)

A bid of $6,782,000 for the liner Leviathan appeared when the Shipping Board yesterday opened the offers for purchase of the United States Lines and the American Merchant Line.

Six bids were received for the Merchant Line, consisting of five ships, and one was received for the United States Lines, consisting of six. There were two offers for the two lines combined.

The P. W. Chapman Co., of New York, submitted a bid of $16,082,000 for the two lines combined. Their offer for the individual ships of these lines was: Leviathan, $6,782,000; the Republic, $1,000,000; the George Washington, $2,000,000; the America, $2,000,000; the President Harding, $1,000,000; the President Roosevelt, $1,000,000, and $460,000 for each of the five ships of the Merchant Line, American Trader, American Banker, American Merchant, American Farmer and American Shipper.

The bid contained a clause agreeing to operate the lines for a period of ten years.

Gibbs Bros., Inc., and J. H. Winchester, Inc., both of New York, combined to offer $10,000,000 for the two lines, except the President Harding and President Roosevelt, in place of which they offered $25,000 each for the ships Monticello and Mount Vernon, which they agreed to recondition at a cost of $250,000.

The J. H. Winchester Co. entered an individual bid of $605,000 each for the five ships of the Merchant Line with an agreement to operate the line for ten years.

The Dollar Steamship Co. offered $505,000 for each of the five vessels of the Merchant Line. The Roosevelt Steamship Co., of New York, bid $455,000 for each of the same five ships.

American Lines Offers $6,000,000.

The American Lines Steamship Co. offered $6,000,000 for the United States Lines, offering to construct or purchase two new vessels to add to them. The bid proposed to pay 25 per cent cash and the balance over a period of five years. The same company also bid $300,000 each for the ships of the American Merchant Line.

The American Export Lines, Inc., of New York, offered to pay $812,000 each for the President Harding and President Roosevelt.

The bids were turned over to the Merchant Fleet Corporation for study.

Reports Say Influenza Is Increasing in East

(Associated Press.)

Reports to the Public Health Service yesterday showed that influenza is still increasing in prevalence in New England and Eastern States, while the peak of the wave has been passed in West and West Central States.

Twenty-three States reported a total of 55,429 new cases for the week ended January 12, compared with 60,820 cases during the preceding week in the same territory. Public health officials said, however, that they could not determine whether prevalence for the country at large is decreasing until complete reports are received.

Christmas Cards Held As Narcotic Carriers

(Associated Press.)

A House committee was told by Representative Porter (Republican), Pennsylvania, that Christmas cards had to be barred from entering Federal prisons this year because they were found to be thick enough to conceal narcotic drugs between their surfaces.

Porter, author of a bill for a special institution for prisoners who are addicted to narcotics, declares that out of 7,895 inmates of Federal prisons last year, 1,559 were addicts.

LEVELING PROPOSED OF BUILDING WINGS

Sagging Noted on Munitions and Navy Structures on Filled Ground.

PLAN RELIEF FROM HEAT

More wings of the Navy and Munitions buildings, erected on filled ground, are settling, and work of leveling these will be among major projects of the building division, Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks, this year.

Leveling of a wing costs from $5,000 to $8,000, and $20,000 is left in an appropriation of $30,000 voted for this purpose by Congress. Several of the wings have been leveled. There are 17 on the two buildings.

Division officials hope to bring relief to workers on the second floors of these buildings in coming summer days, by equipping them with window awnings on the east and west sides. The upper floors of these temporary buildings become so heated during extremely warm weather that department and bureau heads have frequently dismissed employes from their work at 1 o'clock. The third floor windows have been equipped with awnings.

Two more boiler plants will replace two condemned ones in the courtyard of the State, War and Navy buildings. They will be oil-burning plants similar to those installed last year. The division expects to start immediate leveling of the flag stones about this building, many of which are sinking, in time to support the weight of crowds attending the inauguration. Eventually it is hoped to replace the flagstones with cement pavement.

EXTRA-SESSION CURB OPPOSED BY NEWTON

Insists Farm Relief Plans Include Development of Inland Waterways.

CITES HOOVER PROMISES

Disagreement between Republican House leaders has developed over the program announced by Speaker Longworth to limit the work of the extra session to stabilization of farm prices and the tariff. Plans call for the organizing of only four committees—rules, ways and means, accounts and agriculture.

The voice of discord was sounded yesterday by Representative Walter H. Newton, of Minneapolis, who insisted any well-rounded farm relief program should include inland waterway development.

Newton represents the Midwest sentiment which opposed the McNary-Haugen bill. He was chairman of the speakers' bureau in the Hoover campaign.

"Inland waterway development," he said, "is an essential part of any program for farm relief. It was promised by Mr. Hoover, who included the three means of meeting the Western farm situation—namely, stabilization of farm prices, inland waterway development and tariff legislation.

"For that reason I think there should be no restriction whatever on the work of Congress. All of the committees should be organized. The inland waterway development should be designed to meet the freight transportation which is one of the handicaps affecting the farming industry. It should include further development of the Mississippi and of the Illinois and Missouri River systems. It should have in mind the Great Lakes—St. Lawrence waterway systems—although, of course, this is a matter of diplomatic negotiation rather than of legislation at the present time."

Senator Reed (Republican), Pennsylvania, introduced bills providing for construction of bridges over the Monongahela River, one at Charleroi and the other at Fayette City.

HOUSE.

Met at noon and ajourned at 2:30 to noon today.

Passed the $448,000,000 War Department appropriation bill.

Representative Porter (Republican), Pennsylvania, declared that Christmas cards had to be barred from Federal prisons because they were found to be thick enough to conceal drugs between their surfaces.

Passed the La Guardia bill to provide for the appointment of three judges of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York.

Representatives of the manufacturers of steel and wood produts appeared before the ways and mans committee to ask for protection in the new tariff law.

Airway Radio System Planned as Flying Aid

Another step toward greater safety in cross-country flying was taken yesterday at a conference of air transport operators and communications engineers in the Carlton Hotel. They laid plans for a network of airway radio communication stations over the country.

Air mail and air transport companies will establish the system on a cooperative basis to maintain contact between airplanes and the ground and to handle other matters not included in Federal services. Ninety-five per cent of the commercial air transport mileage in the United States was represented at the conference. Herbert Hoover, jr., was a delegate.

Summer White House In Pennsylvania Urged

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—President Coolidge was urged to consider the Blue Ridge Mountain section of southern Pennsylvania as a site for a summer White House in a resolution adopted today by the State house of representatives.

Arizona to Fight Boulder Dam Plan

U. S. Supreme Court Suit Is Authorized by State's River Commission.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Arizona's Colorado River Commission today authorized the filing of a suit in the United States Supreme Court in an attempt to prevent construction of the Boulder Dam as contemplated in the Swing-Johnson bill enacted by Congress.

The commission authorized the "immediate employment of eminent counsel" and its chairman, Mulford Winsor, said an effort would be made to file the suit immediately.

The action was regarded as a climax to Arizona's long standing opposition to the construction of the dam as provided in the Swing-Johnson bill, on the ground that Southern California would be allocated waters from the Colorado River rightfully belonging to Arizona.

Pacific Battle Fleet Begins Winter Cruise

San Pedro, Calif., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The winter cruise of the United States battle fleet of the Pacific Coast swung under way here this morning, when nine battleships and the airplane carrier, U. S. S. Saratoga, weighed anchor for Balboa, Panama Canal.

The last man of war, the U. S. S. Maryland, cleared the harbor breakwater shortly before 10 o'clock.

FRIEND SAYS YOUTH ADMITTED HOLDUP

Student Described Shooting Atlanta Store Manager, J. B. Wright Testifies.

"THRILL" STORY OMITTED

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—A speedy selection of a jury to hear charges that George Harsh shot and killed Willard Smith, a drug store manager, while in the act of robbery, marked the opening today of the trial of the scion of a wealthy Milwaukee family, who formerly was a student in Oglethorpe University here.

Despite widespread publicity given the case, only half a day was required to obtain twelve acceptable jurors from a panel of 250 in the Fulton County Superior Court of Judge E. B. Thomas.

Solicitor General John A. Boykin made a brief statement in which he said the State would show that Harsh and Richard G. Gallogly, member of a wealthy Atlanta family, went to the drug store managed by Smith and that Harsh shot and killed Smith after demanding money. The prosecutor made no mention of an alleged confession signed by Harsh to the effect that he robbed and killed for "a thrill."

The State then plunged into its case, calling as witnesses doctors, nurses, students and other acquaintances of the prisoner, who sat apparently unconcerned except for occasional talks with his mother and relatives.

Victim's Words Barred.

From the outset, testimony was marked by frequent and oftentimes successful objections from the defense. Once statements made by the fatally wounded drug store manager to an interne, Dr. O. Artiago, were barred in the absence of testimony as to how he was wounded.

Dr. Julian Riley testified he went to the apartment of John B. Wright the night of October 16, the night Smith was shot, to attend Harsh.

Morgan Sutton, a student, to whose home Harsh first was taken with a bullet wound which the State contends was inflicted by Smith, who resisted when his store was held up, told of efforts to take Harsh to a hospital and of a trip with Dick Gallogly, Jack Mahoney, another student, and Harsh to Wright's apartment.

Wright testified Harsh explained that he had been shot in a drug store which an unidentified companion had suggested for a holdup. Wright said the Milwaukee youth told him he shot the manager of the drug store when he did not comply with an order to hold up his hands.

Stained Clothes Identified.

Wright had identified himself as a friend of the Harsh family in Milwaukee and as a finance executive for an Atlanta firm. He identified a suit and blood-stained underwear as the property of Harsh and said the youth had been brought to his apartment by a boy named Sutton, Mahoney and a boy "they called Dick, whom I judged to be Gallogly."

Part of the day, during selection of a jury, Mrs. George Harsh, the prisoner's mother, sat with her daughter, Mrs. J. S. Disosway, and her son, William, of Milwaukee. Disosway aided the defense attorneys in jury selection.

Mrs. Harsh choked several times when the State droned out its challenges to jurors on the death penalty, but she kept back tears.

Woman Loses $100,000 Suit Against Physician

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Jan. 15.—There will be no $100,000 balm to anoint the broken heart of Miss Edna Fields, 31-year-old cloak model, formerly of Kansas City. A jury in supreme court today decided against her in her breach of promise suit against Dr. Max S. Rhode, owner of the Lexington Hospital.

"A just verdict," commented Justice Wasservogel.

The woman testified Dr. Rhode fell in love with her after operating upon her for appendicitis. After Dr. Rhode removed her tonsils his love cooled, she said. He denied her assertions.

Rome and Vatican Scan Wedding Plan of Boris

Sofia, Bulgaria, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Bishop Stefan, of Sofia, one of the closest friends of King Boris, left for Rome today, and it is believed that his purpose is to sound out the Vatican and the Italian government on whether they are disposed to allow Princess Giovanna to marry into the Bulgarian orthodox church as the wife of Boris.

It is understood that the Pope would be willing to give pontifical sanction of the marriage, provided the children are brought up in the Roman Catholic Church.

Kansas City Boxer Dies After 2-Round Knockout

Pittsburg, Kans., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Frankie Civella, bantamweight boxer of Kansas City, died here today as the result of a knockout in his bout with Steve Salina, Pittsburg, last night. Civella was floored three times in the second round by blows to the chin. The last time he fell through the ropes and was counted out. He died without regaining consciousness.

Physicians said he suffered concussion of the brain.

PROPER PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES NOW CONTROL EPIDEMIC

Health officials in the many sections of the country suffering from influenza have done much toward curbing its spread. Common sense advice has been published broadly and followed by the public in general. This advice of these officials deserves the attention of everyone.

Avoid crowds whenever possible. Keep away from all who are sneezing and sniffing. If you seem to be catching a cold, consult your physician immediately. Exercise regularly, in the open air when possible. Eat only wholesome food. Drink plenty of water. Get a full night's sleep. Such precautions are what tend to maintain the greatest bodily resistance to disease.

With the influenza prevalent many consider Vapex a special blessing. Many have formed the worth-while habit of putting a drop on a folded handkerchief every morning. The odor of the vapor is very pleasant and refreshing. It may be inhaled frequently during the day. There is no bother or dosing to Vapex. It is the modern way to stop a cold at the start. Get Vapex from your druggist—in the little square dollar bottle, containing 50 applications, and the package with the green triangle.

APACHE KIDNAPERS' TRAILERS ARE SAFE

Searcher Reports Party, Increased to 15, in Need of Supplies in Hills.

DETERMINED TO PUSH ON

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Word of the safety of the punitive expeditionary force which nearly two weeks ago went into the Sierra Madre Mountains with orders to wipe out a marauding band of Apache Indians, was received here late last night.

The report was brought to the border by Jesus Valdez, who was commissioned to search for the party after fears had arisen here that they had been massacred. Valdez, returning from a successful search, declared that the party of twelve men had been increased to fifteen and that it was in need of supplies.

Valdez, who made the search under orders from Rogerio Loreta, presidente municipal of Agua Prieta, Sonora, reported that the party had encountered severe hardships in the form of snow and cold weather but that it was determined to push on and cary out its mission.

The party is headed by Francisco Fimbres, who hopes to wipe out the band of Apaches who two years ago killed Mrs. Fimbres and kidnaped her young son. Since then, from their rocky retreat, the marauding Indians frequently have raided Sonora ranches in the Bavispe River Valley. Gov Fausto Topette of Sonora commissioned Fimbres to lead the expedition.

Lack of word from Fimbres in the last few days led to the expression of fears as to the outcome of their venture. Border line cowboys were gathered here in preparation to march to the aid of the force, and a cavalry regiment was held in readiness for action by Mexican authorities.

Presidente Loreta last night was prevailed upon to delay his plans of dispatching an additional force until the severe weather moderates. The mountain trails, which rise to an elevation of nearly 10,000 feet before reaching the ravines where the Apaches live in caves, were described as being at present almost impassible.

PREACHER-SLEUTH'S CASE NEARING JURY

Arguments Begin Today in Trial of Man Accused of Death of Beauty Specialist.

SAYS TWO TOOK HER AWAY

Elkhart, Ind., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Prosecution and defense rested this afternoon in the trial of Harvey L. Smith, former detective and preacher, charged with the murder of Mrs. Genevieve Stults, beauty parlor proprietor. Court was adjourned until 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, when arguments will begin. The defense rested at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Only a few more witnesses in rebuttal were used.

The last witnesses for the defense were Thomas Smith, of Hagerstown, Md., father of the defendant, and Mercedes Smith, wife of the defendant. The witnesses were questioned only as to dates and facts concerning Smith's life. Smith earlier had faced two hours and a half of cross-examination.

James L. Harman, prosecuting attorney, questioned him closely on details of the story he had told to establish an alibi.

Smith stuck to the story that when he last saw Mrs Stults she was in the hands of two strangers, to whom he had paid over $50 with instructions to get her "out of town." Smith has declared he was employed by Mrs. Janie Reyher, of South Bend, to break up an affair between her husband, Charles Reyher, and the beauty specialist.

Smith denied charges made earlier in the trial that he took Mrs. Stults to the spot where she was killed, but that the actual slaying was done by Jack Kimball. The latter is a brother of Mrs. Reyher and is said to have known all the details of the plot entered into by Mrs. Reyher and Smith to scare Mrs. Stults.

Smith absolved Kimball from actual participation in the taking away of Mrs. Stults This was done, Smith testified, by two strangers whom he hired to do the job, turning over to them $50 which Mrs. Rehyer had paid him.

Proctor asked Smith only a few questions and then turned him over to the State. Attorney James L. Harman, who conducted the cross-examination, quizzed Smith as to his early life and particularly his activities several years ago as a prohibition agent in Maryland. Smith yesterday said he had served as such, but today he was hazy as to details and gave no dates regarding his dry activities.

Crash Kills Two Fliers As Motor Goes Dead

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—H. W. ("Marty") O'Toole, of the Southwest Air Service Agency, and Melvin Smith, of the Fifty-seventh Aviation School group, Kelly Field, Tex., were killed late this afternoon when their plane went into a nose dive and crashed from an altitude of 700 feet near here.

Smith had been detailed to the municipal airport here to service Army airplanes and he and O'Toole had gone aloft. The motor of their plane apparently failed.

Liquor Case Witness Wounded by Gunman

Pittsburgh, Jan 15 (A.P.).—Peter Bubanovitch, 33, who was to have testified today before a Federal grand jury investigating an alleged liquor conspiracy here, was shot and seriously wounded outside his home here early today by a gunman, who escaped in an automobile with a woman.

Bubanovich, a saloonkeeper, had $300 in his pockets, but his assailant made no attempt at robbery.

Living Status Restored To Man Pronounced Dead

Coroner's Jury in Montana Reverses Verdict Regarding Bones Found in Ruins of Burned Cabin When Husband of Owner Reappears.

Big Timber, Mont., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—James Claud Price, barber-salesman, has been legally restored to status of the living by the verdict of a coroner's jury that bones, identified and buried last month, as those of Price, were the skeleton of an unknown person who met death by unknown means.

The same jury, on December 24, declared Price dead, the victim of a fire in a cabin on a homestead formerly owned by Price's wife.

With the finding of the human bones in the ruins and the simultaneous disappearance of Price, it was accepted that he had perished.

Price, however, turned up in Salt Lake City recently with a story that he had been abducted and held captive for nineteen days. He denied any knowledge of the fire. He carried $10,000 life insurance and $4,000 of this amount which had been paid his wife has been returned by her.

Although officials have doubted Price's story of having been kidnaped, no action has been taken against him He reported that one of his captors said: "So far as you're concerned, you are dead and we'll get part of that insurance."

Mine Blasts Burn And Injure 11 Men

Seven of Exploring Party Are Caught in Second of Explosions.

Rivesville, W. Va., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Eleven men were injured and nine escaped unhurt late today when two explosions occurred in the Sands mine of the Continental Coal Co. here. Ten men were burned, while one was injured when caught under a fall of slate.

The explosions occurred at a time when some 200 miners were leaving the workings at the end of their day's work. The explosions started a fire, the extent of which was undetermined and fire squads were sent in to combat it.

Those burned included James Christopher, superintendent of the mine who went underground with nine other following the first blast to learn the extent of the damage. They were burned by the second blast. Seven were taken to a hospital, among them Christopher. Three were treated at the mine.

Brother of Rothstein's Girl Legatee Missing

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—A brother of Inez Norton, former Jacksonville girl, who was a beneficiary under the will of Arnold Rothstein, slain New York gambler, has been missing five days, according to police here.

The brother, S. L. Smith, employe of a motor car company, was sent last Saturday in a new car to Miami. The car was found wrecked near Pompano.

POLICE SAY CASHIER CONFESSED HOLDUP

$14,346 LOOT OF THIEVES

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Prosecutor J. Vincent Barnitt announced today that Arthur L. Cruikshanks, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Hawthorne, had confessed that he engineered the plot which resulted in the robbery of $14,346 from the bank last Thursday.

Cruikshanks involved four other men in his confession, the prosecutor said. These included the two men who held up the bank, the driver of the automobile in which the robbers escaped and a man to whom Cruikshanks first broached his plans.

Carmine Cressante, 28 years old, of Athenia, who is charged with assaulting Howard Hausman, night watchman at the bank, is in jail. His companion, whose name was not divulged, is at large, as is the driver of their automobile.

The fourth man named was Daniel Burgess Hart, 48, of Passaic. The prosecutor said he plotted with Cruikshanks, but did not reveal his connection with the robbery otherwise.

RCA Radiola 41—Cabinet receiver (tuned-radio-frequency) with RCA Electro-Dynamic Speaker. A.C. electric operation from house current. Walnut finish. $215 (less Radiotrons)

Any RCA Radiola Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the "41" in your home. Purchase may be made on the convenient RCA Time Payment Plan.

with the newest RCA Electro-Dynamic Speaker for only $215

Radiola 41 has been designed to meet the demand for a medium-priced "all-electric" cabinet Radiola, equipped with the RCA Electro-Dynamic reproducer.

It employs the long-tested and very popular tuned-radio-frequency circuit, exclusively used by many radio manufacturers in their finest instruments. This circuit ranks second only to the RCA Super-Heterodyne in the estimation of radio engineers.

Radiola 41—with its simplified operation from the house current, and its amazing fidelity of reproduction of broadcast programs—will give thousands of hours of enjoyment.

When selecting a new radio set for the home, it's worth getting one that embodies all the world's knowledge of the radio art —and it pays to buy a genuine RCA Radiola.

A CLOG ON THE TREATY.

The Senate could not refrain from muddying the waters in voting to approve the Kellogg treaty. Many senators insisted upon some expression by the Senate beyond formal approval of the treaty. This expression takes the form of a report from the committee on foreign relations, giving its "understanding" of the treaty. The temptation to indulge in language was irresistible—and the language used in the committee's report, attempting to set forth the "true interpretation" of the Monroe Doctrine, is a reproach to the statesmanship of this age.

If the Senate committee is right in its interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, then a long line of American statesmen—John Quincy Adams down to President Coolidge—have been wrong. The Senate committee leaves out of its interpretation some of the vital essence of the Monroe Doctrine as interpreted by Presidents, Secretaries of State and the Senate itself, and embedded in American policy.

No one has ever succeeded in putting the Monroe Doctrine in writing, and he never will. Every attempt to do so has been a failure; and when the attempt has been made with some show of authority, as by the Senate, it has worked to the disadvantage of the United States. The present "true interpretation" will rise up to plague its authors. The country will be fortunate if the result is no worse.

The committee winds up by stating that its report is made solely for the purpose of putting upon record what the committee understands to be the true interpretation of the treaty, and not for the purpose of modifying or changing the treaty or effectuating a reservation to it. Fortunately the committee's interpretation of the treaty is not a distorted and fragmentary piece of work like its interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine; but the injection of a mutilated portion of the Monroe Doctrine into its understanding of the treaty tends to destroy the value of its interpretation of the treaty itself.

Many senators scoffed at the treaty and then voted for it. The pressure that resulted in the preposterous report of the committee was based upon the acknowledged inability of many senators to understand the treaty. Only a few senators revealed that they understood the treaty. One of the clear voices was that of Senator Walsh, of Montana, who ably cooperated with Senator Borah in interpreting the nature and effect of the pact.

The Kellogg treaty goes forth to other nations with a clog upon it in the nature of a confused, misleading and mischievous "interpretation" by the Senate committee. But the treaty is not modified, and no reservations are attached. The Senate, in spite of its inability to understand what it was doing, managed to do the right thing. Now, if foreign governments will bear in mind that they have legalists and hairsplitters in their own ratifying authorities, and will make full allowance for the cloud of ignorance that overwhelmed the United States Senate in considering this pact, they can go ahead with ratification without paying any attention to the Senate committee's "understanding."

FIRE PROTECTION.

Several citizens' associations have passed resolutions calling for an investigation as to the necessity of sending all District fire apparatus to the F street fire last Saturday morning. Such resolutions are unwarranted. Matters of fire department administration demand expert attention. Amateurs have no knowledge of what modern fire fighting means, and they should not take such action as might lessen the effectiveness, morale or efficiency of the Fire Department. The resolutions were suggested because of an idea that dispatch of all apparatus to F street "left the rest of the city unprotected."

At no time during the conflagration of Saturday morning was the rest of the city left unprotected. Of recent years the Fire Department has been welding the surburban fire departments of the metropolitan area into an efficient reserve force. At one time there was no uniformity of practice or equipment. Today, however, the suburban apparatus has been standardized and it can be connected with local fire hydrants so as to function efficiently within the District. When serious conflagrations occur the suburban apparatus moves in to key stations vacated by local companies, in each of which there is left a skeleton crew of Washington firemen to attend to any alarms that may be turned in, and to guide the visiting force to the scene of action. Last week a contingent from Baltimore aided in manning outlying stations.

Washington should be proud of the efficient reserve system that has been built up of the suburban companies. The Fire Department should consistently carry forward the reserve idea. Now that the Fire Department training school has been furnished with a modern drill tower it would be an excellent idea to arrange to lend it occasionally to suburban firemen, so that they could be taught by District drill masters at least the fundamentals of modern fire fighting practice.

MR. HOOVER'S WEST INDIAN TRIP.

President-elect Hoover is prolonging his stay in Washington. His conferences are of vital importance, but it would be unfortunate if he should be kept here so long as to be unable to visit the West Indies before his inauguration. Mr. Hoover will soon go to Florida, and it would be convenient to visit the islands from there before March 4. If the trip should be postponed until after he has assumed office it will be a much more difficult matter.

There are a number of problems growing out of the relation of the United States to the islands of the West Indies group that will come to the attention of the new President. He would do well to have a personal knowledge of conditions in Cuba, Haiti, Santo Domingo, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands. The United States has closer ties with these peoples than with any part of South or Central America, except the Canal Zone.

All of the islands of this group are under the protection and tutorship of the United States. The Government is endeavoring to help them attain a degree of stability that will enable them to conduct their own affairs. This is a difficult task, calling for skill and expert knowledge of the varying conditions in the different islands. The welfare of Cuba during the next four years will be largely in the keeping of President Hoover. Haiti is occupied by the United States under treaty and is dependent on Washington for the stability of its government. The country is particularly in need of attention because of the hurricane disaster last fall. Large sums are needed for reconstruction, for which the Haitians can only look to the United States.

Santo Domingo was formerly occupied by the United States and this Government is still administering its customs. The republic is able to keep its financial structure on a sound basis only through the assistance given by Washington.

The fact that Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands are possessions of the United States does not mean that there are no serious problems involved in their administration. The Government aims to prepare these peoples for autonomy. The virtual dictatorship in the Virgin Islands, under a retired naval officer, should in time be replaced by home rule. The progress that is made toward this end will depend largely on how the present administrations are conducted. It would be most beneficial for Mr. Hoover to make a personal inspection of conditions. His proposed visit should be of signal value to this Government as well as to the Caribbean Islands.

FEDERAL PAY ADJUSTMENT.

President Coolidge is opposed to further pay increases for Federal workers. He let this be known in no uncertain terms yesterday. He is not opposed, however, to the correcting of injustices that may have arisen under the administration of the pay-raise legislation enacted during the last session. Two proposals, each purporting to clarify that legislation, now are before Congress. Controversy as to which is the better measure has arisen, and there is a possibility that, as a result of the conflicting claims in behalf of each plan, action looking toward the correction of the injustices may not be obtained before the adjournment.

Congress has several simple questions to answer. Which of the measures—one presented by Representative Lehlbach and one sponsored by Senator Brookhart—best clarifies the intent of Congress as registered in the Welch pay-raise bill enacted last session? That is the measure that should be passed. Does either measure seek to increase salaries above the figure Congress had in mind when it enacted the Welch bill? If so, that measure should be dropped, in view of Mr. Coolidge's opposition.

When the Welch bill was enacted it was not held out to Government workers as offering the salary structure to which, in justice, they are entitled. It was enacted as emergency legislation, pure and simple, designed to afford temporary relief until such time as the Government could undertake to provide a scientifically conceived pay structure and when the Treasury would be in a position to assume the considerable additional financial burden that a fair pay-scale would entail. The need for revision of the entire pay structure is as great today, but the same obstacles stand in the way.

The Welch act, as it was interpreted, clearly discriminated against certain groups of employes. It is a moral duty of the present Congress to right the inequalities. Legislation enacted before adjournment can do no more than clarify the earlier act. All Congress has to do is decide which bill fulfills this function or, if neither is appropriate, to draft and enact a law that will secure for all groups the relief Congress had in mind when it enacted the Welch bill.

CHAOTIC TAX LAWS.

State legislatures in all parts of the United States are dealing with taxation in their current sessions. Because forms of wealth have undergone vast changes since most State tax legislation was enacted and because there is a general tendency on the part of State governments to increase the tax burden the subject is one of foremost importance.

The general property tax, as a rule, is the basis of State revenues. This means of raising revenue long ago proved inadequate and most of the States have attempted to remedy the situation by adding miscellaneous taxes. The result is a confused jumble of antiquated provisions which can not be applied with any degree of justice or efficiency.

The Maryland tax commission has reported to the legislature that the tax laws of that State are in "the most execrable confusion of form." They found statutes in such a state that no one but a trained lawyer could possibly conjecture from reading them what the law is. The taxation officials have been forced to build up a "kind of customary law which is not reflected on the statute books," the commission found. They justly applied the words "inconsistent, obsolete, antiquated, ambiguous, redundant and unintelligible" to such a system.

Need for tax revision is indicated by the fact that tax collections have increased from 6.4 per cent of the national income in 1913 to almost 12 per cent in 1927. The Nation's tax bill has increased steadily since 1923, and during the fiscal year 1927 the Federal, State and local governments collected a total of $9,074,000,000. This is said to be the greatest total of taxes collected in one country during one year in the history of the world. Since Federal levies have shown an almost steady decline the increased burden must be laid at the doors of State and local governments.

Increased expenses of the States make tax reduction exceedingly difficult, but there is no excuse for perpetuating the inequalities of tax laws. The extent to which these inequalities have grown is seen in the collection of $860,000 from three local surety companies in Maryland for accounts of shareholders. The tax commission found that had those companies incorporated elsewhere their taxes would have been but $210,000. In some of the agricultural States the farmer still pays much too large a share of the tax bill, while holders of bonds and intangible wealth escape with but inconsequential levies. Readjustment is made difficult because those interests which are only lightly taxed are always ready to fight. Too many legislatures have been willing to make minor adjustments or call for codification of the tax laws as a panacea.

Taxation is an intricate subject and should have the study of experts. Maryland, New York and other States, which are trying to solve their tax problems through special commissions, are to be congratulated. In this method other State legislatures will likely find the most practical solution.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THE KITCHEN SINK.

The kitchen sink is to have its face lifted, its bad lines eradicated and its general ugliness removed. The Art Alliance of America is sponsoring a prize contest for designs to beautify it to a point where even washing the dishes will have an artistic appeal.

The kitchen sink has had something like this coming to it. It has been a neglected institution. The art movement has up to this time passed it by. It has always been just a drab, cheerless corner where the dishes were done, the spinach washed, the beans drained and the oranges squeezed.

Nobody ever loved a kitchen sink.
It hasn't even had common respect.
As the poet said:

A sink beside the kitchen door—
A kitchen sink and nothing more.

There have been songs about the pantry, the cupboard, the fireplace, the living room and the attic, but nobody was ever moved to music by a kitchen sink.

But at last it is to have its place in the world of streamliness, rhythm and color. The time may be at hand when the kitchen sink, full of dishes or not, may even be pointed to with pride.

The kitchen sink of the future probably won't look like a kitchen sink at all. Home beautifiers declare there is no excuse for its orthodox shape and commonplace appearance. The demand of the art world is for a sink that will look like a radiola, a five-foot bookcase or even a bridge table.

It should resemble a sink only when the dishes are being washed or the strawberries cleaned.

One artist is at work on a design for a combination sink and phonograph. Dishes will have music on one side. The sink will not only wash the dishes but play them.

There is no telling where the idea will stop. Even the kitchen towel may feel the art influence.

Watch for these slogans in the sink advertisement:

"Your social position demands a kitchen sink of distinction."

"Wash the dishes in an atmosphere of refinement and beauty."

"He never knew why she turned away. She looked into his kitchen and saw an old-fashioned sink."

Sounds Logical.

The American Beverage Corporation has been introduced on the stock exchange and what Mr. Twitchell wants to know is whether there is any possibility of a merger with United States Industrial Alcohol?

Aftermath.

The motor show has come and passed—
Gone are the throngs in brilliant raiment;
The car's been chosen; now it's just
A question of how much per payment?

PRESS COMMENT.

Who's He?

Detroit News: That What-Ever-Became of So-and-So editor has been asked to look for Gene Tunney.

New Royalty.

Indianapolis Star: Royalty is on the decline in Europe, but it has an amazing growth among the Chicago beer kings.

Too Fast.

Atlanta Constitution: Air mail traveling three and a half miles a minute is altogether too fast, especially along the first of the month.

Test of Tests.

San Francisco Chronicle: The final test of will power is to refrain from putting on imaginary brakes when somebody else is driving.

Job With a Future.

Detroit News: Being a prohibition director is a good thing, because it gives you the experience necessary to win $25,000 prizes for prohibition enforcement plans, after you resign.

Or a Sip of Corn.

Philadelphia Record: Astronomers find that between the moon's temperature during an eclipse and at normal times there is a variation of 724 degrees. Then the inhabitants, if any, know what an attack of grip feels like.

No More Hobos?

Louisville Courier Journal: The genus hobo of the old style, who begged his food at back doors and traveled in "side-door palace cars," is practically extinct, the Missouri Pacific Line Magazine relates. Another victim of the motor craze, no doubt.

An American Job.

Philadelphia Inquirer: Reports from Ottawa state that the Canadian government has remained "cold" to our proposal that it establish a new form of ship clearance which would make it more difficult for Canadian ships to carry liquor cargoes, and suggests that we "tighten our laws to control border rum-runners." In other words, Canada shows no disposition to take an active hand in the enforcement of American prohibition. Perhaps it considers it none of its business.

Juvenile Criminals.

New Orleans Times Picayune: The Ohio State Bureau of Juvenile Research worked out that the upper half of the juvenile class, during a given period, had gotten away (temporarily at least) with $158,000, while the morons had managed to steal only $860. During the same time the normally bright had stolen 98 automobiles and the feeble-minded but 1 car. The conclusion from the study was that, given the proper surroundings, the mentally alert will "go bolshevik" as quickly as the dull or half-wit.

Fruitless Talk.

Philadelphia Inquirer: Is it surprising that parliamentary government has been discredited in so many countries in Europe? The United States, to be sure, is in no danger of turning to a dictatorship for relief. But the present procrastination of the Senate in two matters of prime national importance makes one almost wish that some stern measures could be taken to bring it to its senses. The Kellogg treaty and the Navy bill both call for immediate action. Both will no doubt be passed when they come to a vote; and yet the fruitless talk goes on and on.

Social Crisis.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: "The caliber of bootleggers is becoming lower and lower," commented Federal Judge Wham last week in sentencing an East St. Louisan for violation of the liquor laws. "When the prohibition law was passed a great many otherwise good people violated it. But I notice the caliber of bootleggers has been going steadily downward until now they are a very low class."

Since this has been called to our attention we have been trying to devise means of improving the social status of our bootleggers. There is no use dodging the issue by saying that they are a passing class. They are here to stay, since they are the creatures of prohibition. And if any one doubts that the latter is booked for a long stay let him look at the dwindling bloc of wets in Congress.

Society must accept the bootlegger, and by society we mean the bridle and hunt club people, the horse show group, the Hispana-Suiza folks. Society must permit the bootlegger and the bootlegger's wife and daughter to enter by the front door instead of sliding in the back way with their hats on. The plight of the bootlegger, we fancy, is the result of a dreadful inferiority complex, and the socially prominent should let down the bars a bit and help correct it. Otherwise, the race of bootleggers may die out. And then what would become of society?

Bring On the Experts.

Rochester Democrat and Chronicle: A Harvard professor has a scheme for X-raying the earth to find what is in it and what can be done about it. That's all right, but there ought to be a consultation before they begin any major operations.

Crime Breeders.

Richmond Times Dispatch: Commenting on New York's drive against "speakeasies which breed crime," Mr Twitchell says they all breed crime. "I am moved to commit murder every time I take two drinks and the bartender gives me back $3 out of a $5 bill."

One Bite, Forgive Him; Two Bites, Watch Him; Three Bites, Muzzle Him.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

In Michigan a woman is serving a life sentence for selling whisky.

In Florida a man is serving a life sentence for stealing an automobile.

That is one way of saying it—the easy, obvious way. But it doesn't tell the truth.

The truth is, the man and the woman have been doomed to spend their lives behind prison walls because they were rebels against society.

They were habitual criminals. They refused to play the game according to the rules. Time after time they were penalized and given opportunity to regain standing as good citizens, and time after time they returned to open rebellion.

It was the woman's fourth conviction for selling whisky; the man's third conviction for stealing automobiles.

What can you do with such people? They know right from wrong. They know the law. If they are fined or given a short sentence in jail, they will return to crime at the first opportunity.

The business of law is to protect society. Does it protect society when it punishes a criminal and then turns him loose to prey again?

The modern and humane theory is that punishment is justified only in so far as the fear of it prevents crime. The least punishment that will prevent crime and protect society is the best punishment.

But when all punishments fail, the law's duty to society is clear and obvious. It must confine the offender who will neither repent nor reform.

A lifetime in a cage for selling a bottle of whisky or stealing a cheap car! How brutal it seems!

But the innocent deserve first consideration. Laws are made for them. It is neither merciful nor sensible to free the wolf from a trap and turn it loose among sheep.

You give your son the privilege of using the car, with the understanding that he will obey traffic rules. He breaks the rules and you pay his fine. You forgive him and trust him again, and again he breaks the rules and is fined.

Will you trust him times without number, until you are bankrupt, or will you protect yourself by withdrawing the privilege he so brazenly abuses?

A muzzle tortures a dog, but what choice have you if the dog bites?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

What Then?

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: If the Senate amends or adds any explanations to the Kellogg pact will not that automatically set it aside until the other signatory powers again accept it? Are we to go through all that bother again? Suppose the other powers do not accept the amendments or agree to the explanations, what then?

INQUIRER.

Smoky Washington.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Can nothing be done to abate the smoky nuisance which is beginning to make downtown Washington look like another Chicago or Pittsburgh and which is undoubtedly an element in bringing about flu conditions?

Apartment house owners and managers seem to be the chief offenders, and they are extremely shortsighted to burn the wretched grade of soft coal which many of them use under a mistaken idea of economy. The resulting soot and smudge will cost them far more in the long run in painting, cleaning and decorating than they save in coal bills, so that they are injuring their own property as well as their neighbors.

THERESA RUSSELL.

Wreck of the Memphis.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The wreck of the U. S. S. Memphis is an eyesore in the most prominent part of the water front of Santo Domingo City. It is hideous in its nakedness, stripped of every removable part, with masts and funnels standing, and its hulk beaten and pounded against the rocks.

During the occupation by the Marine Corps of Santo Domingo in 1922, the Navy Department sold the wreck for a nominal sum, reported at the time to be $3,000, to a firm of Denver junk dealers, and one of the conditions of the sale was that the purchaser was obligated to dismantle the wreck after he had finished removing the valuable brass and copper parts and fittings. That part of the contract was carried out to the letter and tons of the stuff were shipped north, but nothing resulted toward removing the wreck. This might be done under proper supervision by the use of dynamite. It was my understanding that there was a failure to put a clause with teeth in it which would require a fulfillment of the other and unattractive part of the contract.

The Navy Department gave out the statement: "The wreck now belongs to a private concern," and that "it would also need action by Congress as the work involved would require a great outlay of money."

It is a shame that this melancholy wreck is permitted to disfigure the Harbor of Santo Domingo.

Santo Domingo, R. D., Jan. 7.

HEAT, RAIN AND WIND.

There are many questions as to the highest and lowest temperatures ever registered in the United States or elsewhere, the places having the greatest and least rainfall, the strongest winds ever observed, and so on. Statistics on such subjects necessarily vary somewhat from year to year, says Popular Mechanics. Several places, for instance, have successively held the blue ribbon for hot weather. For many years this distinction was enjoyed by Wargla, a town in the Algerian Sahara. Then, in 1913, Death Valley, Calif., established a new world record, with a reading of 134 degrees. This held good until 1922, when it was surpassed by 2 degrees at the village of Azizia, in the Italian Sahara. The low-temperature record has been held since 1892 by Verkhoyansk, Siberia, close to the Arctic Circle, with an official reading of 90 degrees below zero.

The rainiest known place in the United States is Glenora, Tillamook County, Oreg., where the rainfall averages 131½ inches a year, and the driest is Death Valley, where it averages a little over 1½ inches a year. Whether the heaviest snowfall of the United States occurs in the high Sierra of California or on the upper slopes of Mount Rainier, Wash., is an unsettled question.

Chicago's nickname, "the Windy City," raises the question whether the city is actually windier than others. The answer is that the wind measurements in Chicago show a high average than in any othe large city of the United States (only slightly higher than in New York), but are surpassed at many smaller towns on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. The strongest wind ever measured in this country was nominally 186 miles an hour, registered on the summit of Mount Washington, N. H., January 11, 1878, but certain necessary corrections reduce this figure to about 140 miles an hour. Far stronger winds occur in tornadoes, but they have never been measured.

RODIN MASTERPIECE.

The most ambitious undertaking of the great sculptor, Auguste Rodin, which he did not live to see in finished form, has at last been assembled and cast at Paris, says the Pathfinder. "The Gates of Hell," inspired by Dante's poem, was labored on for 25 years by the great artist, and now in its complete form it is considered his masterpiece. The group contains the reproduction of some of the artist's best known works, "The Thinker," "The Fall of Icarus," "Shadows," "The Centaurs" and others. For years the jumble of pieces intended for the work was very puzzling, but they were finally sorted out by M. Rudier, a noted founder. The complete work of fifteen separate pieces stands 24 feet high and is 16 feet square. It weighs 14,000 pounds without the frame on which it rests. Great crowds flocked to see the masterpiece, and the Japanese and Austrian governments immediately gave orders for duplicates—orders it will take years to fill.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES

THE President and Mrs. Coolidge were the guests in whose honor the Postmaster General and Mrs. Harry S. New entertained at dinner last evening. The other guests were Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Merritte Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. John T. McCutcheon, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Gates, of Dayton, Ohio, and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Russell, of New York.

The British Ambassador and Lady Isabella Howard entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of the Duchess di Sermoneta, sister of Prince Caetani, former Italian Ambassador to the United States. Their guests were the French Ambassador and Mme. Claudel, Princess Margaret Boncompagni, the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Andrew W. Mellon; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Laughlin, Mrs. Peter Augustus Jay, Miss Mabel Boardman, Miss Gytha Stourton, Mr. David Edward Finley, Mr. Cleveland Perkins, Mr. Edmond Howard and Mr. Henry Howard.

The British Ambassador and Lady Isabella Howard last night headed the unusually large number of diplomats who, accompanied by their families and, in some cases, members of their staffs attended the International Assembly ball in the Willard.

Occupying boxes with their guests, in addition to the dean of the Diplomatic Corps and his family, were the Ambassador of France and Mme. Claudel, the Ambassador of Japan and Mme. Debuchi, the Ambassador of Cuba and Senora de Ferrara, the Ambassador of Belgium and Princess Albert de Ligne, the Minister of Sweden and Mme. Bostrom and members of the Spanish Embassy, while many other diplomats were among the various box parties.

The Chilean Ambassador, Senor Carlos G. Davila, is passing several days at the Ritz-Carlton, New York.

The German Ambassador and Frau von Prittwitz und Gaffron were the guests in whose honor Representative and Mrs. Sol Bloom entertained at dinner last evening. The guests were the Minister of Norway and Mme. Bachke, the Minister of Czechoslovakia and Mme. Ververka, Senator and Mrs. Royal Copeland, Senator David I. Walsh, Representative and Mrs. John Q. Tilson, Representative Platt Andrew, the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr, Mrs. James Carroll Frazer and Miss Vera Bloom.

The German Ambassador and Frau von Prittwitz und Gaffron are the guests in whose honor Col. and Mrs. George Thorpe will entertain at dinner this evening.

Senora de Ferrara, wife of the Cuban Ambassador, will not receive Friday.

Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sanford Will Be Luncheon Guests.

Mrs. William Howard Taft and Mrs. Edward Terry Sanford will be the guests of honor at the luncheon given by Miss Mary Temple today at the Mayflower following the concert.

Mrs. Taft will be among the guests of Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins at the concert.

Mme. Sze, wife of the Minister of China, is the guest in whose honor Mrs. William D. Connor, wife of Maj. Gen. Connor, will entertain at luncheon February 12.

Senora de Alfaro, wife of the Minister of Panama, is the guest in whose honor Mrs. Peter Drury will entertain at luncheon January 21.

The Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. William F. Whiting are expected to attend the reception to be given by the Massachusetts State Society on January 22 at the Wardman Park Hotel. The Commissioner of the District and Mrs. Proctor Dougherty also will be in the receiving line.

Senator David I. Walsh was the ranking guest at the dinner given last evening by Mrs. Jacob Leander Loose at the Mayflower. The other guests were Representative and Mrs. B. Wallace Dempsey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Gann and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Ellis.

Mrs. Charles W. Waterman, wife of Senator Waterman, is passing several days at the Barclay in New York.

Mrs. Walter F. George, wife of Senator George, of Georgia, will have guests today with her at luncheon at the Mayflower following the concert. Among others entertaining at luncheon will be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Miss Mary Temple, Mrs. S. Wallace Dempsey and Mrs. W. P. Tams.

Harris & Ewing

MRS. FULTON LEWIS, who is chairman of costumes for the Bal Boheme, January 28.

Mrs. Harry C. Ransley, wife of Representative Ransley, of Pennsylvania, will entertain a company of 75 at luncheon today at the Mayflower, following the concert there.

Mrs. James S. Parker Entertains at Her Home.

Mrs. James S. Parker, wife of Representative Parker, had assisting at her home yesterday afternoon Mrs. S. Wallace Dempsey, Mrs. Bertrand Snell and the wives of the other representatives from New York; also Mrs. Harlan Fiske Stone, Mrs. Charles P. Summerall, Mrs. Henry Wilder Keyes, Mrs. Edward E. Gann and Mrs. James R. Mann.

PRINCE WHO WORKS SELECTED FOR CZAR

Nikita, Son of Grand Duke Alexander, Is Choice of Monarchist Council.

SECRET MEETING IN PARIS

Paris, Jan. 15 (U.P.).—A young Oxford graduate, who is studying engineering after working hours but whose blood is that of the Romanoffs, was elected to the lost throne of monarchist Russia today at a secret meeting of the supreme Russian monarchist council.

The new "Emperor of Russia" and leader of the shadowy "white army" of royal exiles is Prince Nikita, 28 years old, son of Grand Duke Alexander. He takes up the banner dropped by the late Grand Duke Nicholas, claimant to the vanished throne of the czars, and becomes the key figure in an impotent gesture against Soviet Russia.

Father Now in U. S.

Nikita, who married the Countess Vorontzoff in Paris in 1922, was chosen over half a dozen other candidates for the role of pretender to the Romanoff throne because "his attitude and appearance are in keeping with the bearing of a monarch." Grand Duke Alexander, his father, is now touring in the United States.

The outstanding opponent of the late Nicholas, Grand Duke Cyril, was eliminated because of his unpopularity with the Russian exiles who have devoted great effort and large sums of money to the "white army" cause in the last ten years, hoping to start a counter-revolution in Russia which would reestablish the Romanoff throne. Cyril also was opposed because he is not a member of the Russian Orthodox Church and, therefore, not eligible to the throne.

Grand Duke Dmitri, another claimant, was opposed as "too frivolous." Dmitri spends his time between London and Biarritz. He maried Audrey Emory, an American girl, who was given the title of Princess Ilyinsky by Cyril in 1925.

Nikita, on the other hand, was a popular choice. He works eight hours daily in a Paris office and is charming and capable.

Possible Rift Is Seen.

The possibility of a rift in the ranks of the monarchists was predicted as a result of the election. Princess Victoria, of Coburg, wife of Cyril, is a woman of great ambition and is not expected to rest until she sees her husband acknowledged throughout the world as the claimant to the throne She is a sister of Queen Marie of Roumania and has English blood. In 1923 she forced Cyril to declare himself pretender in opposition to Nicholas.

The council decided today that the moment was not propitious for announcement of the election of Nikita in view of the death of Grand Duke Nicholas. The latter left no will but, out of respect for his wishes, Gen. Koutiepoff, his chief aid, will be made commander in chief of the "white army." Koutiepoff was a noted Russian World War general.

According to present plans, the "white army" hopes to regain power in russia by a revolution and then establish a dictatorship until order is restored and a national assembly can name Nikita emperor.

BOY, 17, IN RUM CAR, SLAIN BY DRY AGENT

made to bring a load of liquor into Staunton this afternoon. He waited on the highway about 18 miles west of this city and saw the small coupe, driven by Monroe, emerge from a side road.

He followed the car, he testified, about 4 miles, frequently signaling Monroe, whom he recognized, to stop. Dickson said whenever he attempted to pass the other machine, its driver pulled over on the left side of the road. In an attempt to stop the car, Dickson asserted, he fired three times. Marks on the back of the Monroe car showed that one bullet went wild, another struck the body and was deflected, while the third crashed through glass back of the driver, hit Monroe in back of the right ear and killed him instantly.

Frank McComb, jr., 16, who testified that he had asked Monroe to bring him to Staunton, grabbed the wheel when he saw the driver collapse and stopped the machine. McComb testified that Monroe recognized Dickson as a prohibition agent and was endeavoring to escape.

Dickson has been in the State prohibition department service eighteen months.

SALVATION ARMY COUNCIL BUILDING

Sunbury Court, Sunbury-on-Thames, England, where the high council meeting of the Salvation Army will decide the status of Gen. Booth and future army rules.

GEN. BOOTH FLATLY DECLINES TO RESIGN AS SALVATION HEAD

the well-being of this great organization to which I have devoted my life and which in less than 70 years has achieved a success unique in the history of the world. I have carefully and prayerfully considered the entire question in all its bearings and, much as in some respects I should welcome complete rest and relief from responsibility, I feel I should be less than a man, let alone the leader of a great religious organization, if I agreed to a request to retire at a time when, as I understand, there is agitation to change the foundation upon which it rests.

"Therefore I am compelled to refuse to do so."

Sunbury-on-Thames, Jan. 15 (A.P.). The high council of the Salvation Army adjourned for dinner tonight, announcing that it would resume its sittings later in the evening, but in less than an hour the further announcement was made that discussions of the retirement of Gen. Bramwell Booth would not be renewed until tomorrow.

Their visit to Gen. Bramwell Booth convinced the seven members of the high council who presented to him the proposal that he retire, that their aged chief was too feeble to continue effective performance of his duties. This was revealed in the graphic report which the deputation presented to the high council today.

The report said that a study of the communication which the committee brought to him was beyond the powers of the general. It remarked that he was not quite able to follow the statement that was made to him and it added that, in his words to the committee, the general appeared to be following a course that had been prepared for his mind.

"We think that the deputation would agree," said the report, "that the general looked frail and extremely weak, pale and declined in general condition. His eyes have little animation, his hands are feeble and it is quite evident that he has not much ability to turn or move in his bed.

"His speech is uttered with difficulty, but it is coherent and remarks previously thought of can be given expression in words without confusion of thought.

"It was quite clear that in fifteen minutes his power to do this has gone and probably he does not recover it until he has had a little rest. Indeed, he took nourishment twice while we were in the room. We said nothing, nor did we in any way act in a manner that would cause agitation or give pain or perplexity to either the general or any member of his family."

MARSHAL FOCH SHOWS GAIN; CLEMENCEAU ILL IN PARIS

United States, was called into consultation today.

After a long examination the professor, using the technical French medical term said: "Pas de peril en la demeure," which may be translated broadly as "no immediate danger." This statement, however, was confined to the kidney infection and did not refer to the possibility of a recurrence of the heart attack.

Marshal Foch awoke this morning late, but quite refreshed, having fallen asleep at 5 o'clock in the morning for four hours of sound rest. He immediately demanded the newspapers which the doctors had forbidden him. Despite the protests of his wife, he insisted on having the papers and smiled broadly when he saw his own picture prominently displayed on the front pages.

"Am I as sick as all this?" he asked Commandant L'Hopital, his favorite aid-de-camp, who with Gen. Weygand, the marshal's former chief of staff, had been permitted to see him today.

They appeared stern and grim-visaged on emerging from his sick room.

"All I can say is that I am cheered by the great fight which the marshal is putting up as always, fighting to the bitter end," said Gen. Weygand.

A sad scene was enacted in the large courtyard when Gen. Pau, one-armed veteran of the war of 1870, tearfully begged to be admitted to the presence of the marshal. Confronted with the doctors' orders that the marshal must see no one, General Pau said: "I am an old soldier and I must obey orders."

Dr. Davenieres, an army physician, was hurriedly called and it was said that the marshal had a sinking spell and that stimulants had to be administered.

Sympathy for Marshal Foch in his illness and hopes for his recovery were expressed last night in resolutions adopted by the eGorge Washington Post, American Legion. The resolutions, along with a renewal membership, were sent to the French Embassy, with the request that they be sent to the marshal.

The post also passed resolutions approving the proposed Washington Memorial Park on the Mall.

Representative Hamilton Fish, of New York, was the principal speaker. He declared that the signing of the Kellogg pact marked the culmination of "the greatest bloodless revolution in history."

Four Capital Schoolboys Accused of Joy-Riding

Four Washington schoolboys yesterday were arrested in Annapolis, Md., and turned over to the police of this city on a charge of taking an automobile without permission from Thomas Jones, of Bradbury Heights, Md. At the time of their arrest the boys were said to be driving Jones' car.

The boys were brought back to this city by Detective Sergeants Joseph Connors and Jacob Wolf. They were lodged at the House of Detention for the night and will be arraigned in the Juvenile Court this morning.

Offer to Sell Son's Body Brings Prison Sentence

Los Angeles, Jan. 15 (U.P.).—Mrs. Alliece Sawyer, of Long Beach, convicted of using the mails to defraud in an alleged attempt to sell the "petrified" body of her dead son, was sentenced today to eighteen months in the Woman's National Institute at Alderson, W. Va., by Federal Judge Henning.

She was charged with defrauding John L. Stutz, of Meridian, Miss., of $32,000, promising him the body.

JAWORSKI REFUSED STAY OF EXECUTION

Slayer of Two Men Must Die Next Monday, Pardon Board Rules.

PLEA OF INSANITY FAILS

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Paul Jaworski, Pittsburgh bandit, will be executed next Monday morning. The State board of pardons today turned a deaf ear to a plea presented through counsel by Mrs. Katherine L. Logan, of Detroit, Mich., Jaworski's sister, that a sanity commission be appointed to examine his mental condition.

The appeal was the last possible move that can be made to save the man who was convicted of killing a pay-roll guard, and who was captured in Cleveland, September 13 last, after he had killed a policeman and wounded another. He himself was struck in the head with a bullet, and it was this wound on which the plea for clemency was based.

His counsel told the pardon board that the bullet had affected his soundness of mind. He asked that a commission, or an impartial doctor, be appointed to test his mental condition, and if found insane to commute his sentence to life imprisonment.

The application was opposed by Andrew Park, first assistant district attorney of Allegheny County, who presented four affidavits to support his department's position that Jaworski was entirely rational.

Jaworski will die for the murder of I. L. Gump, a guard on the pay-roll truck of the Pittsburgh Terminal Co., on December 24, 1925, when Jaworski's gang, known as the "Flathead Mob," staged a spectacular holdup.

For this crime he was found guilty and was awaiting sentence in the Allegheny County Prison when, on August 18, 1927, he, in company with two others, one his brother, shot his way out of the jail and gained freedom, which lasted until he was caught in Cleveland after a death duel with police officers.

"Flathead" Miller is under indictment for the murder of another pay-roll guard as the result of a holdup in 1922. He is suspected of being implicated in a number of other similar crimes.

Jaworski is 30 years old and has a wife and one child.

Ankle Contest Slated At Food Show Tonight

An ankle contest will be the attraction tonight at the food show at the Washington Auditorium. The contest, which is open only to members of the gentler sex, will begin at 9:30. The trimmest and neatest ankle will win.

Babies and red-headed girls held the center of the stage yesterday at the show. Estelle Marie, 10 months old, daughter of Mrs. Fred Rehm, of Hyattsville, Md., was adjudged winner in the baby show. Miss Louise Morrisette, of 1529 Belmont road, was awarded the prize as the most popular red head.

King Is Improved; Daily Reports Stop

Queen and Prince George Are Reputed Getting Rid of Colds.

London, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—King George today continued to gain ground and his queen and youngest son also were getting the better of their colds. The medical bulletins on the condition of his majesty continued to be of a heartening nature. Sir Stanley Hewett and Lord Dawson of Penn tonight reported "The king had a quiet day. The progress previously noted, though slow, continues. The next bulletin will be issued Thursday morning."

The fact that they no longer consider it necessary to issue daily reports is an indication of their confidence in the progress of the patient.

It was expected tonight that Prince George would be well enough tomorrow to leave his rooms to which he has kept for several days.

Officials Installed By Police Society

District Association Hears Addresses by Representatives and Others.

The Policemen's Association of the District of Columbia met last night at Odd Fellows Temple, 419 Seventh street northwest, for installation of officers. The new president is Milton D. Smith, of the Traffic Bureau.

Other officers installed are, William F. McDuffie, Eleventh Precinct, first vice president; J. L. Bilman, Third Precinct, second vice president; W. J. Kerns, First Precinct, recording secretary; J. P. Hendricks, Second Precinct, financial secretary; W. C. Adcock, Twelfth Precinct, treasurer; and R. T Talbert, Thirteenth Precinct, trustee.

Representatives Edward M. Beers, of Pennsylvania and Tom D. McKeown, of Oklahoma; Odell F. Smith, chairman of the police and fire committee of the Board of Trade; Charles Authenfle, former Motor Transport Corps captain; and Edwin Smith, of the Treasury Department, addressed the meeting. The association approved a resolution introduced by President Smith to contribute $25 to the Community Chest fund.

Bebe Daniels, Star, To Become Bride

Engagement to Ben Lyon Is to Be Announced, Is Hollywood Rumor.

Hollywood, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The Examiner said in a copyrighted story today that Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon, screen stars, are to be married in the near future, and that the engagement will be announced early next week by Mrs. Phillis Daniels, mother of the motion-picture actress, at a party to be given by Mrs. George Fitzmaurice, of this city. It was said that Miss Daniels appeared at a party recently wearing an engagement ring presented to her by Lyon Neither Miss Daniels nor Lyon ever have been married.

Rumor many times has had Miss Daniels engaged. She returned to filmland from a vacation in New York four months ago to deny a long-standing report that she was engaged to Tommy Hitchcock, well-known polo player. At that time the screen star wore a diamond ring on her engagement finger, but said it was one she bought eight years ago.

"My! you look lovely to-night"

SHE knew the compliment to be true—for the last pimple had vanished.

If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you must realize that the logical cause may come from the blood.

A clear, smooth, velvety skin bespeaks loveliness. Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. Hope, joy, happiness, and even love, may depend on the possession of a clear, unblemished skin.

On the other hand—skin eruptions are outward evidences of the condition within. Authorities state it is an indication that the body's power of resistance to disease and infection is low. Meaning, that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

Made from fresh vegetable drugs—

When you get your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish let-down feeling, loss of appetite, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and you sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to diseases.

S.S.S. is Nature's own tonic for improving the appetite, building strength, and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles, by increasing the red-cells of the blood.

S.S.S.

S.S.S. is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test of over 100 years. All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

FALL OF AMANULLAH FAILS TO END RISING

Rebels Are Still Struggling at Kabul Gates; New King Displeasing to Them.

BRITISH VICTORY IS SEEN

London (Wednesday), Jan. 16 (A.P.).—The Mail says today it learns from authoritative circles in London that the abdication of King Amannullah has in no wise ended the revolt in Afghanistan. The rebels still are fighting the troops at the gates of Kabul and do not approve of Inayatulah any more than they did of his younger brother.

The Mail's Kabul correspondent has arrived in Lahore, India, and telegraphs that the life of Amanullah was in danger many times during recent weeks from mutinous troops, religious fanatics and court conspirators. Although Amanullah believes his most loyal supporters are in Kandahar, where he has taken refuge, the people have been incited against him, and there still is fear for the safety of the former ruler and his queen. The British Minister, Sir Francis Humphreys, has been such a close friend of Amanullah that in India it is believed that he and his wife also are in peril.

Berlin, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Several evening papers today expressed the belief that in the fall of King Amanullah of Afghanistan Great Britain won important diplomatic ground at the expense of Moscow.

The Deutsche Allgemeine remarked that the world revolutionaries in the Kremlin have every reason to bewail the abdication because it means the end for an indefinite term of Soviet influence in Kabul. It affirms that from the moment Amanullah openly sided with Russia it was clear that England would not permit a victory by him over the rebels.

British Feared Example.

The Lokal Anzeiger said the British government feared that the example of an independent King of Afghanistan would enhance the ambitions for freedom of Indian princes. Boersen Zeitung called the new king, Inayatullah, notoriously pro-British.

The Deutsche Zeitung says England knows why the Afghanistan tribal princes in the vicinity of the English frontier were the first to rebel and why they were well armed. Other newspapers repetead the report that Col. T. E. Lawrence has been concerned in the affair.

Official disclaimers have been made of the reports that Col. Lawrence was working in any way on the Afghanistan situation. As "Private Shaw" in the British air force in India, Lawrence was for some time stationed on the Afghan border, but recently was ordered back to England because of the rumors in circulation.

Fighting Is Renewed.

Peshawar, India, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—News from Kabul indicates that after a lull, fighting on the outskirts of the capital of Afghanistan has begun on a considerable scale. It is not known here how the various tribes received news of Inayatullah's accession to the throne.

Afghan Revolt Is Blamed On Queen and Paris Garb

Extreme Gowns That Shocked Even French Capital Too Much for Natives; Progressive Women Barred From Kingdom, Is One Report.

London, Jan. 15 (U.P.).—The handsome Queen Souriya, who returned to the mystic capital of Afghanistan last spring with her trunk loaded with knee-length dresses and lowcut evening gowns which shocked even Parisian dressmakers, was generally blamed tonight for the abdication of her husband, Amanullah.

Souriya was believed to be the moving hand behind the westernization campaign which threw all Afghanistan into revolt and brought the march of insurgents on the capital, Kabul.

With the airplane flight of Amanullah and Souriya to Kandahar, a friendly southern Afghan city, the former king's brother, Inayatullah and his wife, who is a more retiring sister of Souriya, ascended the throne which rightfully was theirs. Both are calm, level-headed members of the royal family and it was only because of Amanullah's vigorous personality and aggressive action that he was able to usurp the throne from his brother upon the assassination of their father, Amir Habibullah Kan, in 1919, according to authoritative sources here.

Amanullah gained control of the army and treasury upon the death of his father and forced his brother from the right to reign. Inayatullah has the confidence of the rebellious native priests, and, although his reign promises to retard the progress of Afghanistan by a generation, he is expected to have complete power. He was proclaimed king Monday.

The Afghan legations here and at Paris said today that there was no definite information that Amanullah and Souriya were planning to continue their flight to Europe, but it was considered almost certain in authoritative circles that they would settle in southern France. Amanullah is very wealthy, and his son, the former heir apparent to the throne, is attending school in Paris.

Paris has felt a part of the guilt for the overthrow of the king, according to United Press dispatches. The queen's elaborate wardrobe which shocked all Afghanistan was purchased there. She bought 48 gowns on one tour of Paris shops, all of them of extreme pattern.

Official dispatches recently said the rebellious priests had demanded the banishment of the queen, but Amanullah refused to consent and attempted to make futile compromises. It was reported that she would not be permitted to live in Afghanistan.

BILLS TO REVISE PAY ACT UP FOR HEARING THIS MORNING

Welch act—$120 for those who got only $60, and $200 for those who got only $100.

Comptroller General McCarl, in a letter to Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, strongly indorsed the latter's bill for correcting the inequalities under the Welch act.

"Your plan for taking care of inequalities in salary adjustments of employes in the lower grades, due to insufficiencies of the Welch act, is preferable," said McCarl, "and I am in hopes the measure may have favorable consideration.

"There has been nothing to indicate that Congress considered the Welch act as affording complete relief, and, of course, no proper interpretation of its provisions could provide the results hoped for by some of its sponsors."

McCarl Issues Denial.

In reply to the charges that his ruling on the Welch act had robbed the Personnel Classification Board of its authority to make reallocations McCarl said that these were untrue. At the same time he denounced that section in the Lehlbach bill which would give the board the power to make new allocations and demote employes under the Welch act.

The President was represented yesterday as saying that, judging from the information he has received, he doubts very much whether there has been very much injustice in the application of the Welch act.

If there have been inequalities, he was representing as saying, he is for correcting them—that is, provided the cost wouldn't be very great. But if a corrective measure is to cost very much, it was made clear that the President might use his veto.

The present views of the President, it was said at the White House, are purely tentative, and he reserves the right to express a definite opinion of the various salary measures later.

With regard to the Dale-Lehlbach bill to liberalize the civil service retirement law, the President's views are much more definite and concrete, it was said at the White House. It was made known that he was definitely opposed to any further liberalization of the retirement law.

The Dale-Lehlbach bill would permit employes to retire voluntarily two years earlier than they do now, would slightly increase their retirement annuity, and would make the maximum annuity $1,200 instead of $1,000.

It always has been suspected that the President was opposed to the Dale-Lehlbach bill, but not until yesterday was this suspicion confirmed. The bill has passed the Senate and would pass the House if the leaders would let it come up for a vote. Apparently these leaders are taking orders from President Coolidge.

The hearings before the civil service committee on four salary bills will start at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the civil service committee offices in the Capitol, with Chairman Lehlbach presiding.

Luther C. Stewart, president of the National Federation of Federal Employes, and other representatives of personnel organizations will be the first witnesses. Then will come individuals, and after them representatives of the Personnel Classification Board and the various Government departments.

Lehlbach Bill Opposed.

Powers of the Personne. Classification Board should not be extended as provided by the Lehlbach bill, the executive council of the Federal Bar Association decided at a meeting last night in the Interior Department Building.

Members of the council expressed the belief that administration of personnel laws should be vested in the Civil Service Commission. The council also passed a resolution indorsing the Brookhart and Celler bills, now pending in Congress.

W. R. Vallance, president of the association, appointed a committee to prepare and present views of the association before the House civil service committee Thursday afternoon. The committee is composed of Edwin A. Nelson, J. Ernest Downin, George A. Warrent and Charles William Freeman.

CAPTIVES DECLARED TEXAS BANK BANDITS

2 ARRESTED IN BUFFALO

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Two men, arrested here several days ago on suspicion, are Clyde Roberts and Fred Nave, members of the Ace Pendleton gang of bank robbers and killers of the Southwest, Buffalo police were informed tonight by the Criminal Identification Bureau of the Department of Justice. Identification was made through fingerprints forwarded to the Department of Justice by the police.

Citing the previous record of the pair, the telegram from the Department of Justice urged Buffalo police to hold the prisoners until Texas Rangers arrive to extradite them for alleged participation in the holdup of the Pampas National Bank at Borden, Tex., in which two policemen were killed.

Capt. Frank Hamer, of the Texas Rangers, in a telegram to Detective Chief Reville, said Roberts, who gives the name of Walter Anderson, is wanted in connection with the Wild West holdup of the Borden Bank and also in connection with other crimes. His photograph has been identified. Hamer wired, as one of the bank bandits He said also a picture of Nave, who terms himself John C. Ewing, resembled another one of the bandits.

Ace Pendleton, leader of the daring gang, is being held at Eldorado, Ark., on homicide charges for Texas authorities. Two other alleged members of the gang are in custody in Texas.

The men arrested were modishly garbed and well supplied with money. Nave had $450 in travelers checks. The American Express Co., informed of the finding of the checks, notified police the checks had been stolen when strong boxes of the First National Bank of Washington, Okla., were looted by a bandit gang last November. Nave had in his grip in a hotel a loaded Luger automatic pistol and loose ammunition. This he carried, he said, as a souvenir of the war.

The telegram from the Department of Justice says Roberts had been convicted in Payne County, Okla., of grand larceny in 1922 and sentenced to five years in prison. Nave was, according to police, sentenced to two years on a grand larceny charge in Taney County, Mo., February 24, 1918. He was arrested several times in various Texas cities for selling liquor, according to the telegram.

Engineers Urge Census On Man-Hours Employed

Holding that industry's capacity to utilize labor should be computed in man-hours, the American Engineering Council, at the concluding session of its annual meeting yesterday, adopted a resolution authorizing action "seeking to have the number of man-hours worked in the manufacturing establishments of the United States reported in the next and succeeding consuses of manufacturers."

Lawrence W. Wallace, of Washington was reelected executive secretary of the council in charge of national headquarters at 26 Jackson place northwest. He has held this post since the council was organized under the presidency of Herbert Hoover.

Boat Vanishes After Sending Up Flares

Fenwick Island Lightship Tells of Craft's Lights Sighted January 5.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Mystery surrounds the disappearance on the night of January 5 of a ship whose distress signals had been seen by the Fenwick Island Lightship, R. J. Spencer, mate of the lightship, reported today that flares and distress signals were seen that night by his crew.

Following the sighting of the signals, Spencer said, the lightship answered with signals flashed by pocket lights. Radio messages were broadcast by the lightship which were picked up by the steamship Howard, of the Merchants & Miners Line. The Howard made a search of the area from which the distress signals had been sent, but could find no trace of a boat.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

Washington, Tuesday Jan. 15—8 p. m.

Forecast—For the District of Columbia, cloudy, followed by rain or snow Wednesday and probably Thursday; slightly colder Wednesday; moderate winds, mostly northeast and east.

For Maryland, cloudy, followed by rain or snow Wednesday and probably Thursday; not much change in temperature; moderate to fresh winds, mostly northeast and east.

For Virginia, rain in south and rain or snow in north portion Wednesday and probably Thursday; somewhat colder Wednesday in east and south portions; fresh northeast and east winds.

The storm that was central north of Newfoundland Monday night is advancing northward along the Labrador coast, Belle Isle, N. F., 29.32 inches. The Texas disturbance is now central near the mouth of the Rio Grande, Brownsville, 29.84 inches, and an offshoot of this disturbance that developed over Pennsylvania and New York Monday night is moving rapidly eastward and merging with the northeastern disturbance. Another disturbance has developed over the plateau region and the Pacific States, Tonopah, Nev., 29.54 inches, and pressure is low and falling over Alaska, St. Paul, 28.80 inches. Pressure is high over Iceland, western Canada, the greater part of the United States east of the Rocky Mountains, and in the vicinity of Bermuda, Chicago, Ill., and Hamilton, Bermuda, 30.46 inches, and Battleford, Sask., 30.40 inches. Rain has fallen within the last 24 hours in the Ohio and lower Mississippi Valleys, Tennessee, portions of the Gulf States, and northern California, and snow in the lake region, the North Atlantic States, and the northern Rocky Mountain region. Snow was falling also at 8.00 p. m. at Red Bluff, Calif., where the temperature was 34 degrees below. The temperature has risen in the Middle Atlantic and South Atlantic States, Minnesota, the northern plains States, and eastern Wyoming and it has fallen in the Mississippi and lower Ohio Valleys, Oklahoma, the west Gulf States, and Alberta.

There will be much cloudiness over the States east of the Mississippi River during the next two days, and there will be snow in northern, rain, sleet, or snow in middle, and rain in southern sections. The weather will remain generally fair until Wednesday night, however, in the North Atlantic States. The temperature will be somewhat lower in the Carolinas and the southern portion of the Middle Atlantic States, and it will rise from New England southwestward to the Ohio and middle Mississippi Valleys Wednesday. Colder weather is probable Thursday in the lower lake region and along the northern border.

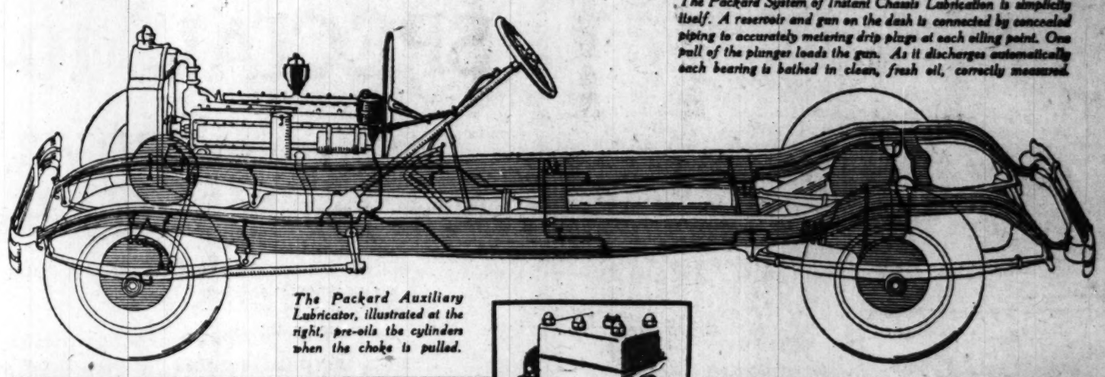
The Packard System of Instant Chassis Lubrication is simplicity itself. A reservoir and gun on the dash is connected by concealed piping to accurately metering drip plugs at each oiling point. One pull of the plunger loads the gun. As it discharges automatically each bearing is bathed in clean, fresh oil, correctly measured.



The Packard Auxiliary Lubricator, illustrated at the right, pre-oils the cylinders when the choke is pulled.

Most thoroughly and easily lubricated of all fine cars

THE Packard Eight, whether Standard, Custom or De Luxe, is protected by the most thorough, complete and convenient lubrication system found on any motor car in the world. In-built factory precision is protected — even against the possibility of your own or your chauffeur's neglect.

"Instant" lubrication—a system by which the chassis bearings may be oiled daily by one pull of a plunger from the driver's seat—has long been a feature of Packard cars.

Improved and extended to include even the new and unique Packard Shock Absorbing System, Packard chassis lubrication protects 38 bearings under the car, oils points inaccessible and frequently neglected on the ordinary chassis, prevents squeaks and rattles, eliminates wear—and insures the long life for which the Packard car is famous.

The Packard Straight Eight powerplant, with its nine-bearing crankshaft, is full force feed lubricated—each cylinder uniformly supplied, each motor bearing thoroughly fed under pressure. An auxiliary lubricator, connected with the choke, automatically conveys oil to the skirt of each piston whenever the choke is pulled out—insuring thorough cylinder lubrication during cold weather starting and warming up.

Packard lubrication, thorough and positive under all weather conditions, is simply pictured and described on a unique wall chart which we want you to see. Come in and examine it, then drive a Packard Eight yourself and oil the chassis while at the wheel. You will gain a new conception of proper motor car lubrication.

The Packard Standard Eight is priced from $2435 to $2835—the Custom Eight from $3175 to $3850—and the Eight De Luxe from $4585 to $5985—at the factory. Individual custom cars are also available to order on the De Luxe chassis.

CHANGES IN ZONING RULES ARE PLANNED

Commission Debates Proposal to Facilitate Building of Auxiliary Garages.

LIMITS ON STORIES TOPIC

Amendment of existing general zoning regulations and definitions to permit construction of garages as a part of hotels, apartments, office buildings and to remove limitations on stories in residential and first commercial territory, was considered at an executive session of the Zoning Commission in the District Building yesterday.

Tentative regulations permitting construction of garages for storing motor cars have been drafted and were considered by the commission, but these afforded, it was feared, too many loopholes for abuse.

Survey Now Planned.

Maj. D. A. Davison, executive officer of the commission, was directed to make a survey of the regulations in force in other cities, so that comparisons may be made with District regulations and the proposed changes.

Under the proposed amendments construction of a garage in an independent building, so long as the garage was an appurtenance of the apartment, store or other building, would be permitted. Another question which has been raised is the lifting of the ban on garages in first commercial area, so long as the repair work done in the garage is incidental and its main use is for storage.

Removal of the limitation on the number of stories which may be constructed in the various height limits, proposed by District architects, also was discussed at the meeting.

Number of Stories Limited.

Present regulations limit the number of stories in the height classes as follows: Forty feet, three stories; 60 feet, five; 90 feet, eight; 130 feet, twelve. There is no story restriction in the 110-foot height area.

Concessions to apartment houses in residential areas, so as to permit restaurants and minor business stands in them, is another proposal which was discussed. It is proposed to loosen the regulations so long a none of the restaurants or stands have outside entrances to the street.

The Zoning Commission will meet in executive session again at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

College Students Hit 3-Day Tests

Petition, Protesting Change at George Washington University, Signed.

George Washington University students are up in arms over a decision of the faculty allotting three days for midterm examinations, instead of a week, as in the past.

Student protest has taken the form of a petition signed by practically all the undergraduates. It will be formally presented to university authorities today or tomorrow.

In deciding to curtail the examination period, the faculty was swayed by the knowledge that if three days were cut from the examination schedule, registration for the next semester could begin three days earlier.

Merchant Files as Bankrupt.

Chapel of Methodist Building Is Dedicated

The new chapel of the Methodist Building, made possible by the anonymous $25,000 gift of a Philadelphian, will be dedicated this afternoon with fitting ceremonies.

The chapel, which is in honor of the memory of Bishop Mathew Simpson and Mrs. Simpson, will be accepted by Bishop William Fraser McDowell, president of the Methodist board. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Board of Temperance, will deliver the presentation address. Tomorrow night, from 8 to 11 o'clock, the board of managers of the Methodist Building will hold a reception.

Blast in Mission Kills Three Men

Five Other Persons Hurt by Explosion Laid to Escaping Gas.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Three persons were killed and five others seriously injured late today when an explosion of gas in the basement of a "rescue home" wrecked the three-story building and buried eight persons beneath debris.

F. D. Sherman, Oak Park, Ill., bond salesman, who was standing on the street in front of the building, was struck by a large pile of bricks and was killed. Habeer Nasher, Syrian grocer, whose store was next to the mission, died in a hospital from shock. Alex Lloyd, laborer, was caught by falling walls and crushed to death. His mangled body was dug from the ruins an hour later.

Coal thrown into the basement was said to have broken a gas pipe, and the escaping gas was ignited by a stove. Upstairs the force of the blast smashed windows in stores opposite the mission and in the Vigo County courthouse.

CAPTOR OF AUTOIST IS DENIED REWARD

Motorcycle Policeman Wins Official Commendation of Commissioners.

LONG CHASE IS CITED

Motorcycle Policeman W. A. Schotter, of the Traffic Bureau, was commended yesterday for his pursuit of a driver alleged to have killed John F. Luitich at North Capitol and P streets on January 4, but he will not get the $100 reward offered by the American Automobile Association for the apprehension and conviction of hit-and-run drivers.

This was decided by the District Commissioners on the recommendation of Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, to whom the Commissioners had referred the letter of Ernest N. Smith, general manager of the automobile association, asking that the Commissioners set aside the existing legal restriction against paying rewards to policemen so that the association could pay $100 to Schotter.

"I believe Schotter is entitled to commendation, but am opposed to his accepting the $100," Hesse told the Commissioners.

"There is hardly a day passes that some of our motorcycle officers do not take the same risk, or even greater, than Private Schotter did on this occasion," Hesse added. "In this connection I might also state that I observe from the press that the officer himself does not think that he did anything unusual, but just what he was paid to do."

Schotter pursued for several blocks and finally arrested Robert Darrall Dixon, colored, 23 years old, 1425 Third street northwest, after firing several shots at the automobile Dixon was driving. Dixon was charged with reckless driving, leaving after colliding, transporting and illegal possession of liquor. Dixon and a passenger, William Alfred Rollins, colored, 20 years old, 1426 Sixth street northwest, were held by the coroner's jury for the action of the grand jury.

HEIFETZ DELIGHTS CONCERT AUDIENCE

Master of Violin Appears in Program Showing His Best Qualities.

DIFFICULT PIECES GIVEN

Jascha Heifetz, premier technician of the violin, gave a superb program yesterday afternoon in a concert in Poli's Theater, which drew a representative audience of admirers who, through his previous appearances in this city, had become familiar with his playing. The concert was given under the local management of Mrs. Wilson Greene.

Heifetz, who ranks as one of the leading violinists of the world, was in admirable mood. Never has he played better here. The audience grew more and more enthusiastic as number after number excelled the preceding ones.

In phrasing, harmonics, double stopping and impeccable technic and precision of attack Heifetz has few equals. Furthermore, his stage presence is a fascinating one and the ease with which he handles his instrument adds still more to the enjoyment of his audience.

The outstanding feature was Mendelssohn's "Concerto," one of the masterpieces of violin composition. The second movement—the andante—regarded as a test for violinists, was passed by Heifetz with flying colors. All three movements of the sonata brought into evidence his command of his bow, his abiding sense of rhythm, polished technic and a lovely tone, with a delicate singing quality which is the violin at its best. E. E. P.

FLU

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

A PECULIARITY of influenza is that its toxins upset the digestive system.

Too much "dosing," especially in the case of children, still further disturbs the digestion, and should be avoided except on advice of a physician.

Vicks Vapo-Rub is especially valuable because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely without upsetting the most delicate digestion.

1. As a Preventive

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils, also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors.

2. If a Cold Starts

If possible, go home and go to bed. Apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.

Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

3. After a Flu Attack

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after Influenza. Then, more than ever, colds attacking the weakened system may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks.

Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal and treat it promptly without "dosing."

And Now

In the present epidemic as in 1918, Vicks is proving to be the family standby in millions of homes. In spite of increased equipment it is again necessary to run the laboratories night and day.

Bridge Game Featured by Unique Play

"Fourchette" Figures in Hand of Expert in Tenth Competition of Series Over Radio—Maneuvers Explained.

Two of the West's prominent bridge players and teachers, Mrs. C. E. Traver, of Salt Lake City, and Mrs. Lewis Todhunter, of Denver, Colo., made up the foursome with Mr. Work and Mr. Whitehead for yesterday's radio bridge game, broadcast at 4:30 o'clock from Station WRC.

Mr. Whitehead, Dealer, South, was obliged to open the auction with a pass, on this holding: Spades, K, 8, 3; Hearts, Q, 6, 3; Diamonds, 7, 5, 4, 3; Clubs, A, 9, 5. Mr. Work, West, holding Spades, J, 9, 4; Hearts, K, J, 8; Diamonds, A, K, 10, 2; Clubs, 7, 6, 3, bid one Diamond, a sound initial four-card suit bid. Mrs Traver, North, with Spades, 6; Hearts, A, 10, 7, 5, 4, 2; Diamonds, 8, 6; Clubs, Q, J, 10, 2, bid one Heart defensively. Had Mr. Work passed, Mrs. Traver also would have passed, as her holding was strong enough only for a defensive bid, not for an original one. Mrs. Todhunter, East, bid one Spade, an obvious bid on these cards: Spades, A, Q, 10, 7, 5, 2; Hearts, 9; Diamonds, Q, J, 9; Clubs, K, 8, 4.

Mr. Whitehead, South, holding three Hearts to the Queen, and a side King and Ace, raised his partner's bid to two Hearts. Mr. Work, West, said two Spades, which held the bid, as Mrs. Traver, North, and Mr. Whitehead, South, had already bid the full strength of their hands.

As Mrs. Todhunter, East, became Declarer; Mr. Whitehead, South, made the opening lead, playing the Queen of Hearts, the highest of his three cards of his partner's suit, the correct lead against a suit declaration. Against No Trump, the 3 of Hearts would have been the correct lead.

Mr. Work, West, spread his hand for Dummy, disclosing in his King, Jack, 8 of Hearts, a very interesting situation. Mrs. Todhunter, Declarer, saw that if she covered the Queen of Hearts with Dummy's King, and Mrs. Traver, North, won with the Ace, as she undoubtedly would, Dummy's Jack would be good, giving the Declarer a possible Club discard on it. But Mrs. Traver, North, winning with the Ace, and noting Mrs. Todhunter's play of the 9 to the trick, would certainly not return a Heart, since then both Dummy's Jack and 8 must make, giving Declarer two possible discards.

Mrs. Traver's obvious play, therefore, after winning with the Ace of Hearts, would be to switch to Clubs, leading up to Dummy's weakness; and then Declarer's game would depend on whether Mrs. Traver, North, or Mr. Whitehead, South, held the Ace of Clubs. But game was a certainty if Dummy ducked the first trick and Mr. Whitehead, South, was left in the lead. Therefore Mrs. Todhunter, Declarer, played Dummy's 8 of Hearts to the first trick.

But Mrs. Traver, North, noting the Declarer's very peculiar play, sought the reason and discovered it. It was evident to her that Mr. Whitehead, South, must have held at least three Hearts (or more) to warrant his raise. Therefore, Mrs. Todhunter, Declarer, at most could hold but one, and would trump the second round of Hearts, if not the first. Only one Heart trick, therefore, was obtainable; and Mrs. Traver, North, realized that she must take that trick at once, if possible, as her only chance to secure the lead. Then by leading Clubs from her Queen, Jack, 10 up to Dummy's weakness, three Club tricks, which would stop game, might be obtainable. Accordingly Mrs. Traver, North, played the Ace of Hearts; Mrs. Todhunter, Declarer, played her lone 9.

Mrs. Traver then led the Queen of Clubs; Mrs. Todhunter, Declarer, played the King, realizing that it must be lost sooner or later, unless Mrs. Traver, North, held the Ace. Mr. Whitehead, South, won with the Ace; Dummy played the 3.

Mr. Whitehead returned the 9 of Clubs; Dummy played the 6; Mrs. Traver the 10; Declarer the 4. Mrs. Traver continued Clubs with the Jack; Declarer played the 8; Mr. Whitehead the 5; Dummy the 7.

Mrs. Traver then led the 6 of Spades; Mrs. Todhunter played the 2; Mr. Whitehead the King; Dummy the 4.

Mr. Whitehead, South, then led the 3 of Diamonds, Dummy played the 2, Mrs. Traver the 8, and Mrs. Todhunter, Declarer, won with the 9. Mrs. Todhunter then spread her hand, announcing that she intended to lead trumps, after which her Diamonds were good. The adversaries conceded Mrs. Todhunter's claim. They had taken one Spade trick, one Heart trick and three Club tricks, thus holding Mrs. Todhunter to her contract of two Spades, for which she scored 18 trick points and 40 for honors.

This hand was remarkable for its two unusual plays on the first trick. The first card led was the Queen of Hearts, and Dummy, holding the King-Jack, had what is known as a "fourchette." A fourchette is the next card higher and the next card lower than the card led or played by the opponent on the right. When a high card is led or played, the rule is to cover when holding a fourchette, because, even if the other adversary plays a higher card, the maneuver takes two high cards for one and helps to establish the lower card of the fourchette.

The cover-with-a-fourchette rule is especially important when a Queen is led and the next player has King-Jack; thus in his hand ninety-nine Declarers out of every hundred would have played the King from Dummy as a matter of course, failing to appreciate that with the 9 falling on the trick from the East hand, North would not continue the suit up to the exposed Jack 8.

Of course the play of the King would make the Jack of Hearts a winner, but it would mean a shifting from that suit. Declarer could be sure that if a shift took place it would be to Clubs; and if South held the Ace of Clubs, the shift must cost game. Consequently the hand illustrates a case in which it is advisable for Declarer to depart from an established rule.

Dummy's underplay put a most unusual situation up to North. North realized there must be some very important and unusual reason for Declarer's failing to cover the Queen led with the higher card of the exposed fourchette. North's keen inference was that Declarer feared a Club lead from North, and hoped, by underplaying from Dummy, to keep the lead with South. Consequently it was excellent play for North to sacrifice her Ace of Hearts on her partner's Queen and thus become able to lead her Queen of Clubs to trick 2; as by doing so she must thwart the scheme of the Declarer.

The bidding of this hand at Contract affords wide opportunities for differences of opinion. South of course, would pass, just as in Auction; but some players who do not approve of four-card suit-bids in Contract would pass with the West hand, although they would bid it in Auction; others would bid one Diamond, just as is concededly proper in Auction.

If the Diamond bid should not be made, North would not bid the Heart; and even with the Diamond bid, there are many Contract players who would consider North's hand too weak for a defensive bid, especially after South's original pass.

Without the Heart bid, the Queen of Hearts would not be led originally, and the features of the hand would be lost.

Wives of Tomorrow

By FRANCES M'DONALD

DEAR Miss McDonald: After reading Polly's problem I decided to try to offer my help.

I think it is very odd for a girl of Polly's age who shows such clear ideas about her own affairs not to be able to decide upon the right track to follow. She shows logic and understanding and gives a very good picture of her character through her letter. I don't believe Polly to be a weak, fickle person. We all give in, more or less, to the ones we love and resolves don't mean anything when confronted with reality.

I am one of those happy married persons and the reason Polly's letter interests me so much is because I have had the same doubts and misgivings she is having. I have been married for over a year and I don't regret a single day of it, except my own foolishness at times. My husband and I were both 21 when we were married and we were also very much in love. We went into marriage with our eyes open, both as to the money question and to the love question.

Polly says she has $800 and a good job; he has no money saved and not so good a job. I'd like to know in just what station of life they consider themselves. If a girl of 22 who has $800 can say that figure so lightly then she must have a pretty exaggerated sense of the cost of living. Why my husband and I could have done wonders if either one of us had that amount. I could have furnished our flat with all the furniture we needed, not cheap furniture at that, and I'm sure we should have had a start for a nest egg left over. We only had about one-third of what Polly has and he earned $32 per week.

Weeks before we were married we spent our time choosing our furniture to meet our purse and taste and we wrote out budget after budget which we faithfully tried to live up to after marriage. We did all kinds of paying out after marriage and still we managed to provide enough amusements to keep us from becoming mopes or stay-at-homes. Of course, it was hard at first and I shed many a tear when instead of having the required amount left over I was short much over that. But somehow he always came to my help and managed to earn some side money. I could never have done it without a budget, as also I couldn't get along without his love. Now as before we still love one another.

In two more years Polly's friend will be earning enough to take c re of them but what will two years do to their love? Already they are having their doubts when what they should do is look over their resources, decide whether Polly is to keep that good job or not, where they wish to live and then select a place just a shade less desirable and yet suitable, go out and have barrels of fun picking out furniture and making one dollar do the work of a couple in everything.

Polly and boy friend will never regret marrying after a few months of wedded bliss, even though the bills still persist in being mountainous. Polly will learn to keep them down and be proud of the effort and effect. Her hubby will strive more eagerly for that raise which is coming in two years. And I'm sure when that time comes Polly will be amazed at the amount of the raise and will be able to save a good part of it, and soon there may be other dreams coming true.

As long as you have youth, love, ambition and strength, why worry about anything else? You have more than plenty now to start your wedding life with a smile.

could write out my way of keeping my budget, but it would appear so hard without my being able to put all the love and joy into it that I give it and get out of it in return.

Maybe my little advice will not even interest Polly, and I shall be sorry if it doesn't, and, on the other hand, it may interest her, and then I should be glad to offer her a bit more of my story just to prove that money isn't everything in happiness. I would be happy living on much less, and I believe I could manage it if he were always with me in all I do.

Miss McDonald, I enjoy your articles each night and only regret I can't express my ideas the way I'd like to on paper, or I should be a more frequent contributor. Your ideas coincide with mine most of the time, and when they differ I always learn something from it to understand your point of view.

I trust that this does not find its way into the basket too soon.

Sincerely yours,

MRS. ED.

"Window Shopping"

Old Leather.

Old leather has a charm all its own, and so a case to hold writing paper and stand upon the writing desk is doubly attractive when it is covered with brown leather tooled in gold and treated so that it has an antique finish.

Child's Chair.

A comfortable little chair for the nursery, made of wicker in a n tural shade, is an exact replica of a grown-up's armchair.

Wooden Soldier Is a Lamp.

A brave looking wooden soldier has a tall, tall hat, which forms a lamp-shade. A lamp of this type makes an excellent bedside light for a child's room.

Correspondence Trays.

A nest of four trays for letters, bills &c., is charming enough for the boudoir if the trays are painted a soft blue with a floral design.

Copies of Old Pewter.

Copies of old English pewter ashtrays are simple and in good taste, since they depend for their charm upon beauty of line and a certain satin smoothness that good pewter has.

The Hidden Telephone.

An excellent way to hide the telephone in bedroom or feminine living room is to indulge in a large wooden case which opens out to reveal the telephone when necessary. This cabinet is elaborately painted and has French prints upon the sides. A large pad is attached to the inside of the door.

Decorative Silver Coaster.

Decorative and useful are silver coasters of either plain or pierced silver. A slender curved stand hold eight of these when not in use.

Why not go into business for yourself? Watch the Business Opportunity column in The Post from day to day for a chance to buy into an established business or secure a distributorship for some well-known product.

Al. Smith Speaks on Air Tonight

Former Governor to Have Something to Say of Interest to All Parties. Mary Garden in "Thais" Will Sing in Chicago.

Alfred E. Smith, former Governor of NewYork State and defeated presidential candidate, will make his first public address since his retirement over a network of radio stations associated with the National Broadcasting Co., including WRC, at 8:30 o'clock tonight. The program is sponsored by the Democratic National Committee. The topic to be discussed has not been announced but is said to be "of interest to all parties and to all sections of the United States."

The program for the Palmolive Hour at 9:30 o'clock follows:

"And Old Fashioned Garden," ensemble; "I Love You," duet, Paul Oliver and Olive Palmer; "Gypsy," specialty orchestra; "Mammy is Gone," the Revelers; "Lo. Hear the Gentle Lark," Olive Palmer, soprano; "Sleeping Beauty Waltz," Symphony Orchestra; "Angels' Serenade," Paul Oliver, tenor; "Poeme," duet, Olive Palmer and contralto; "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," the Revelers; "Valse Bluette, saxophone solo; "Romance," ensemble; "Sittin' and Whittlin'," specialty orchestra; "Love Dreams," Paul Oliver, tenor; "Who'll Buy My Violets?" Olive Palmer, soprano; "Crazy Rhythm," the Revelers; "Caressing You," specialty orchestra; "Blue Grass," ensemble.

Excerpts from Henry K. Hadley's "Ballet of Flowers" will be played during the hour of Slumber Music at 11 o'clock tonight. Other numbers selected for this broadcast are the overture from "If I Were King" (Adam), "La Poule" Symphony (Haydn) "Where the Citrons Bloom" (Strauss), "Chanson Sans Paroles" (Tschaikowsky), and "Simple Aveu" (Thome).

Massenet's "Thais," based on the novel by Anatole France, with the libretto by Louis Gallet, to be produced in French by the Chicago Civic Opera Company, will be the attraction of the Balkite Hour at 10 o'clock tonight from the stage of the Auditorium Theater in Chicago, through stations WJZ, WBAL, WLW and a network.

Mary Garden, Chicago's famous soprano, will be heard in the title role.

The band concert at the New York Firemen's Ball will be on the air from WMAL at 8:30 o'clock tonight. This is to be the twelfth annual ball of the Firemen's Association of Greater New York, and will take place at Madison Square Garden, where 20,000 people are expected to attend.

One hundred men make up the New York Fire Department Band, under the leadership of Honorary Batallion Chief George S. Brieger, and all kinds of band music will be played by them for the benefit of the large attendance at the ball and the interested radio audience.

The Musical Episode from WMAL at 8 o'clock tonight will feature the conferring upon Charles Francois Gounod of the Cross of the Legion of Honor, at the celebration of the 500th performance of his grand opera, "Faust."

Johnny Marvin will be the feature of the La Palina Smoker at 9:30 o'clock. He will be remembered as a principal in the musical comedy, "Honeymoon Lane."

Two dance orchestras are scheduled for broadcasting from Station WOL during the evening, the Carolinians at 7 o'clock and the Wardman Park from 10 o'clock until midnight. Dinner music will be broadcast at 6 o'clock.

Station WLW will broadcast one and one-half hours of dance music and entertainment, beginning at midnight. Stations KYW and WMAQ, Chicago, will also be on the air until the early morning hours to broadcast light entertainment.

Dare INTERPRETS the MODE

"Antigone," a softly alluring evening gown of black tulle, trimmed with a touch of pink tulle and appliqued with dots of black velvet. (Courtesy of Joseph Paquin, Paris.)

New York, January 16.

WE are pleased to see the increasing importance the Haute Couture has been giving to tulle. Heaven knows there is nothing especially practical about it—if one must consider practicality when considering things lovely—but, after all, there is nothing that can quite create the same effect of crisp daintiness and fairy-like fragility as tulle.

Tulle, you know, was first invented in England, and every possible means—secrecy, patents and what not—was used to confine its production to England. But Calais, a French city just across the channel, soon learned how the fragile stuff was made, and tulle was no longer a British monopoly. All this, of course, long, long ago.

So long as slim, straight lines were the order of the day (or, we should say, evening) tulle could play no very large part.

Tulle Restored to Favor.

Now, with the flare once more in the scheme of things, tulle is restored to favor.

The most interesting new treatment of tulle we have seen was at Patou's establishment—an evening gown with tiered skirt, each tier consisting of several layers of tulle, with the edges cut and left unfinished, creating the suggestion of a ragged edge, which is still symmetrical and charmingly picturesque.

Tulle, the hummingbird of the mode! Iridescent, recklessly lovely, unbelievably fragile, yet the more desirable for its fragility.

A jeweled spider spun a black web and Night left soft black tear-drops upon it.

An artist saw it, waved a magic pencil wand and created—the black tulle evening dress with small dots cut out of black velvet strewn all over it, that Joseph Pacqui let me sketch for you today.

Do you have your coffee and grapefruit (reducing diet) in bed in the morning? If you don't, why don't you? It's the most delightful Lovely-Lady vice in the world—and is a marvelous recipe for keeping the face and the disposition young.

But, of course, in order to enjoy this little daily luxury you must have delightful bed scarfs and jackets. So we up and made you an illustrated leaflet telling you how to make a whole lot of them!

Send your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare department of The Washington Post for it. You never can tell when you may have time to need them.

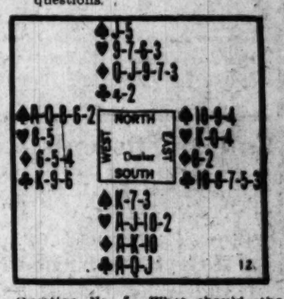
WORK ON BRIDGE

AUCTION BRIDGE AND CONTRACT BRIDGE.

TODAY we give Deal 8, the second in this week's series, and four questions.



Question No. 5. What should the bidding be at Auction?

Question No. 6. What should the bidding be at Contract?

Question No. 7. What card should win the first trick?

Question No. 8. What card should be led to the second trick?

THE ANSWERS.

5. At Auction, South should obtain the contract with a bid of one No Trump.

6. At Contract, South should obtain the contract with an initial bid of three No Trumps.

7. The Jack of Spades should win the first trick. Against a No Trump contract West would lead the fourth best card of his long suit, and Declarer's best chance for two Spade tricks is to play the Jack from Dummy.

8. Dummy should lead a small Club to the second trick. The reason for making this seemingly peculiar play instead of running the long Diamonds is that, by playing the hand in that way, Declarer can count upon winning one Spade, one Heart, five Diamonds and two Clubs—game. If he should run his Diamonds first he would give himself embarrassing discards from his Closed Hand and could not lead Clubs twice from Dummy if two finesses be needed in that suit. If he started to establish his Hearts first, a Heart trick might be won by East who then could lead Spades through South and save game; but it is safe to finesse Clubs because, if the finesse loses it will be to the West hand, and if that hand should lead Spades, the Declarer would take another Spade trick.

TODAY'S WOMEN

By EARL HINDENMAN

JANUARY 16.

CAROL DEMPSTER, the popular film star, was born this day, 1900, in Santa Maria, Calif.

Miss Dempster's first ambition was to become a professional dancer and she achieved this ambition when she toured the country in vaudeville with the Denishawn Dancers, students of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn. She made her first appearance on the screen in David Wark Griffith's "Scarlet Days." Griffith is credited with having developed the star's talent.

Alice Fisher, one of the noted actresses of the American stage, was born this day, 1869, in Indiana. At one time she played opposite Joe Jefferson. Her later plays include "Step This Way," "My Aunt From Ypsilanti" and "The Pagana."

Other noted women born this day include Dorothy Wyndlow Pattison, 1832, English nurse who achieved fame in the annals of England for her work at the Walsall Municipal Epidemic Hospital; and Hester Thrale Prozzi, poet, 1741.

Uncle Ray's Corner

The Lava of Volcanoes.

TWO months ago, the eyes of the world were turned toward Sicily. On that island a volcano let loose a mightly flow of lava. Villages were buried and thousands of persons were made homeless.

Besides Mount Etna of Sicily, there are more than 300 volcanoes on the earth which are listed as "active."

Goonung Api Smoking.

From time to time they send up clouds of ashes, or pour forth rivers of lava.

What is lava? That question is not easy to answer. We know that it contains steam and other hot gases; and that it turns into rock when it cools. Sometimes lava is called "melted rock" and that may be true; but we are not certain that it was ever solid rock before it reached the surface.

Lava comes up with a heat equal to more than 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit. It flows in much the same way as a river of water, though usually much more slowly. The lava closes to the air hardens quickly, but the rest of it keeps its heat a long while.

Have you ever noticed that "mush" becomes cool on the surface but must be eaten with care—lest the lower part be too hot? Lava may cool quickly on the surface, but the heat is kept underneath.

Most active volcanoes have cones. These have been built up by lava welling out of the earth. Lava rises from a depth of from 6 to 30 miles. It sometimes comes out of cracks where there are no cones.

Lava flows out of craks in the ocean bottom, and cools under the waters. Sometimes it comes again in the same place. Rocky islands may be formed. Hundreds of islan is forming the Japanese empire were made by volcanoes which broke loose ages ago, under the surface of the Pacific.

Steam plays a big part in eruptions of volcanoes. At one time Mount Etna let forth steam over a period of 100 days equal to what could be formed from 2,000,000 barrels of water.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

THE ART OF COUGHING.

THOSE people who attribute coughs to tickling in the throat have considerable basis for their opinion. That is what the London Lancet thinks about it. The same is true of those who suck lozenges and cough drops as a method of alleviating coughing.

The impulse to cough arises out of ar irritation in the upper respiratory tract, and the field does not extend far from the throat. The impulse is based upon the need of removing foreign material and especially sputum from the vocal cord region. Below, somewhere in about that zone, the sputum is moved on its outward journey by the waving of the ciliary processes on the cells. Cough has to do only with the sputum that has got out of the timber called ilia and onto the plains called flat cells. It is necessary to know all this in order to understand the art of coughing.

Properly trained consumptives in a sanitarium raise much sputum, but they do not cough. They have learned that coughing is not necessary, and it spreads infection from one part of the lungs to another. They have learned to get sputum from the vocal cord region by a gentle, soundless, cough-like procedure.

Dr. Cecil Wall thinks much would be gained in the control of acute bronchitis and acute coryza if theater audiences knew the art of clearing the trachea without coughing. Some other practical points advocated by Dr. Wall as a part of the gentle art of coughing are as follows:

Smoker's cough is due to tenacious mucus in the trachea. Spraying with a warm alkaline solution washes this mucus away and prevents the cough. Fat persons with chronic bronchitis or recurring attacks of bronchitis should reduce the girth line. It is impossible for a big-bellied person to cough effectively.

Persons having a pulmonary hemorrhage should not lie flat; they should sit in a semireclining position. This position makes coughing easier, promotes clotting of blood, and protects the tubes from being flooded with blood. If a person must cough, it is better that he should be in a sitting position; this fixes the pelvis and increases the effectiveness of the effort to expel the irritating material. The most effective position to take when coughing is sitting with the head leaning forward and the arms on something. This serves to fix both the shoulder and the pelvic girdle, and increases the effectiveness of the effort. Something is gained by steadying the head. The mother knows what she is about when she holds the head of her coughing child.

COUGHS NOT NECESSARY.

M. I. S. writes: Are coughs always necessary? Do not many coughs proceed from habit rather than necessity? Is the encouraged inclination injurious to throat or lungs?

Your answers will prove beneficial, I am sure, to both coughers and nervous listeners.

REPLY.

Ninety-five per cent of coughs are unnecessary. Some are harmful—more than 10 per cent. Coughing does not remove sputum from the lower stretches of the tubes. Silent coughing, or coughing with the vocal cords relaxed, is more effective than hard coughing. Most coughing is the result of yielding to local irritation, and has no special relation to clearing the tubes. The harm is the result of spreading infection to other parts of the lungs and tubes and to other people.

What Today Means to You

JANUARY 16

"CAPRICORN."

IF January 16 is your birthday, the most propitious hours for you today are from 10:45 a. m. to 11:45 a. m., from noon to 1:15 p. m., from 4:45 p. m. to 5:45 p. m., and from 6:15 p. m. to 7:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 2:15 p. m. to 3:15 p. m. and from 8:45 p. m. to 10:45 p. m.

Patience is the virtue that is principally advised by today's planetary aspects. Persevere in whatever you are attempting, no matter how dark the prospects of success may be, for the aspects foretell success in whatever is given your full mental and physical strength!

The child born today will be inordinately fond of pets. It would be wise to gratify this penchant, as constant association with pets in childhood will do much to mould its character in that form which all parents desire. It will be the average child in scholastic and athletic pursuits.

You are always busy, and are never happy when you have nothing to do. Loafing is quite beyond your ken, and you have no use for sluggards. Your nervous energy drives you onward, and never lets you rest in absolute contentment. Many people are prone to call you fussy, and sometimes with reason, as you are never quiet. As constant application is bound to bring success, and as you do not seem to have the aptitude to idle, reasonable prosperity will come your way. You are shrewd in your estimate of men, and your intuition will tell you whom to trust. Intuition is a rare gift, especially when it is dependable, and to this gift much of your prosperity must be attributed. You should try and associate yourself in business with those like yourself. An executive apt to take life less seriously than yourself, will prove a constant source of irritation, and undermine all genuine and mutual respect, which is necessary for business to prosper.

Your marital relations will depend entirely on your mate. An indolent mate will irritate you and kill all affection and love. An industrious one will give you the greatest happiness in the world. Your life will be uneventful, but prosperous.

Successful people born on January 16:

Seymour J. Guy, artist.
James D. Smillie, engraver and painter.
Charles S. Smith, engineer.
William M. Gabb, paleontologist.
Charles D. Sigsbee, naval officer.
William Roscoe Thayer, poet and author.

Women Jurors Charge Being "Third-Degreed"

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Defense attorneys for Martin Leach, convicted real estate operator, said today a new trial would be asked on the ground that three women jurors had been "third-degreed" into voting Leach guilty. The attorneys said the women, Mrs. Mary Howard, Miss F. Darnell and Miss Mary Goller, told them: "We did our best to hold out for acquittal, but no one could stand any more than 97 hours of such third-degree methods."

Leach was convicted yesterday on fourteen counts of violating the corporate securities act and eleven counts of grand theft. The jury was out more than four days.

EARLY GAINS VANISH AS PRICE TIDE TURNS

Most Stocks Display Little Resistance in Late Wave of Selling.

MARKET WEAK AT CLOSE

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Jan. 15.—Following a strong opening and substantial early advances in active issues, sharp reactions struck the stock market today, wiping out early gains and leaving the list at the close with net losses extending to 17½ points. Standard issues and pool favorites suffered alike. Trading activity lessened markedly when the selling movement got well under way. The day's turnover was approximately 4,000,000 shares.

The volte face of the market emphasized the uncertainty of opinion over the credit situation and the lack of complete recovery of nerves from the upsetting rumors of a higher discount rate at the Federal Reserve Bank. The call rate renewed at 7 per cent and moved up to 9 per cent, after the banks had withdrawn some $25,000,000. Bankers expressed the opinion that the call rate would not go below 7 per cent again for some time, at least not until after the spring demand for credit shall have been satisfied. They said that at the month-ends Wall street must be prepared for 12 per cent call money.

The gold situation is still an argument against a change in the discount rate here. Canadian dollars today were easier and sterling was again down almost to the gold shipping point. It is possible that more of the metal has come in from Canada this week, since the discount is so large.

Seasonal Peak Accelerated.

One of the effects of the recent confusion in the bill market and Federal Reserve pressure upon bankers' acceptances has been the acceleration of the seasonal peak, which usually occurs in January and is sometimes much later. The American Acceptance Council shortly will announce its figures on outstanding bills for December 31 and while these, it is expected, will show a substantial gain over the $1,200,000,000 reported for November 30, the total of December 31 will be the peak for this season. Bill volume is now falling off and the expensive terms of acceptance credits are resulting in a drying up of the supply of bills at their source.

In the early stock trading today high priced issues were in extremely good demand and 27 new highs for a year or longer were established. Gains extending to as much as five points were thickly spread through the list before midday, but the tide turned abruptly following the announcement of the 9 per cent call rate and thence onward until the close practically the whole list tobogganed.

Few Shares Move Upward.

There appeared to be very little resistance to the selling movement in the list, but a handful of individual issues moved against the trend and quit with substantial net advances. These included Otis Elevator at a new peak price for all time, up 21¼ points; Borden, with a net advance of 4⅜; Air Reduction, 3⅝; American Radiator, 2⅜; American Telephone, 2; Bush Terminal, 2; Coty, 1¼; Keith preferred, 4; McIntyre, 2⅛; Louisville & Nashville, 1½; Shattuck, 1⅜; Texas Corporation, 1⅛; United Paper Board, 3⅜; Industrial Rayon, 7¼ and Vick Chemical, 4⅞.

The losers were headed by Wright, down 17½ net; Allied Chemical, 13; Byers, 6½; Curtiss, 5⅞; Rossia Insurance, 8; Radio, 4; National Biscuit, 5; Standard Milling, 4½; U. S. Steel, 3; Ludlum, 3¼; Youngstown Sheet, 3⅜; Houston Oil, 5½; General Motors, old and new, 3⅞ and 1½, respectively; Chrysler, 1¼; Packard, 3⅛; Nash, 1⅜; Studebaker, 2½; Hupp, 2⅞; Hudson, 1⅛; Stewart Warner, 3⅛; Westinghouse, 3⅜; Canadian Pacific, 4⅜; Union Pacific, 4; New Haven, 1⅜; Kansas City Southern, 2; Montgomery Ward, 2½; Sears Roebuck, 2⅜; Woolworth, 1⅛; Archer Daniel Midland, 3⅞; Abraham & Strauss, 4; American Can, 3¼; Good year, 3⅝; Goodrich, 1⅜; United States Rubber, 1⅜; Miller Rubber, 1⅞; American Metal, 2⅜; American Steel Foundry, 3½; American Tobacco, 2½; Anaconda, 2⅜; Calumet & Arizona, 3¼; Burns Bros. B, 4⅛; Columbia Graphophone, 3; Commercial Solvents, 4⅜; Johns-Manville, 2½; International Telephone, 2⅞; Gold Dust, 2¼; General Electric, 1⅞; International Nickel, 1¾; Loose Wiles, 2¼; Lambert, 3⅜; Simmons, 2⅜; Pere Marquette, 3; Park & Tilford, 3½; May Department Store, 2½; Timken, 2½; Case Threshing, 11, and Wesson Oil, 2½.

European Exchanges Firmer.

The market for European exchanges showed a distinctly firmer tone, chiefly because of the strength in sterling, which rose 1-16 to $4.85 1-16 for cables. Dutch went half a point higher in sympathy with the sterling rate and Sweden and Norway improved a like fraction.

French francs advanced a shade. German exchange rose 1½ points to 23.77½. Japanese yen moved up briskly to 45.43 for cables.

South American exchanges inclined higher, with the Uruguayan peson up 12 points. Canadian again was quoted at one-quarter discount.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR SAFETY
MILLIONS of dollars are invested every year in Shannon and Luchs, Inc. First Mortgage Real Estate Notes. These funds are intrusted to us by discriminating clients who insist that their money be invested in a non-fluctuating security which is amply secured and which yields a dependable income.
Shannon and Luchs First Mortgage Notes are secured by the better type of improved business and residential property in Washington—and these loans never exceed 60% of the carefully appraised value of the property. This extra margin of safety which is always maintained is one of the reasons why no investor in this preferred medium has ever lost a penny of either principal or interest.

BONDS FAIRLY FIRM AS MONEY FLURRIES

Rail Issues Sell Off in Sympathy With Stocks—Anaconda 6s Yield.

GERMAN LOANS SOFTEN

New York, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The bond market held fairly firm today in the face of an unexpected flurry in call money rates. Fears that a "bull" campaign in stocks can not be conducted successfully at the present high money rates are reported to have diverted considerable investment buying from the stock to the bond markets.

Paucity of new offerings in recent weeks has resulted in the clearing of dealers' shelves, and reduced the volume of high grade securities available. Total sales increased more than a million over yesterday to $11,372,000.

Rails were lower in sympathy with the stocks. Losses of a point or more were registered by Baltimore & Ohio 4s of 1959, C. & O. 4s of 1945 and Big Four general 4s. Erie & Pittsburgh 3½s slumped nearly 4 points. St. Paul adjustment 5s were off fractionally on fairly active selling. Florida East Coast Line 5s, Chicago & Northwestern General 4s, Big Four refunding 5s D, and Boston & Maine 5s worked higher, with Minneapolis & St. Louis refunding 4s gaining more than a point.

International Telephone convertible 4½s were again the feature of the utilities, closing fractionally lower after touching 111⅞ on heavy buying. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s declined 3 points from its record high figure. Other utilities were steady.

Anaconda Copper 6s, a speculative favorite in recent weeks, yielded fractionally. American Sugar Refining 6s were lower in light trading. Industrials to display strength included U. S. Rubber 5s, and Angelo Chilean Nitrate 7s. The oils were easy, with Barnsdall 6s with warrants and Sinclair Consolidated Collateral 6½s lower.

Trading in the foreign list reflected the coming reparations meeting, with some of the German issues fractionally lower. The general foreign list displayed a mixed tone. Pirelli of Italy 7s were in good demand.

U. S. Government obligations were easy.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Jan 15 (A.P.).—Yesterday's advances were followed by reactions in the cotton market today under realizing or liquidation by recent buyers, who appeared to be disappointed over the rather indifferent showing of Liverpool and the failure of the report on boll weevil hibernation to promote more buying. March contracts sold off from 20.41 to 20.18 and closed at 20.20. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 12 to 26 points.

The opening was unchanged to 7 points lower in response to disappointing cables from the bullish standpoint and a disposition to take profits on long cotton after the advance of yesterday. The initial offerings were readily absorbed by trade commission house buying and covering, which sent active months 4 to 8 points above yesterday's closing quotations. This bulge met increased offerings above the 20-cent level creased offerings above the 20-cent level for July contracts and after selling at 20.07 for that position, prices turned easier under realizing combined with some Southern and local selling. Buying meanwhile tapered off and while there were bulges from time to time prices worked gradually lower during the afternoon. Offerings increased after the publication of the Government report which showed more weevil in hibernation in some of the sections covered than reported last year, but fewer in others and on the whole, seemed rather a disappointment to recent buyers. The lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when January sold at 20.14 and July at 19.82, or about 12 to 19 points net lower on the old crop months. New crop positions were relatively easy with old October contracts selling off to 19.43, or 30 points net lower, while the new October declined to 19.32, or 20 points net lower. At the close there was a difference of 12 points between the old and new contracts, compared with a difference of 21 points at the close of the previous day. There were reiterated reports of a firm spot basis in the South, which were without much apparent effect on the market. Private cables said that continental, Japanese and Chinese buying had been supplied by realizing in Liverpool. Exports today, 16,868, making 5,232,271 so far this season. Port receipts, 34,869. United States port stocks 2,365,782.

Curb Review

New York, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—A violent advance of 160 points in Ford of Canada, all but 5 points of which was lost, and a brisk demand for Standard Oil of Indiana, which advanced nearly 9 points, to 99¾, the highest price in seven years, divided speculative interest in today's irregularly lower curb market. Prices showed a tendency to move upward in the early trading, but the advance in call money from 7 to 8 and thence to 9 per cent cast a damper on bullish enthusiasm and led to heavy selling for both accounts in the afternoon.

The sensational rise in Ford of Canada to a new high record, at 890, was based on wild rumors of a 100-for-1 stock split-up, large earnings last year and accumulation of stock by the Ford interests, but the stock broke to 710 on publication of an official statement that these stories were without foundation, closing at 735 for a net gain of 5 points. Ford Limited dropped back more than a point, and heaviness cropped out in Auburn and Stutz Motors.

Competitive buying of Standard Oil of Indiana stock by the Stewart and Rockefeller interests in their battle for control of the company was the generally accepted explanation for the rise in Standard Oil of Indiana, although the company also is reported to have set a new high record in earnings last year. Other oils were mixed, Imperial and a few minor issues pointing upward, while Gulf, Vacuum and Humble lost ground.

Public utilities also lacked a uniform trend. American Superpower issues were in brisk demand, the A stock soaring nearly 10 points to a new high record, at 88, while the B crossed 91 for the first time. Cities Service changed hands in large volume and Tampa Electric sold at the best price of the year, but Electric Bond & Share, Electric Investors and some of the other recent favorites fell back 1 to 3 points.

Most of the aviation issues drifted lower, although with the exception of Aviation Corporation of America, which fell back more than 3 points, most of the losses were held to fractions. Aluminum Co. of America, Firestone Tire, Libby Owens Sheet Glass, New Jersey Zinc, J. C. Penney and Tubize Artificial Silk, for which there is a rather thin market, dropped 5 to 23 points.

Trans Lux Pictures touched a new high, at 12, on a heavy turnover, but lost its gain and closed nearly a point lower. Thompson Products A ran up 8 points to a new top, at 69¾, and then fell back to 64.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Immense surplus supplies of wheat increasing further and United States wheat prices high above world parity did much today to press all grain values down. Heavy profit-taking sales were witnessed in wheat and corn alike, and there was talk that a reaction from recent sharp advances had become overdue.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ⅛c to 1c net lower, with corn at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c off; oats ⅛c to ⅛c down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 7c.

Relinquishment of holdings of future deliveries of wheat began early, and continued throughout the day. The downward swing of prices here received much of its impetus from the fact that the Liverpool wheat market today was lower than looked for and because export demand for wheat from North America apparently was inconsequential. Later, too, the selling side felt the effect of announcement that world's available stocks of wheat had been augmented 1,801,000 bushels in the last week, making the total 407,225,000 bushels, compared with 293,531,000 bushels a year ago.

Breaking-up of severe cold weather in domestic winter wheat territory had an additional bearish influence on wheat prices. Besides, a good deal of notice was taken that although Argentine news today about corn crop damage was the most unfavorable received so far this season, the corn market here was averaging lower after having bulged to nearly the best prices yet achieved. Under such circumstances, and with considerable spread trading in progress between wheat and corn, the wheat market at no time gave evidence of any great power to rally.

Temporarily, corn values here proved readily responsive to news that extreme heat intensifying drought damage was making the Argentine corn belt suffer, and that Argentine corn supplies available for export in the next ten weeks amount to only 22,000,000 bushels. Furthermore, country offerings of corn to Chicago were smaller, and mostly held ½c to 1c above the market. Increased speculative buying, however, met with stiff resistance, and somewhat violent fluctuations ensued, with the day's battle ending in a virtual draw. There was some buying of corn here credited to Argentine account. Oats declined with other grain.

Provisions were a little easier, reflecting a decline in hog values.

The STORY OF THE GEMS

The Turquoise

FOUR thousand years ago the Egyptians mined these blue stones in the desert of Sinai and they were actually found in the Southwestern part of our country before the discovery of America. The name, however, originated in the old country when Europeans used to call them "Turkis" because the finest Persian stones came to them by way of Turkey.

Always connected with this stone was the superstition that the wearer was believed to be protected from serious injuries from falling. And likewise the turquoise was supposed to grow paler when the wearer was ill and to regain its lustre on his or her recovery.

Such idle superstitions often attach themselves to investors. Many have bought this or that security for no other reason, and naturally the results have not always sustained their occult advisors. No such reasons prompt thousands to invest in the First Mortgage notes issued by Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. Here you know what you are buying, are assured that your capital is safe and can look with confidence for the semi-annual interest checks on the day they are due. TECH AND EASTERN FIVES TRIUMPH AGAIN IN SERIES

Virginia Bows To Maryland Five, 30-22

Old Liners Gain Lead at Start and Are Never Headed.

Gaylor and Madigan Lead Attack; Swift Passing Feature.

Special to The Washington Post.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Jan. 15.—Maryland encountered little trouble in defeating Virginia's quint here tonight 30 to 22. The result never was in doubt after the first few minutes of play although the Cavaliers flashed a clever passing offensive late in the second half, only to have it smothered when getting within range of the basket.

The Old Liners shot to an early lead when Gaylor registered two baskets and were never out of the scoring lead, their edge mounting midway the first period to 7 points, while at half time the count stood 18 to 13.

In the second period, the defense of both teams stiffened and fifteen minutes elapsed before either could find the basket. Four minutes before the final whistle sounded, Virginia was but 4 points behind.

Maryland then staged a rally, in which Gaylor caged two baskets and Madigan one.

The swift passing attack of Maryland could not be broken consistently by Virginia, while the latter's long shots were too rushed to prove of avail.

The Old Liners registered ten field goals to Virginia's five and also made a better showing in tosses from the foul line.

Gaylor was the trick artist for Maryland. He shot and passed with uncanny accuracy, for a total of fourteen points. Madigan was close on his heels with eight points, which included three baskets.

Jack Scott Signs 1929 Contract With Giants

New York, Jan. 15 (U.P.).—The signed contract of Jack Scott, veteran pitcher, was received today by the New York Giants. Scott who was formerly with New York and Philadelphia in the National League, was brought here from Toledo in the American Association near the close of last season.

Cuban Boxer Is Dead After Knockout Blow

Montevideo, Uruguay, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Injured in a boxing bout Saturday night, Clemente Sanchez, Cuban heavyweight, died in a hospital here today. Sanchez was knocked out in the eighth round of his match against the Uruguayan, Mauro Galluzo. He failed to rise after being counted out. An examination by hospital physicians revealed concussion of the brain.

JACKIE FIELDS SIGNED.

Chicago, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Jackie Fields, Los Angeles contender for the welterweight championship, has been signed to meet Jack McCarthy, elusive Chicago puncher, in a ten-round match here January 28. Mique Malloy is promoting the match.

Coaches Kopf, McNamara Released by Georgetown U.

Head Baseball Tutor and Football Aid Not Reengaged.

Successors Unnamed; Proposed Game With Duke Unlikely.

Hugh Miller, Post Staff Photographer.
LARRY KOPF

LARRY KOPF, head baseball coach, and Tom McNamara, coach of the football back field, will not be reengaged by Georgetown University for the 1929 season, it was learned yesterday coincidental with the return to the city of Director of Athletics Lou Little, following a three weeks' vacation.

Kopf, former infield star of the Cincinnati Reds, was appointed baseball coach at Georgetown last season. The gloomy prospects of the Hilltop ball team, which is entirely bereft of varsity pitching talent and is weak in other positions, have resulted in the failure of Georgetown officials to reengage Kopf, Director Little said yesterday.

A baseball coach has not yet been selected, but Little intimated that Georgetown would not bid strongly for the services of a noted mentor because of the expense involved. It is believed probable that some member of the coaching staff now at the Hilltop will be placed in charge of the ball team.

McNamara's term at Georgetown also extended for only one season. A star with Hilltop teams ten years ago, McNamara since had coached football in the Midwest before signing with the Georgetown staff last fall following the failure of Mike Palm, Little's former aid, to return. He was in complete charge of the back field. Director Little would assign no reason for McNamara's release. He said that Herb Kopf, brother of Larry Kopf, who has been coaching the ends, doubtless would assist with the back field.

Helpless to Prevent Break With Fordham, Says Little.

Little declined to comment at length on the break in relations with Fordham University Teams. He reiterated that it was Georgetown's privilege to drop Fordham in football this season in favor of a game with Detroit University and if Fordham chose to retaliate by canceling the baseball and basket ball games scheduled for 1929 then he could not prevent it.

"Georgetown bears Fordham no antagonism," Little said, "but our football games with Fordham were little less than a rout each year. We did not care to schedule them again, and if Fordham chooses to take the initiative in a break in all relations, then we are helpless to prevent it. It was at Fordham's request that the baseball and basket ball games were canceled.

Georgetown-Penn State Game in American Gym.

On his arrival here Little immediately plunged into the details of Georgetown's winter sports activities. He announced that the Georgetown-Penn State basket ball game will be transferred from the Ryan Gymnasium to the American University court.

Almost the Naked Truth

By JAMES S. COLLINS

NEW York, Jan. 15.—On the night of the Sonnenberg-Lewis match, all the coonskin coats in New England seemed to be in the Boston Garden, with the occupants thereof rooting as one adolescent for Billygoat Gus, who was a football player of parts at Dartmouth and the University of Detroit when he wasn't tramping from one institution to another. It seemed to be a case of us college men standing together, if I know what I mean. The coonskin-coated contingent, many of which were taking the evening off from the drivers' seats of taxicabs or the right side of speakeasy bars, didn't seem to know that the bald stranger himself is a "colleger," having inflicted himself on the faculty of the University of Kentucky while playing an engagement as full back on the football team of that institution.

Sonnenberg is therefore the third ex-collegian to hold the wrestling title in the last couple of years. Wayne Munn, who as a wrestler had a great reputation as a former Nebraska football star, was champion of the whole world for a few days not so long ago, having defeated Lewis in much the same manner as Sonnenberg defeated him the other night.

That is to say, in a manner which led to widespread lifting of eyebrows and a chorus of "yeah's" in wrestling circles. Some ringside reports of the bout termed Sonnenberg's victory "a startling surprise," but nothing that happens in the professional mat game is likely to surprise, let alone startle, wrestling circles.

Curley Rallies to Side of "Ed" Lewis, of all Things.

Gus Sonnenberg's flying tackle tactics on the mat, which butted Strangler Lewis out of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, also butted him back into the forgiving lap of Jack Curley, Great Neck's best-known wrestling promoter, with whom he had been on the outs for ever so long. Five years ago Curley and Lewis were very thick, it being a toss-up which was the thicker of the two. The pair were as inseparable as the names of Klaw and Erlanger, but like Klaw and Erlanger, they fell out. The things they used to say about each other made Burke's impeachment of Warren Hastings sound like a lullaby by Irving Berlin.

But after Lewis "resigned," as the French say, when Billygoat Gus butted him into a state of exhaustion in the title bout in Boston recently, Curley loudly proclaimed that the Strangler had not been done right by, and that if the match had taken place under New York State Athletic Commission rules, he could not have lost his title except by legitimate falls. The Strangler was touched by this evidence of his old friend's concern and as soon as he got his wind back he expressed his appreciation.

South Counted On to Back Big Fight

Carey Maps Plans to Inject Interest Into Stribling Angle.

Railroads to Aid in Ticket Selling; Scale Is $5 to $25.

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor).

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (U.P.).—The enthusiasm of the South for the first potential heavyweight champion that region ever has had is counted upon by the Madison Square Garden Corporation, and its titular head, William F. Carey, to make a success of the proposed heavyweight elimination bout between Young Stribling, of Georgia, and Jack Sharkey, of Boston, on February 27 at Miami Beach, Fla.

Carey left for the South tonight, with plans patterned after those lines along which the late Tex Rickard conducted his matches. He will go into conference immediately with Southern railroads, and no efforts will be spared to interest Southerners in Stribling's chances of wearing the crown which Gene Tunney voluntarily surrendered last year.

All railroads carrying passengers to Florida will sell tickets for the fight at the same windows which sell transportation. The plan was tried by Rickard in connection with the second Dempsey-Tunney bout at Chicago, and worked successfully, so the new head of Madison Square Garden will use it on the occasion of the proposed Sharkey-Stribling bout.

Stribling Signs, Assuring Bout; Dempsey to Be the "Rickard."

The signing of Young Stribling at Miami Beach today seemed to make the fight next month a certainty, and Carey left with the assurance of the directors of the Garden that they would support the affair financially.

"Jack Dempsey will be the Tex Rickard of this bout," Carey said just before his departure, indicating that the former heavyweight champion will be the figurehead in the match, while more experienced business men here in New York will see that no dollars are wasted.

Already, however, Sharkey has been guaranteed $100,000, while Stribling is to received 20 per cent of the receipts and Mrs. Rickard, young widow of the late promoter, is to take 50 per cent of the profits. The margin of profit left the Madison Square Garden Corporation inevitably is small, if any, but the gentlemen who have succeeded Rickard in the management of the big sports arena here are interested also in saving their faces and are willing to take a nominal loss, if necessary, to avoid having it said that the promotion of superbouts died with Tex.

Carey said he would confer with Dempsey later this week and that plans would be laid for the erection of an arena seating at least 50,000 spectators; more if they seemed likely to appear.

Ticket Scale Is $5 to $25; Housing Problem Looms.

Prices for the bout, Carey intimated, will be from $5 to $25. The building of the arena at the dog racing track of the Miami Beach Kennel Club will be in charge of Lionel Levy, already en route for the Florida resort.

With a sense of the late promoter's methods of "ballyhoo," Carey already has precipitated an argument as to who shall referee the buot. Sharkey, the new head of the Garden said, has insisted that it be a man mutually agreeable to the contestants. If the third man in the ring is not named within a week before the bout, it will be up to Jack Dempsey to produce a satisfactory arbiter.

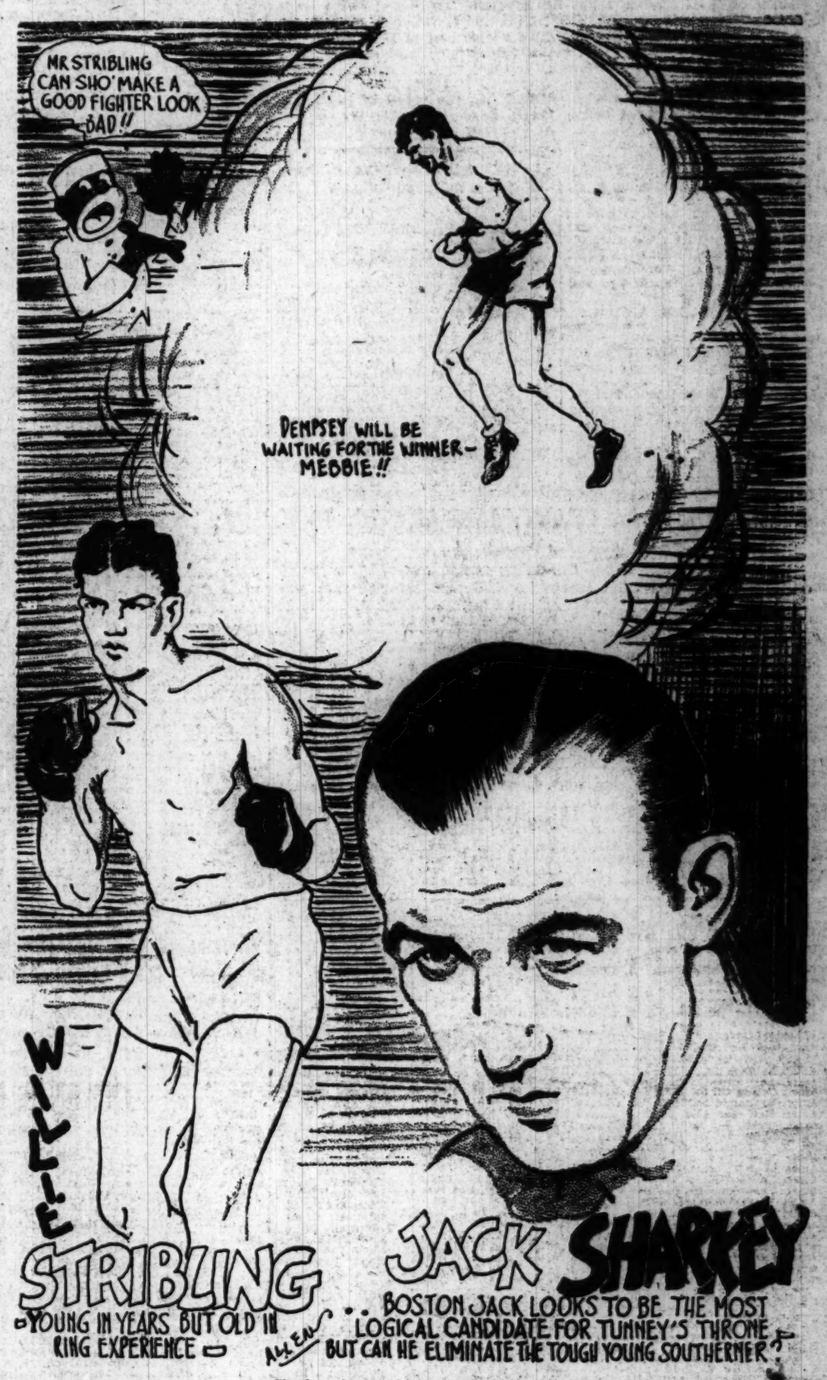
The question of housing the 25,000 or 30,000 spectators who must be drawn from distant places if the promoters' dreams of a half million dollar gate are to be fulfilled has not yet been taken up by those interested.

Carey believes that everyone south of the Mason-Dixon line will flock to Miami Beach to see Stribling in his main chance, and where they sleep, especially if the weather is mild, is a matter of little concern.

Villanova and Duke Sign for 3 Grid Games

Villanova, Pa., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Villanova College today announced the closing of an agreement with Duke University to play three football games, the first on October 26, 1929, at Villanova. The second game is to be played in 1930 at Villanova and the third at Durham, N. C., in 1931.

Garden Head Forecasts Dempsey's Return; "I Can't Tell Yet," Jack Replies at Miami



NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Every indication is that Jack Dempsey will return to the ring and fight this summer in the decisive bout of the heavyweight elimination series to select Gene Tunney's successor, William F. Carey, new ruling power in the Madison Square Garden Corporation, declared today.

Carey's belief, he admitted, was not based on any definite assurance from Dempsey, but the Garden official regards it as significant that the former champion has said nothing about retiring.

For the present Dempsey's main interest is in promotion of the Stribling-Sharkey fight, which may produce an ultimate opponent for the former title holder. Dempsey will not referee this bout, Carey said, but will act as arbiter in case of any disagreement over picking the third man in the ring.

Miama Beach, Fla., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Jack Dempsey declared tonight that he has not decided whether he will enter the ring in the elimination bout to pick the heavyweight champion to succeed Gene Tunney.

"I can't tell yet," the former champion and the director of the Sharkey-Stribling fight plans, said when shown a statement from William F. Carey, head of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, that Dempsey would return to the ring.

"I am beginning to feel pretty good down here, but I won't know what I will do until I work out," Dempsey said. "I am the only person who can tell whether my body is in trim for a fight, and until I have the opportunity to test it is impossible to tell what I can do."

Dempsey came here to work out, but he declared today that his recent activities have had to do with the February 27 fight as a motive and that his duties in preparing for the battle constituted his road work to date.

Chicago A. A. Disbands Field and Track Team

Chicago, Ill. Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The Chicago Athletic Association, for more than 30 years one of the country's leaders in competitive track and field athletics, has disbanded its team and will give up the sport, Sheldon Clark, chairman of the athletic committee, announced today. Swimming and ice hockey will be continued at present, according to Clark, but there will be no more track due to the lack of interest on the part of the members.

The passing of the association from track and field sports takes one of the pioneer club teams out of competition. For a period of fourteen years—1906 to 1921—the club put a track squad on the field that was practically unbeatable. During that period, it took fourteen outdoor and a like number of indoor Central A. A. U. championships and several national titles.

Included in its list of athletes were Avery Brundage, president of the A. A. U., who won the national all-around championship in 1914, 1916 and 1918. In 1917, Harry Goelitz, a teammate, won the honors. Laddie Meyers, the pole vaulter; Alva Martin, famous middle distance runner, and Joe Loomis competed under the colors of the C. A. A. "Doc" Darwent, coach of the track team, will be retained as director of athletics.

KENNEDYS WIN PAIR.

Kennedy Red Stars hung up two victories in defeating the Northerns, 40 to 12 and the Aces, 26 to 18. The Kennedys have the use of the Central gymnasium on Monday nights and would play strong senior or unlimited teams. Manager Otte can be reached at Georgia 407.

Miami Five to Play Eagles Here on Sunday

The Skinker Eagles, winners of the District of Columbia independent basket ball championship for the past several seasons, under the name of the Anacostia Eagles, will taste some intercity competition next Sunday, when they will be hosts to the Miami Basket Ball Club, of Miami, Fla., which will play at Congress Heights while on its annual Northern tour.

The Miami team represented Florida in last year's national A. A. U. tournament at Kansas City, and is said to possess a bewildering short-passing attack that makes for free scoring.

Hoppe Admits 18.2 Title Is Beyond His Reach Now

Chicago, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Willie Hoppe, dethroned as king of the balk line billiard players two years ago, has decided he never can regain the 18.2 title which he held for fifteen years.

Hoppe at the conclusion of his pocket billiard match with Ralph Greenleaf in New York last week told W. V. Thompson, secretary of the National Billiard Association, that he would not compete in the coming international balk line tournament, starting in New York February 4.

"I finished sixth two years ago and have no desire to fall any lower," said Hoppe. "I guess I have either lost some of my technic or the younger players are improving."

Business Bows To Leaders By Point

Beaten by Tech, 18-17, After Gallant Effort Most of Game.

Eastern Gains Second Place by Beating Western, 30-20.

By GARRETT WATERS.

A BUSINESS HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET rose to extreme heights yesterday afternoon and fell in the same motion before the strong Tech High Five, 18 to 17, in the feature game of the high school basket ball series at the Tech Gymnasium. An Eastern High team won easily over Western, 30 to 20, to take undisputed possession of second place in a battle overshadowed by the tenseness of Tech's triumph. Tech, by winning, gained a firmer grip on the lead in the series.

Seldom has local scholastic fandom witnessed a performance like that of the Business team yesterday. Going into the fray the acknowledged underdog, the Woodworth-coached lads outsmarted the Manual Trainer's throughout, only to lose out in the final minutes, as Tech found the power to come from behind. Business' greatest contribution to the contest was the breaking up of Tech's spectacular zone defense which forced the Manual Trainers to play out of position in order to get the ball.

Jakie Lewis and Lester Singman led in this "breaking up" party by consistently bringing the ball into the back court and bouncing it nonchalantly until the Tech "zone men" were enticed down the floor. Not only did Lewis, Singman and company break up the Tech zone defense, they broke away frequently enough to sally into the Manuel Trainer's territory and score consistently until the final minutes of play.

Tech Tossers Bewildered at Stenogs' Attack.

The unexpected manner in which the "attack" was worked against them, bewildered the Manual Trainers at first and kept them ill at ease for many moments until a time-out was called by Capt. Jakie Goldblatt, who used this medium so that his players could collect their thoughts. Business led at the end of the first half, 8 to 7, but by the end of the third quarter Tech was in the van, 13 to 12, a lead which was held to the end.

It was not until after a hurried conference that the Manual Trainer's set themselves to counteract the back court play of the Stenographers. Paul Brown started his team on the right track by breaking through the Stenographer's "attack" in the fourth quarter and caging a basket from a difficult side-court angle. From there until the finish of the contest the Tech team seemed to brace. Goldblatt inserted one of his now-famous last quarter timely baskets, following it up with two perfect foul shots through the ring. Bradley Edelbut, in the game for the first time of the series, also aided by untangling himself under the basket to flip a two-pointer through the net while it was Brown once more who sank a basket for the final margin.

Manual Trainers Rally at End to Eke Out Victory.

The Stenographer's, however, did not yield until the last minute and it was the inspired play of Singman, Lucas and Payne that enabled them to keep

Farrell Has Card of 69 Over Palm Beach Links

Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 15.—Playing for the first time over the Palm Beach Country Club course today, Johnny Farrell, United States open golf champion, broke 70, his score being 34, 35—69.

He made this round in a foursome with members of the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interests, who are holding their silver jubilee championship tournament here. Farrell made two birdies on the outgoing nine holes.

Smith, Von Elm Tie for Lead; Armour Qualifies on Coast

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Macdonald Smith, of Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., successful defender of the $10,000 Los Angeles open crown, and George Von Elm, blonde amateur of Detroit, deadlocked today for low honors in the 18 holes of qualifying play of the $4,000 Pasadena open golf tournament. The pair rounded the tricky municipal course in 69, two strokes under par.

They showed the way to a field of approximately 165 players as they flashed over this city's mountain-bound public links in parsmashing rounds. Smith continued the consistent play that characterized his Los Angeles victory, while Von Elm was turning in the best showing he has made during any of the recent Western tournaments.

Their cards:

Par out....	4	4	4	4	5	4	3	4	—36
Mac Smith..	4	4	4	4	3	4	3	4	—34
Von Elm....	5	4	3	4	5	4	3	—	—35

Play today in the 54-hole tournament saw the elimination of Leo Diegel, of the Mexican Agua Caliente Country Club and national professional champion. Scores of 77 or better qualified for the final 36-hole drive tomorrow, and Diegel saw himself just outside that divisional mark with a 78.

Tommy Armour, of Washington, D. C., who finished in second place in the Los Angeles open, and Tom Stevens, of Los Angeles, traversed Municipal Course in cards of 70, one stroke under par to tie for third place. Each stroked a 36—34.

Tied at even par, were Bob McDonald, Chicago, who turned in a card reading 34—37; John Black, of Oakland, Calif., with 34—37, and Ray Mangren, of Los Angeles, with 38—33.

Walter Hagen, British open champion, turned in a 35—38—73 to share that division with seven others, among them Abe Espinosa, of Chicago, 36—37; Tom Rakiets, Youngstown, Ohio, 40—33; Al Watrous, Detroit, 37—36, and Craig Wood, of New York, 38—35.

Seven filled the 74 bracket. Johnny Golden, of Paterson, N. J., 37—37; Dan Williams, Shackamaxon, N. J., 37—37; Phil Hessler, Tulsa, Okla., 38—36; Jules Blanton, Toledo, 39—35; Hutt Martin, Reno, Nev., 37—37, and Clark Morse, St. Louis, 37—37, were the out-of-towners.

Bill Mehlhorn of Fenimore, N. Y., with 40—37; Ben Richter, St. Louis, 39—38; Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., 39—38, and Johnny Rodgers, Denver, Colo., 41—36, qualified by the skin of their teeth. Horton Smith, sensational Joplin, Mo., youngster, who had 36—40; Henri Cuici, of Bridgeport, Conn., 38—38, and Tony Manero, of Elmsford, N. Y., 37—39, slipped under the wire by a single stroke.

MAN O' WAR'S 2-YEAR-OLD GET DISAPPOINT IN 1928

Great Stallion Seventh in Earnings

2-Year-Olds Earned $87,493 in 21 Victories Last Year.

Clyde Van Duzen, in 8 Triumphs, Was Best of Crop.

By GEORGE DALEY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Man o' War did not lose any prestige as a sire in 1928 in spite of the fact that he did not have so many 2-year-old winners out as High Time, who set up a record which may stand for years in being the sire of seventeen colts and fillies that won 45 races and $215,095.

Against this, ten of the 2-year-old get of Man o' War won 21 races, but only $87,493. His 3-year-olds, however, including Genie, Ironsides, Bateau and Valkyr, boosted his total and landed him second on the list of stallions in money earned, close up to $300,000.

Many times throughout last season such remarks were heard as "Man o' War is having a bad year" or "The great sire is slipping." Much the same was heard in 1927 when the great son of Fair Play—Mahuba did have his poorest season.

Showing of 2-Year-Olds Put Man o' War in 7th Place.

He was far down the list among the 2-year-old sires, with only seven winners of nine races—Bateau, two; War Whoop, two, and Ironsides, Canteen, Crow's Nest, Sister Ship and Genie one each. The earnings were $39,885.

Man o' War stood seventh in the list, counting all his get, which raced behind Fair Play, Broomstick, Whisk Broom II, Wrack, Light Brigade and Pennant. His total that year was $210,872, with Fair Play leading with $361,518.

The Man o' Wars have a way of improving with years. Scapa Flow, winner of the Futurity in 1926, really was the only one which earned much prominence as a 2-year-old. American Flag and Crusader hardly were noticed their first year out and yet both improved and were champions as 3-year-olds and the latter one of the truly great horses of the American turf.

His 2-year-old crop of 1927 was by long odds his poorest, and yet out of it came Genie, Ironsides, Bateau and Valkyr as 3-year-olds last season to win an aggregate of $120,000. History is quite likely to repeat itself this year.

Here are the ten 2-year-old sons and daughter of Man o' War which won one or more races last season: Clyde Van Duzen, 8, $55,868; Dreadnaught, 2, $22,425; Marine, 3, $2,800; War Time, 2, $1,800; Serenity, 1, $900; Constitution, 1, $900; Warrior Lass, 1, $700; Marine Compass, 1, $700; Shipmaster, 1, $700; Annapolis, 1, $700. These 21 victories netted a purse total of $87,493.

Clyde Van Duzen did much to keep Man o' War in the forefront by winning the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes and seven other races, for a grand total of $55,868. If he improves over winter, as so many of the get of this sire do, there is reason to suggest that he will be one of the leading 3-year-olds of 1929 and a rival of such horses as High Strung, Blue Larkspur, Jack High, Roguish Eye, Twink and Neddie.

He finished fourth to the first-named three among the money-winning 2-year-olds of 1928. He is a gelding and consequently not eligible for the Preakness Stakes, the Belmont Stakes and two or three other classics for horses of his age, but he will have his chance in the Kentucky Derby and other fixtures. His dam is Uncle's Lassie, by Uncle, that good horse of 20 years ago which is now standing at Beaumont Farm, near Lexington.

Dreadnaught Only Other Stake Winner Out of 1928 Crop.

Clyde Van Duzen is owned by H. P. Gardner, of Amsterdam, N. Y., and he was named after the man who trains him—the former jockey who hung up his tack three years ago and turned to the conditioning side. To the credit of Van Duzen, it should be recalled that he had the gelding in training from early in May until late in November and ready at all times to run his best.

Dreadnaught, a filly out of Crack o' Doom by Ultimus, the sire of High Time, was the only other 2-year-old stake winner among Man o' War's 1928 crop. She won the Matron Stakes at Belmont Park, in the colors of Samuel Ross, and at 80 to 1. She contributed $22,425 to his total.

Constitution, a full brother to the ill-fated Scapa Flow, which broke down in a race and literally died under saddle, started only once and won late in the fall. Some critics did not approve his action, but he is an even better looking colt than his famous brother and great things are expected of him this year. He is out of Florence Weber.

Marine, which won three races, is an honest fellow which may improve many pounds, while Annapolis and Shipmaster, particularly the last named, are likely to hold their own among the best. Few 2-year-olds worked faster than Shipmaster at Saratoga Springs last August. He was an unlucky fellow. Serenity was cut out for a high class filly but was afflicted with a throat trouble which may hamper her development.

Genie was the big winner for Man o' War. He earned $76,080 and won six races including the Dwyer Stakes, the Empire City Derby and the Walden Handicap. He also ran second to Vito in the Belmont Stakes, beating Victorian and Sun Beau among others. He trained off badly in midseason or would have found a place in the silver circle of $100,000 winners.

Ironsides was just a shade behind Genie, being third to him and Sun Beau in the Dwyer Stakes and second in the Empire City Derby, beaten only a neck. He did beat Vito when in receipt of 10 pounds just before the latter broke down in his final work for the Dwyer. His earnings were around $30,000.

3-Year-Old Crop for 1929 Shows Promise of Great Success.

Valkyr, the filly, also beat Vito in a race at Belmont Park leading up to the Belmont Stakes, and she also won a number of other good races. Her vicious temper at the barrier cost her the Alabama Stakes at Saratoga Springs.

Bateau generally was ranked as the best 3-year-old filly of 1928, although she went wrong and did not start after a poor race in the Dwyer. She won the Coaching Club American Oaks, which is to this country what the Oaks is to England, and also the Gazelle Stakes, and added about $30,000 to her sire's total.

The Man o' War 2-year-olds for the approaching season are a good-looking and promising lot, and if they stand up the famous sire may return to the place at the top he held in 1920, when Crusader was a 3-year-old. Incidentally, Crusader did little for the cause last season. As he was beaten in the Saratoga Handicap and then, not starting again until late fall in Maryland, he failed to win a race.

COLLYER'S COMMENTS on the SPORT of KINGS

By BERT E. COLLYER

MY HOBBY. Out of the old vat, boys. Information reaches me by airplane that they are shooting with both barrels.

Second race at the Fair Grounds is the spot. Yes, I know, it looks like a tuff spot on dope, but don't let that worry you. The same kind happens almost every day. GHENGHIS KHAN and LA PALOMA for what is left.

CAMPION is the clocker's special in the opening affair for 2-year-old maidens. That last effort was a trifle better than the dope would indicate. HATTIE SETH has speed, but stops badly. GOOD BY SUMMER seems best of the others.

DUSTY ANSWER is primed and cocked for a melon cutting in the third spasm. Belong to some clever people.

GENERAL GRANT has the speed of the crowd entered in the fourth and, at the weights, will be hard to catch. AGITATOR beat some fast ones last time out and looks like the runner-up.

PIGEON HOLE outclasses his opposition in the fifth and I feel confident he will handle the weight without much trouble.

TALL GRASS is not hard to take in the sixth. Looks like the race was made to order for this good distance performer. Look out for BROWN BETTINA in the seventh. Word comes to me the stable is down, hook, line and sinker. That's enuf for me.

Over at Havana the boys are mighty sweet on JOY BALL in the handicap feature, fifth race on the card.

SENADOR VASQUEZ BELLO also appears to be a stand-out in the fourth event.

RAMBLE is in a spot in the sixth, where she figures to beat her opposition a couple lengths. More anon.

OLD LINE CUB FIVE BEATS CENTRAL

Rally in Final Half Defeats Schoolboy Quintet, 40-26.

MARYLAND University's clever Freshman Basket Ball Team won its third contest in as many starts this season by unleashing a whirlwind offensive in the second half that buried the Central High School Team under a 40-26 score yesterday at College Park.

Central proved the second Washington high school quintet to fail before the prowess of the Old Line Yearlings, Western previously succumbing to the College Park brigade which, with Rooney and Ronkin as the outstanding performers, has engendered high hopes for a banner season.

The Freshmen won the game with a magnificent rally in the closing minutes of the game after an anxious first half in which the underrated Central Team staked itself to a sizable lead with the prospect of ultimate victory.

Central Rolls up 15-2 Lead in Opening Quarter.

With Capt. Ken Fisher and Ed De Lisio figuring as the leaders of a consistent attack the Central Team outscored the Freshmen in the first quarter, rolling up a 15-to-2 lead, but Coach Jack Faber changed the defensive tactics of the Freshmen in the second period with effective results.

Discarding the zone defense with which Tech baffled Central last Friday, the Freshmen adopted the man-for-man game with a pleasing result. Central was held scoreless during the second quarter, while the Freshmen scored 8 points to reduce the lead to 18 to 12 at the half.

Freshmen Reduce Margin, Place Game Out of Reach.

With their strongest line-up in the game at the start of the second half and Central's attack frustrated by the man-for-man play, the Freshmen quickly whittled away the Central lead. Rooney and Ronkin, aided by Chalmers and Wilson, scored consistently from the floor and the foul line and soon placed the game beyond recall. Central was held to 11 points during the last half while the Freshmen scored 28.

Weinstock, G. W. Coach, Secretly Wed Since 1927

The secret marriage in July, 1927, of Nathan Weinstock, assistant football coach of George Washington University, and Sadie Elizabeth Rosenstock, of Westminster, Md., was revealed yesterday. Weinstock met his wife while both were athletes and pursuing studies at Western Maryland College, of Westminster, from which they graduated last June.

Weinstock has served one season as coach at George Washington. In 1926 and 1927 he was a popular choice for a tackle position on All-Southern elevens, and in the latter season he played on the All-East team, which engaged the All-West.

Jock Out of Coffroth Handicap, Owner Says

For the information of the racing public, Mr. Edward B. McLean last night stated that his brown colt, Jock, by Colin out of Kathleen, was definitely not a starter in the Coffroth Handicap at Tia Juana.

Mr. McLean also said that his brown colt, Neddie, by Colin out of Black Flag, is critically ill with double pneumonia. Both of Mr. McLean's stars are quartered at the old Benning, D. C., race track.

Almost the Naked Truth

eight or nine porterhouse steaks one evening and the things they said to each other would make a lullaby by Mr. Berlin sound like a Banshee's last warning. When they came out of the reconciliation clinch, Mr. Lewis announced that he had agreed to wrestle Renato Gardini, of Italy, in the garden next Monday night under the auspices of his old pal, Mr. Curley. The twain seem to be firmer friends than ever now and will never, never quarrel again unless, perhaps, publicity considerations should make another falling out desirable.

They Were Wrong About Hoppe, the Perennial "Boy Wonder."

Willie Hoppe, the perennial "boy wonder" of billiards, who has been crouching over the green baize in championship tournaments since Fanny Ward was a child actress in Fort Dearborn, now Chicago, is one of the most unusual characters in competitive sport. In his long career as a cue artist Willie gave billiard fans many a thrill by his imperturbability under fire and his uncanny ability to come from behind and wrest victory from what often seemed like a certain defeat.

"That guy doesn't know when he's licked," the gallery gods used to say while Willie was ringing up a fifteen-year string of 18.2 balkline championships. They were wrong. Two years after he dropped his title to Jake Schaeffer, Hoppe now admits that he is a back number as far as championship competition is concerned and announces that he will not compete in the forthcoming international balkline tournament starting here February 4.

Used Cradle Seat for Cue and His Rattle for Ball.

"I finished sixth two years ago and have no desire to fall any lower," says the cue wizard. "I guess I have either lost some of my stuff or the younger players are improving."

Old as he is in experience, Hoppe is still in his early forties and is young enough in years to be the son of other topnotch players, such as Alfred De Oro, for instance. Tradition has it that Hoppe started playing when he was six months old, using a slat from his cradle for a cue and a rattle for a ball. By the time he was five he could put enough "english" on a billiard ball to make Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson, of Chicago, writhe in outraged patriotism. Old-timers along Broadway remember seeing Willie, standing on a chair because he was too small to reach the top of the table, give exhibitions that astonished veteran stars. He was still only a boy when he won his first title and took great pride in his skill. That pride will not now permit him to fill the role of an also-ran, although his earning power is perhaps as great as ever.

Central Mermen Meet Tome Institute Today

Central High School's swimming team is faced with its hardest test of the season to date, it anticipates, when it meets the Tome Institute mermen, of Port Deposit, Md., today at 3:30 p. m. at the Central pool.

Central has been beaten but once in the five meets engaged in this season, losing only to the strong alumni team on New Year's Day. Its most recent feat was a tie with the Baltimore Poly swimmers at Baltimore.

2 COACHES RELEASED BY GEORGETOWN U.

The Georgetwon-Western Maryland boxing match on January 26 will be staged at Ryan Gymnasium, unless late negotiations for the use of the Washington Auditorium are effected. Twelve hundred spectators can be seated at the Georgetown court.

The only open date on the Georgetown football schedule—October 12—remains unfilled, Little announced. Overtures for a game with Duke University were made, but Dukes' insistence that the game be played at Durham, N. C., doubtless will cause Georgetown to decline. Coach Little is anxious to schedule a home engagement for that date to supplement games here with Western Maryland, West Virginia, West Virginia Wesleyan and Mount St. Mary's.

New York, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Ralph Greenleaf won both blocks of his 1,500-point pocket billiard match with Charles Seaback today and now leads his rival by more than 150 points. The point score stands: Greenleaf, 503; Seaback, 345.

G. W. TO OPEN WITH A. U. TONIGHT

Colonials Aim to Stop Burgess, Methodist Scoring Ace.

GEORGE WASHINGTON Colonials will face one of their hardest tests of the season tonight, when they take the floor against the fast American University Methodists in the G. W. gym at 8:15 o'clock. Immediately preceding the main set-to, the G. W. Frosh will engage the A. U. Reserves in a preliminary battle which is slated to start at 7 o'clock.

As a result of the stiff opposition and general inexperience of the team, the Buff and Blue five will enter the fray as slight "under-dogs." To date the Crummen have yet to see action in a game, while the fast-flying Eagles have taken three out of their first four games.

Also, the fact that two new players will appear in the G. W. line-up may have something to do with the final result. Bill Snow, center, and Morvin Fine, forward, are the two new rookies who will be making their debut before Colonial fans.

Bowen May Be Started by Colonials' Coach.

However, Coach Crum is not altogether certain of starting the last named, as Paul Bowen, regular of the 1925 quint, has been coming along at a fast pace lately. With this exception, Crum has picked the team which will open the season against the Methodists.

"Reds" Allshouse, forward; Bobby Gray and Bud Barrow, guards, and Bill Snow, center, comprise the quartet which has been picked to start tonight's encounter.

Facing them will be an all-star aggregation of American stars, with Forrest Burgess and Leor Shloss, forwards; Bruce Kessler and Capt. Jack Le Favre, guards, and Dave Lichliter, center. All of these have seen extensive experience before and have acquitted themselves in a great style so far this season.

It will be up to the George Washington Team to try and stop Burgess, high-scoring forward of the Eagles. Should the Colonial guards effectively curb this young man's ability, their chance for victory would be much brighter. Dave Lichliter, tap-off man, will likewise bear watching and Bill Snow should have his hands full with his opponent tonight.

Allshouse Has Shown Best Form in Scrimmages.

With three veterans in the line-up, however, Colonial fans should have nothing to be ashamed of over tonight's showing. Allshouse, Gray and Barrow have all proven their ability in bygone years, and should continue their good work tonight.

Allshouse, especially, has been dropping them in steadily in practice all year and should manage to cage quite a few tonight. Gray and Barrow also are capable of scoring quite a few points themselves and may get loose against the Methodists.

The Colonials are especially anxious to win tonight's encounter, knowing the confidence which such a feat would give them. Without a doubt the Eagles will provide one of the warmest games of the year for the Buff and Blue and should they be beaten the morale of the downtown team might rise considerably.

STANTONS BEAT GUNNERS.

Stantons defeated the Seaman Gunners, 30 to 20 last night in the Bolling Field Gymnasium. Mulhall led the Stantons in the scoring with 6 baskets for 12 points. The Stantons are booking games through Manager Jordan at Lincoln 6977-J.

HEAVY MICHIGAN PROGRAM.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Michigan athletes face 25 teams in dual meet competition between the beginning of 1929 and June commencement. The teams range west as far as Drake University, north to Minnesota, east to Princeton and south to Georgia.

With the Fair Athletes

LED by Miss Irwin, who scored 14 field goals for 28 points, the Capitol Athletic Club Sextet last night defeated the Strayer's Business College Team, 30 to 27, in the Wilson Normal Gym. The game was a thriller throughout and quite rough in spots due to the keen competition. Miss Esterson accounted for 24 of the Strayer's points.

The Capitols meet the Basketers at Fourteenth and Columbia road Monday night and all members are urged to be on hand ready to play.

TECH SCORES, 18-17, OVER BUSINESS

pace until the final whistle. Singman inserted a foul and Lucas a basket right under the net, while it was Payne who tossed a two-pointer just before the gun sounded to give the game its 18 to 17 figures.

The scoring of the first part of the game was fast and furious despite the fact that the Stenographers held up play on occasions trying to draw out of the Tech zone defense. MacCartee, Johns and Goldblatt counted for Tech in the first quarter with either foul tosses or baskets, while Lewis and Newman, especially Lewis, gave the Stenographers their 7 to 5 lead at the end of the first quarter.

A foul toss by Lewis and the same kind of tosses by Brown and Edelblut gave the Stenographers a slim 8 to 7 advantage at the half, while it was the work of Brown, MacCartee and Goldblatt, which enabled the Manual Trainers to come to even terms and later one point ahead during the third quarter. Newman and Singman passed back and forth to each other for baskets for Business. The third quarter ended 13 to 12 in favor of Tech.

The Western Five was far off form against Eastern. The Moore-coached lads were victims of the excellent playing of Cappelli and Wood, who ran away with the game single-handed. Cappelli made a strong bid for leading scoring honors by caging five baskets and three foul tosses for 13 points, while Wood got himself into the reckoning by tossing four baskets for 8 points. Only Freeman flashed what the Western Team should have shown, his play being the one redeeming feature for his team. Freeman caged two baskets and three foul shots for 7 points to play an excellent floor game.

Eastern jumped into the lead easily at the outset, led by Cappelli, Wood and McCullough, and collected a 5-to-0 advantage at the end of the first quarter. With Cappelli continuing in the spotlight, Eastern amassed a 12-to-4 lead by half-time, J. Thompson getting Western its first point of the contest by making good a foul toss. A basket by Eaton and another foul toss by Hatfield gave the Moore-coached lads their three points by this time.

Eastern Substitutes Given Chance as Game Wanes.

With the game slowing up somewhat, Western spurted momentarily in the third quarter and got as near as 18 to 14 only to fall back again in the final quarter. Freeman, Hunt and the Thompson brothers inserted baskets and fouls during the spurt but the playing of Cappelli kept them from keeping pace. With the game safely tucked away, Coach Sanborn gave many of his substitutes a chance to play, the most prominent being Joe Robey, regular center, who has been inactive for the past two weeks because of illness. Robey potted a neat shot for his part in the parade.

NAVY FIVE FACES TEST TODAY IN PENN AT ANNAPOLIS

Quakers Hold Edge in Long Rivalry

Sailors, With 4 Victories, Confident of Victory Today.

Meet Penn State on Saturday; Dennett Bolsters Team.

Special to The Washington Post.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 15.—The Navy basket ball players will have their first real baptism of fire tomorrow afternoon when they engage the University of Pennsylvania quintet in the first of two games arranged on a home-and-home basis. Another acid test will come on Saturday of this week, when Penn State will be met. Both games will be staged on the home floor, and local fans are keyed to more than the usual pitch of enthusiasm.

There is considerable rivalry between Navy and the two teams from the Keystone State in this sport, especially as regards the Quakers. The Middies have been meeting the Red and Blue in home-and-home battles for the last few years, and for years prior thereto Penn has been practically a regular on the Navy list. The Quakers have a slight edge in the two-game series, as the result of a double victory in 1927. Last year they split even, Penn losing a desperately contested game here, but reversed the order of things by a rather decisive margin after a lapse of two weeks, on their own court. Their second meeting this season will be at the Palestra, Philadelphia, next Wednesday.

Middies With Four Straight, Face Quakers Confidently.

Sporting a record of four straight victories since opening the season prior to the recent holidays, the Tars will not lack a measure of confidence when they take the Armory floor tomorrow afternoon. And certain it is that Coach Johnny Wilson is whipping together a combination of much potential strength, and with good reserve material.

Wilson's policy is to build two teams of about equal strength, so that reinforcements may be sent in at any stage of a game without materially weakening the outfit either offensively or defensively. With the season scarcely more than under way, he has made very gratifying strides, due to the fact that he had a number of veterans to start with, losses by graduation last June being practically nil, and several good men came up to the Varsity squad from last year's Plebe group.

Return of Dennett Bolsters Team; Many Capable Reserves.

The Middies have a fast and clever pair of forwards in Capt. Clair Miller and Jimmy Farrin, forwards. The return of Dennett, star forward of the last two years has boosted stock considerably. He is getting back into form in spite of suffering from an old injury to the knee. Wickens, Freshour, Spring and Reinhart, all are capable reserves material. Joe Bauer and Ajax Miller are having a merry battle for the center berth, with the former doing the best work just now. Hagsberg and Bowstrom, who played together as guards on the Plebe team last season, are giving the field a good run, and Coach Wilson was deeply impressed with their work, so much so, that it looks as though Whitey Lloyd, Lincoln Campbell and Bernet, will remain with the understudies.

Football men dominate the make-up of the court group. Spring, Hagsberg, Bowstrom, Lloyd, Capt. Miller and Joe Bauer, all are varsity gridders. Of noteworthy interest is the fact that captains of three other athletic teams are basket-ballers. These are Lloyd, field and track; Ajax Miller, captain and first base of the baseball team, and Farrin, tennis.

DEMOLAY FIVE TRIUMPHS.

The DeMolay Basket Ball Team defeated the Junior Young Friends Five last night, 42-25, in a game featured by the shooting of B. Sinclair, Wood and Cohen. Tonight the DeMolays play the Tivoli Whirlwinds in the Langley Gym. Thursday the Frederick Chapter Team will be met at Eastern High. Saturday the Richmond Chapter will be played in Richmond. Busses leave the south end of the Treasury at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. The game starts at 5:30 p. m. in Richmond.

City Club Boxers List Bouts Monday Night

A program of matches with Fort Washington and unattached amateur boxers for the City Club team next Monday night at the City Club was announced last night by Coach Joe Bateman, who is seeking to wrest the city championship team laurels from the Jewish Community Center boxers in a later bout.

The City Club team has been showing rapid improvement during the past month, according to Bateman. A bout with Joe Lesser, featherweight star of the team, has not yet been obtained by Bateman, who expects to match Lesser with a prominent Philadelphia or Baltimore boxer. The program of bouts announced by Coach Bateman last night follows:

175 POUNDS—Leighton Minor (C. C.) vs. Jack Swartz (unattached).
160 POUNDS—Ken Bryan (C. C.) vs. Fred Bennett (Fort Wash.); Bill Stanley (C. C.) vs. Private Drumbroski (Fort Wash.).
140 POUNDS—Stewart Ball (C. C.) vs. Leo Coveleski (K. of C.).
135 POUNDS—Henry Slaughter (C. C.) vs. Dick Steel (unattached).
130 POUNDS—Al Satrib (C. C.) vs. Jack Trueland (Fort Wash.).
126 POUNDS—Joe Tamagni (C. C.) vs. Polish Boy (Fort Wash.).
112 POUNDS—Douglas Sweatman (C. C.) vs. Humphrey Delala (Fort Wash.).

Grand Stand Coaches Give Banquet January 26

The date of January 26 was definitely selected yesterday by the Grand Stand Coaches Association for their banquet in honor of actual coaches of Washington and vicinity. The Bannockburn Club, Glen Echo, Md., will be the scene, and festivities will commence at 7 p. m.

Details of plans were worked out yesterday and the list of invited guests was compiled, including:

Skinker Eagles Meet Old Dominion Tonight

Special to The Washington Post.

Alexandria, Va., Jan. 15.—The Old Dominion Boat Club Basket Ball Team will go to Washington tomorrow night to meet the Skinker Brothers Eagles, the game to be played in the Congress Heights Gymnasium. It is expected a large number of Alexandrians will accompany the team on the trip.

PHOENIX FIVE IN ACTION.

Tonight the Phoenix A. C. Basketers swing into action once again after their defeat at the hands of the Silver Spring Tossers last Sunday, by engaging the Quantico Marines in the Noel House gymnasium at 9 o'clock.

Although the Marines will line up with a strong combination, the Phoenix Basketers feel that on their showing in recent games, which has been of good order despite several losses, they will come through with a victory.

BOAT CLUB FIVE ACTIVE.

Three games this week are on the schedule of the Potomac Boat Club Basket Ball Team. Tonight the Boatmen meet the Sioux A. C. at Congress Heights at 7 o'clock; tomorrow they encounter the National Publishing Co. Five in a league game at 9 p. m., and on Saturday the St. Mary's Celtics will be met at Alexandria at 8 p. m. The team will hold a meeting tonight at the club at 10 o'clock.

MOHICANS TAKE SCALPS.

The Mohican Senior passers last night downed the Lincoln Road Team, 32 to 18. For games with the winners, call Manager Fred Lawless at Potomac 181.

Gonzaga, St. John's Fives Meet in Prep League Opener

THE opening of the newly organized District Prep School League headlines the basket ball program for local scholastic teams today with the Gonzaga and St. John fives engaging in the Boys' Club gymnasium at 3:15 o'clock. A game between Eastern and George Mason of Alexandria at Eastern and a swimming meet between the Central and Tome Institute natators at Central, include the other scholastic attractions for the day.

This prep school league encounter will mark the beginning of a movement to bring the prep school teams into closer contact with each other as well as with the high school, with the ultimate aim, the holding of a series in basket ball, baseball and football to decide a true local scholastic champion in the three sports.

Because the prep schools have not been closely affiliated as regards athletic relations in the past, Orrel Mitchell, well known in local sports circles, suggested and helped develop this league with the idea of bringing the teams together. Only three teams of the group, namely, Gonzaga, St. John's and Devitt, comprise the circuit at present, but the others are expected to join after the termination of the basket ball season.

Eligibility Rules More Strict Than for High Series.

Emerson failed to join for basket ball because it found the eligibility rules too strict, while Georgetown Prep and St. Albans, the other teams of the group, found it impossible to enter because their schedules could not be rearranged.

The eligibility rules governing the league are very strict, even more so than those which govern the high school series games. No player over 20 years of age will be allowed to play in this series, and no player who has transferred from one school to another will be allowed to play until six months has passed after his enrollment with his new school.

With the entire plan hinging on the success of the basket ball league, the Gonzaga and St. John's Teams have drilled earnestly to help put on a real court game. Both feel confident on the eve of the clash, with neither's record in the past overshadowing the other's. The St. John's Five has played in the most games to date, but despite this the Gonzaga Basketers feel that their earnest practice will stand them in good stead.

Coach Sullivan Undecided as to St. John's Line-up.

Coach De Leo, subbing for Ken Simondinger, who is ill in Philadelphia with the flu, plans to start Danny Pyne and Buddy Bussink at the forward positions for Gonzaga, with Al Farrell at center and Holbrook and Jake Farrell, guards.

Coach Sullivan is still undecided as to who he will line up for St. John's, but will pick from Morris, Quigley, Cooper and Galligher, forwards; Slagle and Kilcourse, centers, and Hudson, Lucas, Atchison, Batch and Lally, guards.

FIFTH EXTRA PERIOD IS DECISIVE

Woodward Wins Over Devitt, 22-20; Nash Hero of Game.

FIVE extra periods were necessary before the Woodward School tossers could pack away the verdict in a Junior Prep School League game with the Devitt five on the latter's court yesterday afternoon. The visitors finally won, 22 to 20, in one of the hardest fought and at the same time one of the cleanest played games in local scholastic history. Nash contributed the deciding basket for Woodward.

Devitt got off to a good start and led, 14 to 8, at the half, but then was stopped almost dead, while the Woodward dribblers pulled up to a tie at 16-all as the regulation game ended. A three-minute period was decided upon and it ended at 18-18.

There was no scoring in the next two extra sessions, one of 2 minutes and another of 3, and the two teams each scored from scrimmage in a 5-minute session. Another of 3 minutes then was played, and it was in this one that Nash's basket proved decisive.

Craig, of the winners, was high scorer, ringing up 10 points, while Willis and Trenis, of Devitt, ranked next, with 8 each. Both teams displayed a fair passing game.

COACH PICKS G. U. RELAY TEAM

O'Shea, Cosh, Hoctor, Kjellstrom to Run at Brooklyn.

THE one-mile relay team which will represent Georgetown University Saturday night at the Brooklyn College games at Brooklyn in the team's 1929 debut was picked by Coach John D. O'Reilly after a series of mediocre time trials at the Hilltop yesterday.

On the team will be Capt. Eddie O'Shea, Eric Kjellstrom, Erwin Cosh and Eddie Hoctor. The trials failed to please Coach O'Reilly, who had anticipated a better showing from the ten quarter-milers who were bidding for places on the team. Except to announce that the effort of Kjellstrom was the outstanding trial, O'Reilly would not state the times made, although he declared that a matter of seconds separated the runners.

The relay team will race Saturday in a quadrangular event with Holy Cross, Boston College and New York University, all of which annually develop sterling quartets. Georgetown will be upholding one-mile honors it gained last year, when it finished second in the intercollegiates.

Two other members of the Hilltop track team will compete in the meet. Wildermuth, sensational dash man, will participate in the sprint series, and Kennedy, middle distance star, will enter the 1,000-yard special event.

Wildermuth will meet a notable field of sprinters, including Quinn and Daley, Holy Cross aces. That Percy Williams, famed Canadian sprinter and Olympic champion, will compete is considered doubtful. Williams has acquired a manager since his Olympic triumphs, and it was announced that he would not make his American debut until February, when he runs in the Millrose games, but Joe Riley, manager of the Brooklyn College games, entertains hopes that the Canadian can be induced to start in his meet.

The Brooklyn games will be the occasion of Paavo Nurmi's American debut this season. Nurmi will compete in a 5,000-yard special event against a picked field of half a dozen American stars.

BOYS CLUB LEAGUE.

The Tris Speakers won the first half championship of the 115-pound class in the Boys Club League last night by defeating the Arcadians, 17 to 16 in a game which was in doubt up to the final whistle. Batch's basket from a difficult angle, proved the deciding 2 points.

In two other games Fort Myers defeated the Optimists, 21 to 18, and the Frenchys nosed out the Meridians, 27 to 25.

ARROWS POSTPONE.

The Jewish Community Center Arrows have postponed their game with the Senator Whirlwind Basket Ball Team scheduled for today, owing to a confusion in the Arrows' schedule for the week.

Levinsky Suffers Third Knockout of Career

Hagerstown, Md., Jan. 15 (U.P.). Battling Levinsky, 186, of Philadelphia, former light-heavyweight champion, was knocked out in less than two minutes of his bout tonight with Herman Weiner, 189, of Baltimore.

In that brief time, Weiner hammered the former champion unmercifully, sent him to the floor three times and on one occasion knocked him completely out of the ring, Levinsky landing among the spectators.

It had been claimed for Levinsky that he had been knocked out only twice in his long career. Jack Dempsey and George Godfrey turned the trick.

SPORTS BODY AIM OF U. S. WORKERS

City-Wide Association to Sponsor Athletics Planned Tomorow.

A CITY-WIDE organization of athletics among the army of Government employes of the Capital, embracing all of the departments and bureaus, is the aim of a rally to be held tomorrow night by department representatives at the Arcadia under the auspices of the Potomac Park Athletic Association, which boasts a membership of 2,000 Federal workers

The Potomac Park A. A. for the past three years has sponsored athletics among a small group of Government departments in the Monument Grounds section of the city and is preparing to extend its activities to include every Government employe under the supervision of department heads and other high Government officials in an organization to be known as the Federal Athletic Association.

L. G. Schmidt, of the War Department, is a prime mover in the plan, and tomorrow will outline to the representatives of the departments and bureaus a proposal to place in the field teams and individuals in many branches of sports under the banner of a Federal A. A. Plans provide for competition for both men and women.

Committee chairmen will be appointed, and it is hoped that each branch of sport will be represented by an advocate.

During the baseball season the association aims to sponsor teams divided in leagues as follows:

Departmens League—War, Navy, Commerce, Treasury, Agriculture Department; Government—G. P. O., G. A. O., Veterans Bureau, Interstate Commerce Commission, United States Shipping Board; Federal, State, Justice, Labor, Interior, Postoffice Department; bureau, P. B. and P. P., Navy Yard, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Commissioners, Senate Office.

Hospital League—Walter Reed, Naval, Soldiers Home, St. Elizabeths Hospital, Mount Alto. (These teams to play on their respective grounds for the entertainment of the patients.)

Service League—Marine Barracks, Seamen Gunners, Bolling Field, Fort Myer and War College.

Similar competition in tennis, golf and track will be provided. Teams aligned in leagues as outlined above for baseball.

RED CROSS SEEKS GAMES.

Games with unlimited teams are sought by the American Red Cross Team at St. Elizabeths Hospital. The Red Cross Team has the use of the spacious hospital gymnasium on Wednesday and Saturday nights and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons. Teams interested are asked to communicate with Manager W. L. Leitch by telephone at Lincoln 6246.

BEN FRANKLIN FIVE DOWNS DEVITT

Accountants, Led by Proctor, Win Handily, 36 to 14.

WITH Charlie Proctor leading the way, the Benjamin Franklin Five scored decisively over the Devitt Prep Quintet last night, 36 to 14, in the Langley Junior High School gymnasium. Proctor was in excellent scoring form, being everywhere at the right time to register five baskets and a foul toss for 11 points.

The Accountants, with the exception of the first quarter, when they were played to even terms by Devitt, were always in the van, collecting a 20-to-5 lead by half time. Devitt found the going too fast to keep pace after the first quarter.

Aiding Proctor in totaling points for Benjamin Franklin was John Sherman, former St. Johns star, who counted four baskets and a foul toss for 9 points.

Where the Devitt Team was checked the most was at the center position, where Abe Pollinger guarded Rufus Vincent closely throughout, in fact, holding the latter to only three points, one basket and a foul toss.

Louis Depro was the outstanding performer for the Devittmen, scoring two baskets and a like number of foul tosses for 6 points to lead for his team.

With this win under their belts, the Benjamin Franklin Tossers will engage Georgetown Prep on Friday at 3:30 o'clock in the Garrett Park Gymnasium.

Marine Five Defeats Ft. Washington, 37-29

Quantico, Va., Jan. 15.—The Fort Washington Basket Ball Team failed to keep pace with the Quantico Marines and lost by a 37-to-29 margin. Ostrander and Cover were the leading point-scorers for the Marines, while Marsh, of the Soldier Five, was the outstanding player of the game. He contributed nine field goals and a foul for 19 points.

COLUMBUS U. QUINTET WINS

The Columbus University Five won in a free-scoring encounter over the All-Collegiates, a team composed of Georgetown University players ineligible for varsity basket ball. The score was 57 to 50. The win marked the second in as many starts for the Columbus basketers. O'Connell, with 20 points, led all of the scorers.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, SC. D.
The Parent Counselor.

Old-Fashioned Mothers and Modern.

A HIGH school boy writes: "In a debate—Resolved, That the Modern Mother Is Superior to the Old-Fashioned Mother—I am on the negative side. Since I personally believe in the affirmative of this debate I find myself unable to build up a good negative case. Can you help me?"

DEBATER.

I agree with you, Debater, that the modern mother is superior. But since you haven't that side of the case you must dismiss all thought of the weakness in your position and see it rather in its full power and possibilities. You have many advantages. For one thing, your opponent secure in the thought that he has the stronger case is apt to be less enterprising and diligent in the pursuit of points. Secondly, you must look upon this battle with odds against you as a challenge that calls forth your best powers of concentration, industry and energy. And, win or lose, if you attack this problem vigorously you will get far more personal gain out of it than if you had an easy proposition. And, finally, there is a bit of strategy which I think you can fairly call into play in the management of your argument. That point is this: From the words of your debate you have a right, I think, to assume an old-fashioned mother guiding her children in today's modern background. If you take this position then you give yourself the full advantage of the same assistance from public schools, playgrounds, community enterprises that the modern mother has—all of which make for the development of the modern child—and in this respect be on a par with your opponent.

Thus the argument narrows down solely and simply to the merits and demerits of the modern mother as compared with your our-fashioned mother. And by maneuvering your argument this way you have a splendid chance of upsetting the fixed arguments of your opponent and you will force him to improvise a defense more or less extemporaneously. Thus the strategy of the situation reverts to you.

Now having narrowed your proposition down simply to the old-fashioned mother and the modern mother I suggest that you build you case with some of the following points in mind and add your own original ideas. You can argue that the splendid development accruing to the children of today is very, very largely due to the community institutions and agencies such as public school system, the parks, playgrounds, health inspection, play supervision, all agencies outside the province of the modern mother who has been credited with many of the results that should be attributed to these agencies.

Then you can attack the modern mother from the sound position that she has interests outside the home surely three to one as compared with the old-fashioned. The modern mother must therefore either not personally supervise much of the daily life of her children or at best she must delegate it to older children or mothers' helpers, or some other assistant. Delegated supervision can not be compared to that rendered by a mother herself. Now, the old-fashioned mother, with the aid of these modern outside agencies which develop the child tremendously, would far surpass the modern mother, partly by her constant presence in the home and her constant supervision of the child in forming that child's character strongly and stanchly on the splendid homely, old cardinal virtues of integrity, industry and thrift. Training in these cardinal virtues, in which the old-fashioned mother far surpassed the modern mother, and this training supplemented by the outside agencies, would result in a child far better trained and equipped to meet the demands of modern life.

I think the foregoing is the basis of a strong case for you when amplified by your own investigation and thought. You have got a strong case if you push it.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER.

Nature Teaches as Well.

My husband declines to give our 11-year-old son information on the facts of life which the boy should have. I undertook the job, and to impress the boy I informed myself about "the wages of sin" to frighten the boy.

I propose now to take him to a ward in a big hospital where the patients are suffering from social diseases. Wouldn't this be effective?

DETERMINED MOTHER.

Answer—I admire your courage, but you are approaching the matter wrongly. First, let me advise you strongly against the visit to the hospital. That's all wrong for your boy. If the father feels unequal to the task, ask your minister or family physician to talk with the boy. They will gauge the talk to the boy's age. You did not. I have a helpiet—"What and When to Tell the Child." It is yours upon request provided you inclose the always indispensable stamped, addressed envelope for my reply.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FATHER TIME.

Old Father Time is never stopped by any signal light,
He never has to heed a sign: "No turning, left or right."
He never meets a traffic jam. In all this world he's one
Through storm or shine or good or ill
Who just keeps traveling on.

Old Father Time is never stopped by omnibus or train
His hour hand upon the dot the goal ahead will gain.
He will not pause for flood or fire nor rest beneath the shade
Nor stand upon the curb to watch a circus street parade.

The sun comes up and then goes down and Father Time moves on There's nothing in this human play he stops to look upon.
So many minutes to the hour, so many hours a day
He measures out to men on earth let come or go what may.

But man must wait for trains and tides and stop for signal lights,
And even pause to catch his breath
while climbing mountain heights.
While Father Time goes trudging on with sure and measured beat
I think I'd rather be a man and sometimes stop to eat.

Dentist Says Tobacco and Candy Are Harmless, but Soft Diet Is Bad.

Chicago, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—Dr. John P. Buckley, of Hollywood, Calif., authority on pyorrhea, at the annual convention of the Chicago Dental Society today suggested a twentieth amendment, which would prohibit eating of certain foods but would permit smoking and eating candy. He said contrary to generally accepted opinion neither good quality tobacco nor candy would harm the teeth to any great extent.

Dr. Buckley said in smoking the nicotine goes into the air in the form of gas and not into the mouth of the smoker. It stains the teeth but does not harm them, he said. The remedy for the prevention of decay lies in frequent brushing and a diet composed of rough foods which stimulate the gums and supply the proper minerals and vitamins to the blood, he said.

Earnest E. Dalton, of Chicago, said Chicagoans wore $10,000,000 worth of gold in their mouths. The average American of 30, he said added about 50 cents worth of gold to his mouth annually. He also said $15,000,000 in gold teeth was buried annually in the United States.

Son Born to Rosamond Pinchot.

New York, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—A son has been born to Rosamond Pinchot, the actress, who in private life is Mrs. William Gaston. Amos R. E. Pinchot, her father, said mother and son were doing well. Mrs. Gaston, who is a niece of former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, achieved considerable renown by her portrayal of the role of the nun in "The Miracle." She was married last January 27.

TRUST COMPANIES' BOARDS REELECTED

Three New Directors Named by Munsey; American Security Adds One.

STOCKS' PRICES ADVANCE

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Election of three new directors to the board of the Munsey Trust Co., a single addition to the directorate of the American Security & Trust Co., and return to office of the former board of the Mount Vernon Savings Bank, were reported last night following annual shareholders' meetings at the three institutions.

Benjamin Warder Thoron, who is connected with the brokerage house of G. M.-P. Murphy & Co., was named to the board of directors of the American Security & Trust Co., bringing to 28 the total membership of the body. The others were reelected.

The three additions to the directorate of the Munsey Trust Co. were W. Wallace Chiswell, of the Peoples Life Insurance Co.; Maj. Gen. William E. Horton, of the quartermaster general's office, and Harry Keyser, assistant general counsel of the Washington Railway & Electric Co.

Both boards held organization meetings following their shareholders' sessions, in each instance returning to office their former officers.

American Security and Trust Board.

The board of the American Security & Trust Co., is now constituted as follows:

C. A. Aspinwall, Charles J. Bell, Harry K. Boss, George W. Brown, William M. Coates, William S. Corby, William W. Everett, William J. Flather, jr., M. G. Gibbs, Cary T. Grayson, James M. Green, Gilbert H. Grosvenor, J. P. Herrmann, James F. Hood, Joseph Leiter, G. Percy McGlue, Edward B. McLean, Howard Moran, Clarence F. Norment, Newbold Noyes, Howard S. Reeside, B. F. Saul, William E. Shannon, James F. Shea, Charles A. Spalding, Corcoran Thom, Benjamin W. Thoron and John F. Wilkins.

Officers were reelected as follows: Charles J. Bell, chairman of the board; Corcoran Thom, president; B. F. Saul and Howard Moran, vice presidents; Frederick P. H. Siddons, secretary; Charles E. Nineteen Members Returned.

Nineteen members of the board of directors of the Mount Vernon Savings Bank were returned to office at the annual shareholders meeting of that institution, according to a statement given out last night by President Claude H. Woodward. They were as follows:

James H. Baden, Albert J. Berres, E. C. Davison, R. Golden Donaldson, Charles F. Ford, Harry W. Hahn, Fred Hewitt, Robert T. Highfield, Hayden Johnson, William H. Johnston, Dr. E. F Koss, Frank W. Lee, William Muehleisen, H. Glenn Phelps, B. L. Rinehart, H. S. Walcott, Arthur O. Wharton, Mr. Woodward and R. C. Zantzinger.

New Financing Planned.

Initial financing of Tri-Continental Corporation, new $50,000,000 investment corporation of the management type, whose organization was announced last week by J. & W. Seligman & Co., will be launched in a few days by the latter company. It will consist of $25,000,000 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock, $100 par value, each share carrying a warrant to purchase one share of common stock and 1,000,000 shares of no par common stock.

J. & W. Seligman & Co. are offering the securities alone. The firm will be financially interested in the corporation through the purchase for its own account, for cash, of a substantial block of common stock at the selling group price, and will be represented on the corporation's board of not less than 11 directors by five partners of the firm.

The preferred stock warrants, exercisable at any time after December 31, 1929, and not later than December 31, 1948, will entitle holders to purchase 250,000 shares in the aggregate of common stock at the rate of one share of common stock for each share of preferred. The warrants will be exercisable at the price at which the initial offering of 1,000,000 shares of common is made.

Authorized common stock will be 3,000,000 shares, of which those not reserved for issue against the exercise of warrants will be available for future corporate purposes.

Insurance Shares Soar.

American Fire Insurance Co. soared 25 points, to 330, yesterday in a single share transaction on the Washington Stock Exchange. Gains were recorded in virtually all of the issues traded in. Riggs National Bank moved up 2 points, to 570, Washington Gas advanced fractionally to 108½, and Capital Traction reached 106¾. Chevy Chase Dairy preferred moved to 107 and National Mortgage & Investment preferred to 5¾.

Only one transaction was recorded in the bond division, $5,000 Washington Railway & Electric general 6s changing hands at 102¼.

Bank's Work Sets Record.

The volume of work accomplished by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond last year was the largest in the history of the bank, exceeding the 1927 volume in all major departments, according to a report of operations submitted to stockholders yesterday by Gov. George J. Seay.

According to the statement, the bank had resources aggregating $222,074,219.63 on December 31, 1928, as compared with $224,656,299.73 a year ago. Deposits, too, were somewhat lower, Gov. Seay reporting $86,582,500.47 as of December 31, against $75,194,646.33 at the same time last year. The bank reported Federal Reserve notes aggregating $86,338,950 in circulation, as compared with $77,404,985 on December 31, 1927. Reserves were placed at $90,098,238.31, which compares with $73,171,706.50 a year ago.

Net earnings of the bank for the year reached $1,455,256.04, as against $706,800.22 in 1927. Total gross earnings were $2,857,648.38, comparing with $2,086,302.69 last year. At the close of 1928 the surplus account balanced at $12,398,494.67, which compares with $12,323,667.02 last year.

Ford Canada Stock Performs Wildly

Soars $160 a Share, Then Tumbles $180; Baseless Rumors Are Blamed.

New York, Jan. 15 (A.P.).—The common stock of Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., buoyed up by an assortment of wild rumors, soared $160 a share on the New York curb market today, only to tumble $180 within a few minutes when the rumors were officially laid to rest.

The stock, which sold as low as $510 a share last year, closed yesterday at $730, opened this morning at $825, and quickly rose to $890, the highest price in its history. It then broke to $710, but rallied to $735 at the close, recording a net gain of $5 for the day.

Rumors have been circulated that the management planned a 100-for-1 stock split-up, that the Ford interests were seeking to buy up all the stock, and that, the company earned about $5,000,000 last year. W. R. Campbell, vice president of the company, issued a statement denying these rumors, and adding that the indicated earnings for 1928 show a deficit of about $4,000,000.

Georgetown Data Moved to Library

City's Ancient Records Made Available to Historians and Students.

Thirty-four volumes, comprising the official records of the government of the old City of Georgetown, have been turned over to the Library of Congress by the District Commissioners.

The old documents have been kept in the District files, nominally in the secretary's office, but actually stored away, for years, and the transfer was suggested recently by J. F. Jameson, chief of the division of manuscripts of the Library of Congress.

Dr. William Tindall, former secretary of the Board of Commissioners, and one of the oldest men in point of service in the District government, and E. B. Wilcox, of the library, supervised the transfer of the documents, which will be available at the library to historians and students.

The records include the Georgetown journal from 1751, journals of the common council, board of aldermen, joint meetings of the corporation, ordinances, tax lists, account books and a collection of newspaper clippings giving accounts of the meetings of the common council.

B. F. FERNALD RITES TODAY

Funeral of Retired Attorney Will Be Held This Afternoon.

Funeral services for Benjamin F. Fernald, 87 years old, who died Monday at his residence, 1514 Columbia road northwest, will be held this afternoon from the home. Interment will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Fernald, a native of Maine, has lived in Washington since 1908. He was a retired attorney, having practiced extensively in his home State.

He is survived by a daughter, Miss F. M. Fernald, translator of the Bureau of Education; two sons, Dr. C. J. Fernald, of 1514 Columbia road northwest, and Robert F. Fernald, a United States consul to Africa, and three grandsons.

Lady Eleanor Roxburgh Dies.

Former U.S. Senator Faulkner Is Buried

Masonic Honors Are Paid at Grave in Cemetery Near Family Homestead.

Special to The Washington Post.

Martinsburg, W. Va., Jan. 15.—Former United States Senator Charle James Faulkner, who died at his home here Sunday suddenly, was buried in the Faulkner family lot in Old Norbourne Cemetery, a stone's throw from Boydville, the Faulkner colonial homestead, this afternoon. The senator's body lay in the same room from which his ancestors had been carried to their graves. His pastor, the Rev. S. R. Diehl, and his former pastor, the Rev. Dr. F. M. Woods pastor emeritus of the local Presbyterian Church, conducted the home service, following which he received a Masonic grand master's graveside service by right of having been a past grand master of West Virginia Masons.

Among those attending the final rites were: Gov. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, a great-nephew of the senator, and his mother; D. J. F. Strother, Welch, W. Va., president of the West Virginia Bar Association; Judge J. M. Woods, Charleston, and a number of Washington friends and associates. A half-dozen negro servants, retainers at the Faulkner home, where Southern traditions have always been maintained, were in the procession to the grave.

CAPT. E. C. TOWNSEND RITES.

Civil War Veteran, 90, to Be Buried Tomorrow Afternoon.

Funeral services for Capt. Edward C. Townsend, 90 years old, Civil War veteran, of 1475 Columbia road northwest, who died from bronchitis at Walter Reed Hospital Monday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Tabler funeral home, 928 M street northwest. Interment will be private.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Harriet E. Townsend, and a daughter, Miss Ada Louise Townsend, both of Washington. For over 50 years he was a clerk in the War Department, retiring ten years ago.

Capt. Townsend was born in Ann Arbor, Mich. He attended Fairfield Seminary, in New York, which he left to join the Army of the Potomac. Later he was promoted to captain. In Washington he was well known as a dramatic reader and was a member of All Souls' Unitarian Church, Sixteenth and Harvard streets northwest.

Ohio Kentucky Gas Company

First Mortgage 6.50 Per Cent Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Series "A"

With Stock Purchase Warrants

Dated December 1st, 1928 — Due December 1st, 1943

Principal and semi-annual interest (June 1st and December 1st) payable at the office of the Trustee. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500. Registerable as to principal. Redeemable as a whole or in part on any interest date, upon thirty days' published notice, to and including June 1st, 1934, at 105 and accrued interest, the redemption premium decreasing one-half per cent during each year thereafter. Interest payable without deduction for that portion of any normal Federal Income Tax not in excess of two per cent. Refund of certain state taxes upon timely and proper application as provided in the Mortgage.

The Seaboard National Bank of the City of New York, Trustee.

The following information has been summarised by the Vice-President of the Company:

Business: The United Fuel Gas Company, an important subsidiary of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation, has contracted to purchase, for a period extending beyond the maturity of these bonds and as hereinafter stated, all gas produced from approximately 15,000 acres of the Ohio Kentucky Gas Company's properties located in Boyd and Greenup Counties, Ky., and Wayne County, W. Va. The earnings from this contract alone are estimated by Messrs. Brokaw, Dixon, Garner & McKee, Geologists and Engineers, New York City, to be more than sufficient to amortize this entire issue of bonds prior to maturity.

The Ohio Kentucky Gas Company, incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, owns producing gas wells in Boyd County, Ky., and controls through lease the gas and oil rights in approximately 45,000 acres of land in Boyd, Greenup and Lawrence Counties, Ky., Wayne County, W. Va., and Lawrence and Scioto Counties, Ohio. This financing will provide funds for the drilling of additional wells and for gathering lines and pipe lines connecting with the Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation System.

Markets and Production: The United Fuel Gas Company contract, terminating December 31st, 1943, provides in part that the United Fuel Gas Company will purchase all gas which can be produced and delivered from approximately 15,000 acres of land in Boyd and Greenup Counties, Ky., and Wayne County, W. Va., during the winter periods, without limitation as to amount, and will take during each summer period 50 per cent of the amount taken during the preceding winter period. It is estimated that by 1930 production from that portion of the acreage covered by the contract will be at the rate of 12,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day during the winter period.

Earnings from the sale of gas which may be produced from more than 28,000 additional acres of land controlled by the Ohio Kentucky Gas Company in Lawrence and Scioto Counties, Ohio, and Lawrence County, Ky., and not included under the United Fuel Gas Company contract, have not been included in the estimate given below.

Stock Purchase Warrants: Each $1,000 bond will carry a warrant entitling the holder thereof to purchase a unit of 10 shares of the Common Stock of the Company at $5 per share to and including December 1st, 1933; at $7.50 per share to and including December 1st, 1938; and at $10 per share to and including December 1st, 1943. Warrants may be exercised at any time on or before December 1st, 1943, unless all outstanding bonds of this issue shall have been previously called for redemption, in which case warrants may be exercised only on or before the interest payment date next succeeding the publication of the redemption notice. The warrants are non-detachable unless the bonds to which they appertain are redeemed prior to the redemption of all outstanding bonds. Each $500 bond will carry a warrant containing proportionate purchase privileges. The mortgage will provide that all cash received by the Company through the exercise of stock purchase warrants shall be applied to the retirement of these bonds.

Sinking Fund: The mortgage will provide for a fixed sinking fund payable monthly to the Trustee, beginning in December 1929, and for an additional annual sinking fund payable out of income, as provided in the mortgage, calculated to retire this entire issue prior to maturity.

Security: These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on the fixed physical properties and developed leases of the Company subject only to the outstanding contract for the sale of gas and the usual farm mortgages.

The properties of the Company, including working capital and funds deposited in escrow for extensions and developments, have been estimated by Messrs. Brokaw, Dixon, Garner & McKee to have a value of $2,648,954.

Management: The Ohio Kentucky Gas Company will be operated by the Union Management and Engineering Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of Union Utilities, Inc. The Union Management and Engineering Corporation directs the operation of the Texas Cities Gas Company, Council Bluffs Gas Company, Guthrie Gas Company, Memphis Natural Gas Company and Ohio Valley Gas Corporation, serving a population estimated to be in excess of 600,000.

Earnings: Messrs. Brokaw, Dixon, Garner & McKee have estimated that revenues for the year 1929, a period of extensive developments, will be more than sufficient to provide for interest charges on this issue together with all operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, and that average annual earnings for the first three years of full operation beginning January 1st, 1930, will be as follows:

Gross Revenue	$567,000
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes (not including Federal Income Tax)	98,934
Balance available for Interest, Depreciation, Depletion and Federal Income Tax	$468,066
Maximum Annual Interest Requirements of this Issue	$ 97,500

The above balance, $468,066, is over 4.8 times the maximum annual interest requirements of this issue.

Gas reserves, valuation, estimated earnings and other engineering features have been reported upon by Messrs. Brokaw, Dixon, Garner & McKee, Geologists and Engineers, New York City. Legal matters are under the supervision of Messrs. Chapman & Cutler, New York City; Messrs. Koontz, Hurlbutt and Revercomb, Charleston, West Virginia; and Messrs. An Unusual Opportunity Selection of the route for Lee Boulevard, the new 200-foot wide superhighway, has aroused keen public interest in real estate opportunities along this new thoroughfare. "Brandon Village" is the first tract of land near Lee Boulevard to be subdivided into home sites and business property.

This Ruby Lee Minar, Inc., development in Arlington County offers you a wonderful opportunity to make BIG MONEY in 1929.

Free Training Given

In our 1929 program we require twenty more capable and earnest men and women to assist in the sale of this unusual property. If you are inexperienced, you will be given free training and assistance in closing your sales. You have the opportunity of adding to your present income while learning. More than $200,000 worth of home sites already sold in the first section of Brandon Village. For full particulars, call at 1405 New York avenue and ask for sales manager.

INQUIRY INTO BURKE CHARGES CONCLUDED

IGNORANT OF CONSPIRACY

(Associated Press.)

The Senate Indian affairs committee yesterday completed its investigation of the charges of Commissioner Charles H. Burke, of the Indian Bureau, that Senator Pine (Republican), Oklahoma had conspired to destroy him and the Indian service.

The inquiry ended with the taking of testimony of two Tulsa, Okla., attorneys, Merrick A. Whipple and Thomas D. Lyons, in support of Burke's charges. Neither witness, however, said he could offer any direct evidence concerning the alleged conspiracy.

Whipple testified certain officials in the Department of Justice "believe fraud charges against Burke were justified" although a grand jury investigation of the commissioner's administration of the Jackson Barnett case was stopped by the department last summer. He recalled talks with Senator Pine, in which, he said, the senator declared "power influences" were supporting Burke. He said he never had discussed the fraud charges with the senator.

Lyons declared he had been asked to inform an Oklahoma district judge of the possibilities of a "political effect" in the ending of the grand jury proceedings, but he said he declined to do so.

Harold McGugan, attorney for Mrs. Barnett, who was involved with Burke in the fraud charges, said he would be "glad to testify," and waived immunity. He gave out a letter he had written to Senator Wheeler, of Montana, a Democratic member of the committee, in which he denied the charges.

Most people are honest. About 98 out of 100 would turn to The Post "Lost and Found" columns if they wanted to get in touch with the loser of an article. After you've met with this misfortune it's a mighty good idea to announce your loss in the classified columns of The Post.

You can't stop tears— because people are human!

The Doctor gives you encouragement and consolation---your friends and neighbors sympathize with you---but they can not wipe out the sorrow that a frightful accident sows in the hearts of those who love you. Additional expenses are incurred, "hard earned" savings are ofttimes insufficient for the daily necessities. You can't stop tears, because people are human; but you can allay expenses by preparing for such an emergency.

OUT-OF-TOWN POLICE TO BE ON DUTY HERE FOR INAUGURAL FETE

Commissioners Ask $25,000 to Pay Cost of Importing Additional Men.

$2,000 MORE NEEDED FOR OTHER PURPOSES

Invitations Are Sent to Governors of All States to Attend Ceremonies.

Seventy-five detectives from cities throughout the country, and 200 uniformed policemen from Baltimore or some other nearby city, will be brought to Washington to augment the District police force during the inauguration period, the District Commissioners told Senator Capper, chairman of the Senate District committee, yesterday in transmitting a measure providing $25,000 for the additional police and $2,000 more for establishing temporary first-aid stations, information booths, and public comfort stations.

The out-of-town detectives and police are to be brought here for the period from February 28 to March 10. The measure already has been approved by the inaugural commitee and the Budget Bureau and is expected to be adopted speedily by both House and Senate so that District police officials can make adequate plans.

The program outlined in the letter to Capper differs materiall from the plan followed in past inaugurations. Although detectives have been brought here from New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other cities to aid in trailing criminals attracted by the thousands of visitors for the inaugural, heretofore uniformed policemen have not been imported from other cities.

Residents Formerly On Duty.

Special policemen have been appointed in the past from among District residents. Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, believes, however, that whatever situation may arise can be handled better by uniformed men, trained and experienced in police work.

Railroad fare for the imported police will cost it is estimated, $4,600; salaries and accomodations, for the detectives will cost $13,500; salaries and accomodations, for the uniformed police, $2,000.

The Baltimore policemen will be here but a short time, officials estimating but two meals for them during their stay. They will return to Baltimore after the ceremonies and parade, but the detectives will remain longer.

Announcement was made yesterday that in keeping with a custom established four years ago, ten veterans of the Civil War will form a guard of honor for Hoover and Curtis in the inaugural parade. They will follow them in automobiles.

All Governors are Invited.

Invitations have been sent to all governors, requesting their attendance at the inauguration. The invitations were sent out by the subcommittee of which E. F. Colladay is chairman.

Further plans for the inauguration activities will be discussed tomorrow at a luncheon meeting of the 22 chairmen of subcommittees. A meeting of the committee on the inaugural ball, which will be staged for the benefit of charity, will meet this afternoon to fix ticket prices and arrange other details.

Civic Center Bill Offered in House

Simmons Measure Authorizes $2,400,000 to Purchase Site for Bulidings.

A bill authorizing $2,400,000 for the purchase of half the property needed for the new civic center—an area covered with municipal buildings—was introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Simmons (Republican), of Nebraska.

The amount suggested by Simmons would be paid on the same basis as other sums for the District are paid, which means that the District Government would pay about 77 per cent and the Federal Government about 23 per cent. The District Commissioners wanted it paid on a 50-50 basis.

The $2,400,000 would purchase about half the property needed for the proposed civic center, which would be the northern half of the territory east and west of Judiciary Square. After this was acquired, another bill would be introduced to acquire the other half.

Barr Trustee Petitions Court for Instructions

Harold C. Smith, trustee in bankruptcy for John L. Barr, local real estate operator, who filed a bankruptcy petition in Baltimore last November, yesterday applied to the District Supreme Court in an ancillary petition in bankruptcy for instructions concerning future operation of the Barr Building at 910 Seventeenth street northwest, which has three trusts on it totaling $1,040,000.

The building is the chief asset in the bankrupt's estate, Smith told the court through his attorney, H. Winship Wheatley. One of the trusts is for $700,000 and is due in February, 1933. A second is for $300,000 and is due in 19 months. The third is for $40,000. The trustee petitioned for an accounting by the Commercial National Co., which owns $228,920 of the notes secured by the second trust.

Dulin & Martin Store To Reopen After Blaze

Dulin & Martin Co.'s store, part of which was badly damaged by fire early Saturday morning, will be reopened within the next few weeks, according to announcement yesterday by Horace Dulin, president.

No effort will be made to restore the F street part of the store, which was totally destroyed, due to the fact that the new store at Connecticut avenue and L street northwest is rapidly nearing completion. Business will be carried on in the section of the store fronting on G street, which was only slightly damaged by the fire.

Marines in Nicaragua Is Georgetown Subject

Georgetown University Law School debaters will engage in their second prize debate at 8 o'clock this evening in the law building, the question being the withdrawal of Marines from Nicaragua.

Leon N. McGuire and J. Herbert Walsh, members of the Gould and Carroll Law clubs, respectively, will argue that the Marines be continued on the job, while Francis J. Sullivan and Mark Wilmer, of the White and Butler clubs, will urge withdrawal. The best speaker of the four will be eligible for the final prize contest in May.

Trip to Hollywood Attracts 46 Girls in Pickford Contest

A view of beautiful Avalon Harbor, Catalina Island, and inset, Miss Martha Ennis, one of the Capital City girls in The Washington Post-Mary Pickford Contest.

Entries Do Not Close Until January 29, But Young Women of Capital Are Busy Gathering Votes for Journey to Land of Movies.

Forty-six Washington girls are fighting it out now for the all-expenses-paid trip to Hollywood as the guest of The Washington Post and Mary Pickford.

Twelve young women between the ages of 18 and 25 years entered the contest yesterday, the third day for receiving entries, but the lists do not close until January 29.

The girls now competing are striving mightily to get the largest number of votes, as the fruits of victory will be of a variety anyone would covet. The number of votes cast to date is 1,331.

The contest does not entail any work other than going among one's friends and acquaintances and obtaining their signatures to copies of the following card, which may be obtained at the library on the fourth floor of The Post Building:

The Washington Post.

I nominate Miss Blank to go to Hollywood as the guest of The Washington Post and Mary Pickford, who is now making the all-talking picture, "Coquette."

Name .....

Address .....

Telephone No..... Apt. No.....

The cards must be signed by the name and address of the writer, and if any card or address is found to be obviously fictitious, you will be immediately disqualified for the contest.

The contestants must register at the library of The Washington Post in order to enter the contest.

The girl who has the greatest number of these cards signed in her behalf, will be the winner.

Important Conditions.

There are three important conditions of the contest. First, no cards that are mailed in will be considered, but must be brought to this office by the girl in person, in packets of not less than ten at a time. Second, not more than one letter of nomination must be written by the same person. Third, contestants' cards will be received in the library of The Washington Post, each week day between 11 and 1 o'clock and 3 and 6 o'clock only.

Announcement of the winner will be made on or before February 2 and the winning contestant will be chaperoned by a woman member of The Washington Post staff and will leave Washington February 8.

The contest is open to any young woman between the ages of 18 and 25 except employes of The Washington Post and members of their families.

The Washington Post shall be the sole judge of the contest.

In case of a tie the same prize will be given each of the successful contestants.

Grocer Arrested In Gambling Raid

Police Say Daniel Berman Confessed Taking Bets on Exchange Figures.

Daniel Berman, 25 years old, operator of a grocery store at 951 Q street northwest, was arrested yesterday morning by police and charged with running a gambling house. His bond was fixed at $1,000.

According to Capt. Guy Burlingame and Detective James F. Flaherty, of the Second Precinct, who made the arrest, Berman was operating a "number joint," a game involving bets on stock exchange figures.

The two policemen quoted Berman as saying he could not make any money running the grocery store and that therefore he operated the "number game" on the side.

Regalia for Wild West Is Reported as Stolen

A suitcase full of wild West paraphernalia was stolen from David H. Hale, of Buffalo, N. Y., at Great Falls, Va., Sunday, he reported to police yesterday.

The lost articles consisted of a beaded vest with a velvet back, a pair of beaded gauntlet gloves, money belt, riding belt with a star and the letter "B" on it, two pair of leather leggins, a leather shirt with an eagle on the front, and a pair of beaded moccasins.

Big Calvary Bible Class To Hold Dinner Tonight

A banquet commemorating the fortieth anniversary of the Vaughn Bible Class of Calvary Baptist Church will be held this evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Raleigh Hotel. The class was started with five members and now has an active membership of 600 men.

Speakers at the banquet will include A. R. Hall, of Indiana; Dr. W. S. Abernathy, pastor of the church, and Dr. H. J. Councilor, class teacher. W. W. Everett will be toastmaster.

Night Letter Cables Extended.

Effective at once, the Postal Telegraph Co. is extending its overnight cable letter service so that night letters from the District of Columbia will be accepted not only for certain points in Great Britain but for all offices in that country and Ireland. This service includes telegraph delivery.

Parking Warrant Breaks Her Sleep

Woman, Exonerated by Hitt, Says She Was Awakened to Deposit Collateral.

Aroused from her sleep Monday night and forced to go to the Second Precinct station and leave $5 collateral after being served with a warrant charging her with parking an automobile on a hack stand, Miss Anna H. Outten, a Shipping Board employe, living in the Government Hotels, had her money returned when she convinced Judge Isaac R. Hitt, in Police Court yesterday, that her car was not parked on the hack stand. She denounced the methods used in placing her under arrest.

Policeman J. H. Hunt, of the Second Precinct, assigned to the duty of "tagging" automobiles parked illegally in that precinct, issued the "ticket" on December 28. After waiting several weeks for some one to call and deposit collateral, Hunt obtained a warrant for Miss Outten.

The warrant was served by another policeman, who, Miss Outten declared, awakened her and forced her to accompany him to the station house.

Citizens Advocate Raise for Firemen

Petworth Association Asks Congress to Act; New Group Assembles.

Following an address by Capt. H. A. Chapman, president of the District of Columbia Firefighters Association, the Petworth Citizens Association last night adopted a resolution urging Congress to grant local firemen salaries in keeping with those paid in other cities of the size of Washington. The meeting was held in the Petworth School.

A resolution urging the opening of Randolph and Taylor streets between Georgia avenue and Thirteenth street northwest and one requesting additional lighting facilities on New Hampshire avenue, between Rock Creek Church road and Hamilton street, were adopted.

The New Columbia Heights Citizens Association, meeting last night at Wilson Normal School, 1210 Harvard street northwest, commended the proposed $3,000,000 appropriation for the Board of Education school building program. The association opposed erection of a $300,000 open-air market.

ALL WORKERS ASKED TO GIVE COMMUNITY CHEST A DAY'S WAGE

"Key" Men to Be Designated for Business Concerns Having 25 Employes.

JELLEFF IS CONFIDENT PLAN WILL SUCCEED

Declares Every One Able to Do So Should Assist in Charitable Works.

Plans for obtaining one day's pay or more for the 57 charities affiliated with the Community Chest, from every person employed in the mercantile and industrial establishments of Washington were worked out yesterday at a meeting of team captains of the Group Solicitation unit, headed by Frank R. Jelleff, in the City Club.

According to this plan, "key" men and assistant "key" men, where necessary, will be appointed at every establishment in Washington employing 25 or more persons. These "key" men, themselves employes, will solicit their fellow employes during the campaign, which runs from January 28 to February 6, inclusive. Employes making $4 a day or less will be asked to give one day's pay, while those who earn more will be asked to give more.

General Support Expected.

"Every individual in Washington, man, woman and child, who can afford to give and who has it in his heart to help the poor, sick, needy, aged, the forlorn or to aid in the upbuilding of young manhood and womanhood of the community, is expected to make a pledge to the Community Chest," Mr. Jelleff explained. "We are all benefited by these agencies which work for better citizenship and improved conditions of life. It is not necessary that the entire pledge be paid in cash. The donor can arrange to pay in four quarterly instalments or otherwise, as he feels best able to give. I feel sure Washington will answer this call 100 per cent."

Captains at the meeting were Herbert Newsom, M. E. Horton, S. Berry Thompson, Charles H. Frame, R. L. Schreiner, L. E. Rubel, William E. Russell, Roland Robbins, Sidney W. Strauss, Louis Levy, B. Agee Bowles, Joseph Fisher and Fred Pelzman.

"If the rest of the inhabitants give as much in proportion to their means as the Government employes, the campaign will be a success from the start," said E. W. Libby, chief clerk of the Department of Commerce, in accepting the chairmanship of the Governmental unit of the Community Chest. He will have charge of the organization for putting the chest appeal before all the Government workers.

"Key" Men Designated.

Mr. Jelleff announced the following "key" men among the business firms of Washington: C. H. Frame, American Railway Express; L. L. Pierce Riddle, American Security & Trust Co.; William E. Russell Capital Awning Co.; C. T. Clagett, Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.; Karl V. Eiker, Rufus H. Darby Printing Co.; John Dolph, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.; Harry J. Donoghue, Merchants Bank & Trust Co.; Lois Winer, Vogue Dry Cleaning Co.; Harry M. O'Brien, Washington Cadillac Co.; Miss Hortense Keables, Washington Gas Light Co., Norman E. Towson, Washington Loan & Trust Co.; Dewey Zirkin, H. Zirkin & Sons Co.; Leo H. Robinson, Parker-Bridget Co.; David Sanger, M. Philipsborn Co., Inc.; Uno F. Bowling, Fisk Tire Co.; Elmer Pusey, Judd & Detweiler, Inc.; George E. McCann, Peoples Drug Stores, Inc.; C. F. Denley, Potomac Electrotype Co.; E. G. Yonkers, Sanitary Grocery Co.; E. S. Rowzee, Edmonds Art Stone Co., Inc.; S. W. Zinc, Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.

Archbishop Indorses Plan.

"Speaking as the archbishop, the spiritual head of this archdiocese, I am wholeheartedly with the work of the Community Chest as a splendid work of organized charity, and I call upon the Catholics of this city to aid in every way possible, not alone by their work, but by their contributions as well," the Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore, declared last night at the annual banquet of the Home and Foreign Mission Society for the Propagation of the Faith, held in the Mayflower Hotel. In addition to addressing the 300 guests at the banquet, the archbishop spoke over the radio, reaching the entire radio audience of this section.

The City Fire Fighters Association yesterday became the first workmen's organization to contribute to the Community Chest fund. The association, meeting at the Typographical Union Hall, 423 G street northwest, pledged its moral support and appropriated $50 to the Chest fund. Members were also urged to contribute individually.

E. P. Colladay, Republican national committeeman, addressed the meeting on Community Chest activities. Acting Fire Chief Nicholson, seconded by Lieut. Luskey, proposed the donation.

EFFICIENCY BUREAU HITS AT CITY HEADS

Memorandum Says District Chiefs Named Child, Not General Welfare Leader.

PENAL LAUNDRIES TOPIC

Although professing to have accepted and adopted a recommendation of the United States Bureau of Efficiency dealing with the administration of the Board of Public Welfare, the board and the District Commissioners have not done so, the bureau complained in a memorandum given the Commissioners yesterday.

The bureau recommended, on June 13, 1927, appointment of an assistant director who should be business manager of the numerous and widespread activities under the Welfare Board's direction. Subsequently the Commissioners appointed an assistant director but made him chief of the child welfare section.

"This bureau withheld criticism of the decision of the Board of Public Welfare, although this section was contrary to our recommendation, because of an informal understanding that a business manager would be appointed as soon as funds for the payment of salary became available," the memorandum, made public by the Commissioners yesterday, said. This informal agreement later was violated when the money which was to have been used to pay a business manager was used to pay another executive, the Efficiency Bureau said.

The bureau sent the Commissioners two other reports dealing with a rearrangement of laundry facilities in the District penal institutions. On completion of the laundry at Gallinger Hospital, all laundry work now done at the jail should be done there and the jail machinery sent to the reformatory at Lorton, where the laundry work now is done in bathtubs, a condition, the bureau said, endangering the health of inmates, officials and employes. It recommended an increase in the working capital allowed the jail and proposed inclusion of a book bindery, where District and governmental binding work could be done by prisoners.

Rehearsal for Massed Choral Concert Slated

The preliminary rehearsal for the massed choral festival concert, to be presented during National Music Week in May, will be conducted tonight at Central High School by Frederick Alexander, of Ypsilanti, Mich., director of the concert. The immense chorus will include choirs and choruses from 38 churches and organizations, and will utilize more than 400 voices.

Plans for the concert are being developed by a committee of members of the Church Music Council and the District of Columbia Federation of Music Clubs. Official accompanists are Miss Charlotte Klein and Miss Helen M. Bellman.

Walter O. Woods Succeeds Tate as Federal Treasurer

Kansan Is Appointed When Incumbent Asks Name Be Withdrawn.

Walter O. Woods, of Kansas, was made Treasurer of the United States yesterday by President Coolidge and the Senate.

The President sent his name to the Senate in place of that of H. Theodore Tate, whose nomination was withdrawn, Treasury officials said Monday, as a result of congressional opposition. The Senate almost immediately confirmed the nomination of Woods.

Mr. Woods has been Register of the Treasury since October, 1924, and has been in Federal service for the last 30 years.

Mr. Tate's nomination as Treasurer originally was sent to the Senate last April. Opposition was registered at once to confirmation of the nomination, Representative Will Wood (Republican), Indiana, leading the fight against Tate.

The Washington Post Monday morning published an exclusive story saying that an investigation had been made of Mr. Tate's conduct of the office and that a hearing had resulted.

It developed Monday, that Mr. Tate already had requested Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to withdraw his nomination. The fact that the nomination was withdrawn was no reflection in any way, Undersecretary Ogden L. Mills said, on the integrity of Mr. Tate.

New York Mayor Aids Fight on Higher Fare

Points Out Supposedly Weak Spots in Hughes' Court Argument.

Charles Evans Hughes, former Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, in that body yesterday, in the presence of Mayor Walker, attacked the position of New York City in its opposition to the 7-cent fare proposal of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. He ridiculed the contention of Charles L. Craig, former comptroller, that what he and others had in mind was "great city purposes."

Mr. Craig, who began his argument for the City of New York late Monday, concluded soon after the court convened, and Mr. Hughes followed, but did not finish; he will have about 10 minutes today. William L. Ransom is scheduled to speak after Mr. Hughes.

Just before the court met yesterday Mayor Walker, accompanied by several friends, entered the room, and was cordially greeted by the New York attorneys here for the hearing. He shook hands with Mr. Craig and, later with Mr. Hughes. During the argument he sat near the city's counsel, but made no suggestions.

When the court adjourned yesterday afternoon, the mayor conferred with Mr. Craig and pointed out what he contended were some of the weak spots in Mr. Hughes' speech.

JURY INDICTS MAN ON MURDER CHARGE

Dice Game Shooting Brings Accusation of Slaying in First Degree.

21 ARE HELD FOR TRIALS

An indictment charging first-degree murder was returned by the grand jury yesterday against William Adams, colored, in connection with the fatal shooting of Willie Easton, also colored, September 29 last, during an argument following a craps game at 332 Armory place southwest.

Two cases of assault with a dangerous weapon were charged in an indictment returned against Louis Parker. He is alleged to have slashed his wife, Pauline Parker, in their home at 733 Tenth street southeast, and when a son, Milton J. Parker, sought to protect his mother, the father is charged with slashing the son's clothing with the knife.

Clara T. Payton, Lucinda L. Brown and Alice Lewis, all colored, are charged jointly with grand larceny. They are charged with taking the sum of $190 from a drawer in a chiffonier belonging to their employer, Mrs. Linnie M. Bourne, of 2027 Hillyer place northwest, August 14 last, during the latter's absence. The money, the indictment charges, was distributed among the three employes.

Charles W. Brooks is charged with larceny after trust. The indictment alleges Brooks was entrusted with a watch worth $85 to sell by Benjamin Greenberg, a jeweler, of 1718 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and that Brooks pawned the watch in Philadelphia.

Two alleged pickpockets, Harry Harris and Leo Rohen, were indicted on robbery charges. They are charged with having taken $235 from the pocket of S. T. Kimble, a teacher at Central High School, as he was purchasing tickets at the American League Baseball Park November 17 for the Georgetown-West Virginia football game. Miss Georgianna Z. Kimble, a daughter, who accompanied her father to the game, is said to have identified the two men.

A charge of housebreaking against James Harris and one of assault against Thomas McBride were ignored by the grand jury.

Jackson L. Marshall and Patsy Treiano, housebreaking and larceny; Richaro Jackson carnal knowledge; Jackson L. Marshall and Patsy Trelanio, housebreaking; Fred Curley, depredation of private property and housebreaking; Harry B. Gallatin, William H. Martin, William Anderson, alias J. H. Lewis and Edward Gravette, grand larceny, and William H. Hawkins, assault with a dangerous weapon.

Retired Broker Fined After Auto Hits Man

Harris S. Morris, a retired New York stock broker, living at the Wardman Park Hotel, yesterday was fined $50 by Traffic Judge Isaac R. Hitt on a charge of reckless driving, despite Morris' contentions that the pedestrian whom he struck was "jay walking."

Morris' automobile struck Willett Halstead January 3 on New York avenue near Fourteenth street northwest. Morris was arrested by Policeman J. O. Curtiss, of the Traffic Bureau.

Wife of Pugilist Says He Beat Her

Andy Bowen Demands Jury Trial on Accusation in Warrant.

The domestic difficulties of Harold "Andy" Bowen, local pugilist, and his wife, Mrs. Emma Bowen, reached the ears of Judge Gus A. Schuldt, in Police Court yesterday, when Mrs. Bowen complained that her husband had used some of his ring tactics on her January 7, in their home at 1426 K street southeast. Bowen pleaded not guilty to a warrant charging him with assault and demanded a jury trial.

The pugilist, through his attorney, J. Joseph Donohue, said he was amazed when served with the warrant Monday. Bowen was taken to the Fifth Precinct, where he deposited $10 collateral. When he returned home, he said he found his wife had thrown all his belonging out in the back yard.

Mrs. Bowen is the divorced wife of Tony Geraci, well known in local sporting circles.

ANTISALOON DINNER DRY LAW FESTIVAL

League Speakers Paint Value of Publicity in Glowing Colors at Assembly.

OCCASION IS ANNIVERSARY

The plan of the Antisaloon League to establish a policy of education for temperance was indorsed at a dinner given last night by the manufacture and business committee of the league at the Men's City Club, 1320 G street northwest. The purpose of the dinner was to commemorate the ninth anniversary of national prohibition.

The principal speaker was Robert P. Carson, of Denver, Colo. Carson, who described himself as a dry Democrat, declared that the Antisaloon League was responsible for the election of Herbert Hoover to the Presidency of the United States. In his address, entitled "The Man of the Hour," he said:

"The Republican party did not win the election; we won it. The Democratic party is not a defeated party; we defeated a wet candidate who wrote his own platform."

Warns Republican Party.

He sounded a warning to the Republican party against "flirting with the liquor crowd again."

The Rev. G. W. Morrow, of Detroit, Mich., toastmaster, outlined the educational plans of the Antisaloon League and pointed out the many facilities for publicity offered by modern life. The chief mission of the organization, he said, is in dealing with public opinion, rather than in law enforcement.

Several workers who will conduct a money-raising campaign in Washington were introduced. Those present were asked to give them every assistance in their work.

Election Called Voice of the People.

At the same time Clinton N. Howard, national chairman of the National United Committee to Dry Up Washington, addressed a meeting of Baptist Young People's Unions at the National Memorial Baptist Church. He alluded to the recent national election as the voice of the American people, sustaining their action in voting for prohibition nine years ago.

"The 'happy warrior' of the 'wets' was the worst defeated man in the history of American politics and led his party to the greatest political disaster in history," he said. "The only thing under heaven which saved the Republican party from the chastisement which it deserved was the dry plank in its platform and the high character of its candidate."

Man to Face New Trial in Assault

Jury Having Five Women Members Disagrees on Attack in October.

The jury of seven men and five young women who heard evidence for two days in the trial of Jesse Davis, a giant negro, charged with throwing ammonia in the face of 66-year-old Melvin H. Herriman and with beating him senseless with a pistol in the latter's home at 1201 Fern street northwest the night of October 6 last, was discharged last night by Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy, of the District Supreme Court after the jury had announced they were hopelessly deadlocked.

It was learned the jury stood seven to five for acquittal after the last ballot taken shortly before they were discharged at 8:15 o'clock.

Davis, 22 years old, who lives at 7400 Poplar street northwest, was remanded to jail in default of $10,000 bail to await a new trial. Assistant United States Attorney Walter M. Shea, who prosecuted the case, attempted to knit a strong case of circumstantial evidence around Davis, but his efforts were met with a strong alibi by the prisoner, who was represented by John H. Burnette.

2 WOMEN AND DOG RESCUED AT FIRE IN APARTMENT HOUSE

One, Ill in Bed, Is Carried Out by Firemen as Milkman Saves Other and Pet.

SECOND BLAZE IS LAID TO CHILD WITH MATCHES

Third, in Janitor's Quarters, Results in Manager Getting Her Hands Burned.

Two women and a pet dog were carried to safety yesterday afternoon from upper floors of a smoke-filled apartment house at 1133 Twenty-fourth street northwest, as flames originating in the basement threatened to envelop the structure. Engine companies 5 and 9 responded to the alarm and confined the damage, estimated at $1,000, to the basement and a first-floor wall.

Mrs. Rosa D. Putnam, who had been ill in bed with grip for a week, was carried from her apartment on the third floor by firemen, who pushed through the dense smoke. She was taken to the house of a neighbor.

On the fourth floor, Mrs. Mary Feeney was found in a highly nervous condition by Clifford Sutherland, a milkman, who lives at 1317 Thirty-fifth street northwest and who discovered the fire. Sutherland assisted her from the building, taking also her pet dog.

Milkman Warns Tenants.

Sutherland, who was passing, noticed smoke pouring from the top of the house and, without stopping to send an alarm, dashed in to warn occupants. All other persons in the building escaped without difficulty.

Fighting the flames from the top as well as the bottom of the building, firemen raised an 80-foot ladder against the front wall. A crowd of several hundred people was attracted by the fire.

Two other fires, which caused damage amounting to about $1,000 and resulted in minor burns to one woman, were fought last evening. One was in the janitor's quarters of an apartment at 713-15 Nineteenth street northwest and was of unknown origin. The other was in the dwelling of Mrs. Catherine Gray, on Chain Bridge road, west of Forty-sixth street northwest, and was caused by a small child playing with matches in a woodshed.

Woman Burned on Hands.

Mrs. K. P. Whitehorn, resident manager of the Nineteenth street apartment, suffered slight burns on the hands when she attempted to smother the flames which she discovered in the janitor's quarters. She was treated at home by a private physician. Damage to the apartment building was estimated at $300.

Five-year-old Helen Moten, a neighbor of Mrs. Gray, was said by the police to have been responsible for the Chain Bridge road fire. Sparks from the flaming shed set fire to the house, a two-story frame dwelling, and resulted in $500 damage.

Hung Jury Closes Trial in Rum Case

Accusations Against Man and Woman Will Be Aired in Court Again.

Judge John McMahon last night discharged the jury in the case of Miss Ruby Widenhouse, 23 years old, and William K. Hood, 36, charged with violation of the prohibition laws, after it had reported it was hopelessly disagreed. The jury had the case under consideration for seven hours.

Miss Widenhouse, who said she lives at 1329 Belmont street northwest, was arrested in a raid on an apartment at 2914 Eleventh street northwest, September 22 last, and was charged with sale and possession of alleged whisky. Hood was charged with illegal possession. He gave the Eleventh street address as his home.

Miss Widenhouse has been out on $1,500 bond and Hood on $500 bond. The case will come up for trial again probably by the first of February, court attaches said. Harry Whalen represented the defense, while Renah F. Camaller, assistant United States attorney, prosecuted.

Court Commits Husband On Woman's Complaint

Every time he ate food prepared for him by his wife great flames would shoot from his mouth at night, Philip Turner told Judge Gus A. Schuldt in Police Court yesterday, while testifying in his own behalf after being arrested on complaint of his wife for making threats.

When Turner, in denying the charges, insisted that his wife had "given me a little bit of everything" in his food, Judge Schuldt investigated. He learned Turner had been injured in a fall a few months ago and ordered the defendant sent to Gallinger Hospital for mental observation. Mrs. Gussie Turner, his wife, testified her husband had threatened to kill her.

Stay From Death Given Slayer in District Jail

George Herbert Thompson, colored, scheduled to die in the electric chair tomorrow at the District Jail, was granted a stay of execution until March 29 yesterday by Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy in the District Supreme Court. The stay was granted to permit the District of Columbia Court of Appeals time to pass upon a motion for a new trial asked by the slayer's counsel, Frank J. Kelly.

Thompson shot Elsie R. Brown, also colored, on October 31, 1927, at 1010 Kenyon street northwest after she had rejected his advances. He was convicted of a charge of first degree murder, prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney John W. Fihelly.

Peoples Drug Stores Entertains 400 Employes

Four hundred employes of Peoples Drug Stores, Inc., were guests at a banquet given last night by the company in the Mayflower Hotel. The banquet is an annual affair.

M. O. Gibbs, president of the company, presided, and thanked those present for their services and cooperation. Specialty entertainment features were presented and dancing followed the dinner.

Man Found Dead in Bed.

William Swain, 55 years old, of 119 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, was found dead in bed yesterday afternoon. Casualty-ambulance was called and Dr. Jimal, who pronounced him dead, said he had treated Swain for high blood pressure.
